BILL ON VOTING BY OVERSEAS MEN OUTLINED

Lucas Tells Plan on Balloting.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 4.—A comprehensive plan, developed by Sen. Scott W. Lucas [D., Ill.], to enable American soldiers and sailors in all parts of the world to vote in the Presidential, congressional, and state elections next year is scheduled for the consideration of congress immediately upon its return from the forthcoming summer recess.

Sen. Scott Lucas.

Under the Lucas plan not only the men and women in the army and navy within continental United States but the soldiers on the battle fronts overseas and the sailors on warships at sea will cast their ballots, which will be forwarded by commanding officers to the state election officials. The overseas voting will be on a designated "election day" in each unit, which may be two or three weeks before the November, 1944, election.

10 Million Votes Affected.

Unusual interest attaches to the vote of the military service next year for the reason that more than 10 million persons may be enrolled in the army and navy by election time and that many votes or even a fraction thereof might easily determine the choice of the President for the next four years and the complexion of congress.

The existing soldier vote law enacted by congress a year ago proved a failure in the 1942 congressional election. Comparatively few votes were cast under its provisions. Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson and Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox obstructed shipment of the ballots overseas and receded only when it was too late to get action. Sen. Lucas said today that the bill not only was passed too late but failed to give "a real opportunity" to vote while in addition "the officers of the army and navy were unsympathetic to the legislation and, therefore, failed to coöperate with the men under their command in carrying out the provisions of the act."

Absentee Ballot System.

The plan devised by Sen. Lucas, which he has introduced in a bill jointly with Sen. T. F. Green [D., R. I.], chairman of the senate committee on privileges and elections, adopts the machinery of the existing law for absentee balloting by soldiers and sailers in this country but with improvements of the process. Such persons obtain ballots on application to the secretary of state of their states and return the ballots when filled out. A new provision would extend to such persons the right to vote in primaries also.

"The secretaries of war and navy," explained Sen. Lucas, "are directed to have printed an appropriate number of official overseas war ballots on paper suitable for V-mail. The bill has a provision for a straight ticket voting by writing in the choice of the party. It also provides space to write in the name of the President and Vice President, as well as the senator, and representative of the district, or representative at large.

May Be Printed Abroad.

"These overseas ballots shall be sent by the secretaries of war and navy in ample time to assure balloting and the bill gives them the power to cause ballots to be printed in foreign countries in the event they deem it more expedient and less expensive from the standpoint of transportation, etc.

"The secretary of state is required to furnish secretaries of war and navy lists of the candidates for office in order that these ballots can be prepared. Within one week after the receipt of the ballots, the commanding officers of overseas units shall take the necessary steps to distribute the ballots upon a certain day to all those who desire to

TRIBUNE WRITER TELLS HOW U. S. MEN TOOK ISLE

BY ROBERT CROMIE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, July 2 [Delayed].—The successful occupation of Kiriwina and Woodlark Islands, which puts the allies 150 miles closer to Rabaul, was planned down to the smallest detail.

For example, take this fact. Price fixing was already established. The landing parties carried lists of government prices for commodities, all payments to be made in the natives' favorite medium of trade—a cheap, vile smelling, black, twist tobacco.

Here are some of the articles available and what the troops will be expected to pay:

One stick of tobacco buys any of the following: One fowl, one half dozen eggs, 10 pounds of fish, four crabs, two lobsters, 25 pounds of yams, 50 pounds of sweet potatoes, 40 pounds of bananas, two to four pineapples, 40 pawpaws, half a pound of tomatoes, and varying quantities of corn, beans, cabbages, oranges, lemons, pumpkins, coconuts, and taro.

Grass Skirts Two Sticks.

Other articles available and their approximate prices are: carved tables or bowls, five to 15 sticks of tobacco; carved limesticks, canes, canoes, pigs, figures, crocodiles, and stands, one to 10 sticks. Grass skirts will cost two or three sticks; wild pigs, one to three sticks; turtles, one or two sticks.

Natives will wash two pairs of trousers and two shirts for one stick of tobacco.

The Kiriwina natives are friendly and hospitable and many are skilled carvers. The native population is a whole tribe of approximately 8,500. Each family has its own garden. The natives are considered the best gardeners among the Papuans.

Views Woodlark Island.

Commander of the forces occupying Woodlark Island and the Trobriands is Lt. Gen. Walter Krueger of Cincinnati, O. The naval forces used to ferry troops to the islands and provide escort vessels were commanded by Vice Adm. Arthur S. Carpenter and Rear Adm. Daniel E. Barbey. Lt. Gen. George C. Kenney commanded the air forces.

I was aboard one of the accompanying destroyers which shepherded the landing craft into Woodlark. We left New Guinea in the middle of the morning protected by friendly lowering clouds and arrived at Woodlark less than 24 hours later. The landing craft began unloading before dawn.

We patroled the outer waters on the alert for submarines and enemy planes and watched the lights on the beach where the troops were hurrying ashore.

Friendly Plane Only Alarm.

Our only alarm was caused by a friendly Catalina patrol plane which kept out of range of our guns just in case there might be a mistake in identity.

Shortly after dawn the landing barges came back, riding higher in the water. They fell into line and were shepherded home once more.

Our destroyer crew was disappointed at the lack of enemy interference. They were eager to have more tiny Japanese flags painted on the bridge. They already boast a credit of six planes shot down in the Santa Cruz battle and two enemy vessels sunk in the Ellice Islands raid.

YANKS CAPTURE VILLAGE ON NEW ISLE; ROUT FOE

Bag 21 More Planes Over Rendova.

ALLIED HDQ. IN AUSTRALIA, July 5 [Monday]—(AP).—Allied forces, expanding their gains in the new Southwest Pacific offensive under the personal leadership of Gen. MacArthur have seized Vura village on Vangunu Island, killing 300 of the Japanese garrison and dispersing the remainder.

Announcement of this new conquest came shortly after headquarters here had disclosed that Gen. MacArthur himself had taken the field to direct operations. The general, who vowed when he left Corregidor in the Philippines that he some day would return, went to New Guinea last month, a headquarters statement said, to direct preparation of the great drive which in a few days resulted in occupation of Kiriwina and Woodlark Islands, capture of Viru harbor and a successful landing at Nassau bay just below Salamaua in New Guinea.

Planes Downed Total 155.

At Rendova Island in the central Solomons, which was occupied by allied troops last week, 21 Japanese planes were destroyed in air battles and by anti-aircraft fire, the noon communique added. This raised to 155 the number of enemy planes downed since the beginning of the new drive last Wednesday.

Eighteen enemy bombers, escorted by 20 fighters, were encountered at Rendova. They were dispersed and five bombers and four fighters were shot down without loss of a single allied plane. Anti-aircraft gunners then bagged 12 enemy bombers during a 30 minute attack by 16 escorted medium bombers.

"Our casualties in operations against this enemy base are light, totaling 33, including wounded and missing," the communique said.

Munda Bombed Again.

Air action yesterday included an attack by allied torpedo and dive bombers on the Japanese bivouac areas at Munda, site of a powerful Japanese air base on New Georgia. A single Liberator bomber on reconnaissance off New Guinea attacked a 1,500 ton enemy ship, and left it sinking. Three direct hits were scored with 500 pound bombs.

The attack on the enemy encampments in the Munda area was made with 1,000 and 2,000 pound bombs. Enemy outposts at Bairoko harbor also were hit. All our planes returned from these missions.

The ground situation at Nassau bay, on the northeast coast of New Guinea, was described as quiet.

Fifty Dead Counted.

"Since our landing [at Nassau bay] 50 enemy dead have been counted, representing only a fraction of the total Japanese casualties," the communique said. "Our losses have been moderate."

In the Salamaua sector, just north of Nassau bay, patrol clashes are continuing. A Japanese patrol of 20 men was dispersed near Bob-

Chicago Ensign Leads Landings

ALLIED HDQ. IN AUSTRALIA, July 4 (AP).—The first American landing boat disembarked its complement of heavily armed, picked combat troop on Kiriwina Island in 28 minutes, in a perfectly coördinated landing operation. Ensign John Kennedy of 4654 Barry avenue, Chicago, commanded the first boat to hit the beach.

There wasn't a shot fired or an enemy plane encountered as the boats, in the face of a howling wind and in rough seas, threaded their way thru the coral studded surf and completed one operation in the June 30 opening of the Southwest Pacific offensive. Lightning [P-38] fighter planes protected the landings.

At 3 p. m. the landing boats moved beyond the eastern tip of Kiriwina and headed for a landing point on the low beach.

From a destroyer, the landing boats could be seen wallowing in the surf and then moving right up on the sand. Figures moved on the beach and material began to pile up there.

Ensign Kennedy told how men, equipment, ammunition, and machine guns were unloaded. He said the landing was one of the toughest he had seen made since taking over his boat. Great shafts of black coral made the approach difficult.

SAVED $50,000 OF NAVY FUNDS.

Ensign Kennedy visited Chicago last December after receiving his commission in San Francisco. He was cited for bravery after the tanker Pecos was sunk in the Java sea. Manning a .50 caliber machine gun, Kennedy shot down a Jap bomber and later swam to safety with $50,000 of the sinking Pecos' money tied about his neck. He performed this feat despite severe burns received while at his post.

Tow Freight Laden Glider Across Ocean in 28 Hours

LONDON, July 5 [Monday]—(AP).—A freight loaded glider recently was towed across the Atlantic in a successful test of a "sky train" technique opening great new possibilities in air transport, the air ministry disclosed today.

The glider was loaded with vaccines for Russia, radio, aircraft and motor parts, and was towed by a twin engined Douglas C-47 transport, a type which the British call Dakota. It completed the 3,500 mile journey in 28 hours.

The glider chosen for the experiment by the R. A. F. transport command had an 84 foot wing span with freight capacity of a ton and a half. Known as type CG4A, it was designed by the Waco Aircraft company and built by a New York manufacturer.

Squadron Leader R. G. Seys of the R. A. F. piloted the glider with Squadron Leader F. M. Gobeil of the Royal Canadian Air force as copilot, while Flight Lt. W. S. Longhurst, a Canadian in the R. A. F., piloted the tow plane with Flight Lt. C. W. H. Thomson as co-pilot.

The flight was preceded by many months of experimental hops with the fully loaded glider. The major test was a triangular course flown to and from Montreal by way of Newfoundland and Labrador. The last stage of this flight carried 820 miles, setting a record for loaded glider flight by exceeding the American mark of 670 miles.

Some of the worst weather of 50 years beset these experimental runs—including a blizzard which forced the glider down in snowy mountains—but the Atlantic crossing starting from Montreal was hampered by bad weather only on the first leg.

On the first hop it took three hours to climb against headwinds to 9,000 feet in a vain effort to try to get over clouds. But the weather improved and the final day's run brought the "train" to its destination exactly at the estimated arrival time.

The glider, loaded and unloaded thru a large door in the nose, was reinforced for the trip with steel attachments designed to take a pull of 20,000 pounds.

ATTENDANCE RECORD

Attendance at the war show in Tribune Square set a new high daily record yesterday when 18,521 persons visited the exhibits. In the two weeks since the show was opened more than 150,000 persons have inspected the armament and equipment on display. The show is being presented by the ordnance department of the army service forces in coöperation with the Chicago Tribune. It is open from 10 a. m. to 10:30 p. m. daily. Admission is free. KING OF GREECE HINTS ALLIED INVASION OF HIS HOMELAND NEARS

CAIRO, Egypt, July 4 (AP).—King George of Greece intimated tonight that an allied landing on Greek soil could be expected.

He declared in a broadcast to the Greek people: "I know you in Greece are ready to coöperate with those who will help you by landing on the shores of Greece and joining you to drive out the oppressor."

He also assured the people of his homeland that "as soon as the security of our country is complete, free and general elections for a constituent assembly will be held."

The king declared that the 1911 Greek constitution would be maintained. "As soon as the seat of government can be transferred to Greek soil, members of the present government will tender their resignations to me in order that a government fully representative of all parties and public opinion may be constituted," he said.

STETTINIUS SAYS U. S. MAY BORROW BRITISH "SPUDS"

Washington, D. C., July 4 [Special].—Rep. Raymond S. Springer [R., Ind.] said today that Lend-Lease Administrator Edward R. Stettinius had written him saying that British potatoes might be shipped to the United States under reverse lend-lease should another potato shortage develop. Springer projected the idea in a house speech. The congressman had noted that the British supply of potatoes was adequate to allow exports which could be transported as ballast in cargo vessels returning to the United States.

Report Pro-Axis Indian Heads Independence Body

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Subhas Chandra Bose, Indian nationalist leader now working closely with the axis, was elected leader of the "Indian Independence league" at a mass meeting yesterday in Singapore, the Berlin radio reported yesterday in a dispatch from Tokio. The broadcast said Bose declared that "the time has come for all liberty loving Indians to act," and that "all Indians living abroad have been united now for the first time in one uniform organization."

Suspect in 3 Killings Confesses One

Woman Points to Uniformed Man as Slayer

Cheyenne, Wyo., July 4 [Special].—An oral confession that he shot and killed Matt Katmo, 44 year old Cheyenne war worker, at a mountain camp ground last Wednesday, and subsequently stole Katmo's automobile after beating and tying up his companion, Mrs. O. W. Larson, was made here today by a man giving the name of Howard Pickell, 26 years old.

Pickell, who was brought here yesterday after being arrested at Pine Bluff, 35 miles east of here, made his admission to Sheriff Norbert Tuck. This came after Mrs. Larson, who came here from her home in Laramie to confront him, unhesitatingly identified him as her assailant and the slayer of Katmo.

Prisoner in Army Uniform.

Sheriff Tuck said that Pickell has denied any knowledge of the slaying Friday night of Percy Cota, 58 years old, and his wife, Gertrude, 45, altho he has made incoherent statements indicating a knowledge of the Cota tragedy and also has boasted of killing a soldier in Los Angeles, Cal. When arrested Pickell was wearing a soldier's uniform with air corps insignia on a sleeve.

Pickell had no furlough or other identification papers with him, the sheriff said, and has made no claim that he is a member of the army. He told the sheriff he formerly lived in Syracuse, N. Y., and was recently released from a correctional institution in the east.

[Police records at Syracuse show that Pickell was sentenced to Attica, N. Y. state prison for five to 10 years for the second conviction for auto theft.

Posses of ranchers who have been searching the region between Cheyenne and Laramie since the shooting of the Cotas abandoned their search last night after learning of Pickell's confession. For two days one of the most vigorous manhunts in recent western history had been in progress, and many of the ranchers had sent their families to Cheyenne or Laramie for safety while they sought to run down the killer.

Bloody Shirt in Suitcase.

Sheriff Tuck said Pickell had at first attempted to explain a bloody shirt found in his suitcase by saying he had had a nose bleed but that after Mrs. Larson identified him he abandoned this story and admitted the blood was Katmo's. He also admitted he recognized Mrs. Larson, according to the sheriff.

The Katmo and the Cota slayings occurred within 15 miles of each other in the Pole mountain country about 38 miles west of Cheyenne. In each case an automobile was stolen after the crime and in each case the stolen car was found bogged in a meadow about 5 miles from the scene. The automobile thefts are so far the only motives known for the crimes, the sheriff said.

Pickell will be held without charge in the Cheyenne jail for further questioning, according to the sheriff.

Lenoir Bell, Albany county attorney, said he plans to file first degree murder charges Tuesday against Pickell for the Katmo slaying.

SUBSIDY WON'T PREVENT PRICE RISES: HOOVER

F. D. R. Plan Called a Mere Stopgap.

New York, July 4 (AP).—Former President Herbert Hoover declared here today the Roosevelt administration's food subsidy program "does not get at the heart of the food problem," and predicted that "in eight months prices will be higher and food scarcer."

In a radio address, Hoover said the subsidy program merely postpones higher prices, and predicted that the food situation "will get worse in the end."

He reiterated a previous statement that "the food mess" would not be cleared up until a single federal food administrator was appointed with full authority over all phases of the food problem.

War Council Urged.

The former President recommended formation of a national war council, which he said should be presided over by President Roosevelt and serve as a unifying force in the entire war effort.

"The whole American people," he declared, "is praying for more unity so we can win this war."

Hoover said he felt certain the enemy enjoyed a spiritual uplift from reports of food shortages, race riots, and strikes in the United States.

Many such reports represent "the creak and groan of democracy getting into action," Hoover said, adding that while there was no doubt that democracy would outlast any dictatorship, nevertheless the enemy got the impression America was "a disordered country, a declining country."

Production Is Problem.

The heart of the food problem, he said, was to "secure more production, get more food to people, and eliminate black markets."

In answer to questions from the studio audience, Hoover said the military services and industry were doing a magnificent war job and the flow of raw materials was "pretty good," but that he thought the man power and labor relations situations were weak spots in the home front.

Asked how long he thought the war would last, he said: "If we're wise, we will base our plans on a minimum of four years until the axis is completely overcome."

Wants Acreage Restored.

In response to another question, Hoover declared the only hope for guarding against "inevitable famine" after the war lay in returning to cultivation 47 million acres of land upon which he said crops had been restricted in the last 10 years.

Hoover said eight or nine million acres of these lands had already been recovered, but that the entire acreage, which he described as "a great potential asset," must be used for the 1944 harvest.

A great deal of man power and machinery will be needed to recultivate this land, Hoover said.

LIBERTY BELL RINGS AGAIN IN HOLIDAY RITES

Philadelphia, Pa., July 4 [Special].—The Liberty bell that proclaimed "liberty thruout the land and to all the inhabitants thereof" 167 years ago from Independence hall, rang again today.

The Rev. Dr. Ross D. Murphy, president of the Philadelphia federation of churches, sounded the bell during broadcast of the National Vespers program. He said:

"To remind ourselves of our rich heritage and as a challenge to spread the spirit of democracy and to give to all peoples everywhere the privilege of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness, we now tap this emblem of freedom 13 times in commemoration of the 13 original colonies."

In Old Christ church, the famous tower bells that joined with the Liberty bell in announcing the Declaration of Independence also rang out again.

SEE MacARTHUR DRIVE AIMED TO TAKE PHILIPPINES

Gen. MacArthur.

Washington, D. C., July 4 (AP).—Friends of Gen. MacArthur said today that a week's development of the offensive in the South Pacific had convinced them that MacArthur has finally launched the campaign by which he intends to return to the Philippines.

Months of fighting remain, for the offensive now is in its earliest and simplest stage—the struggle for strategically placed bases from which to make the next wave of assaults on Japan's main South Pacific defense line.

Because of the time which must elapse before the MacArthur strategy can reach its climax, most emphasis now is being placed on other and more immediate triumphs expected.

Could Cut Jap Supply Line.

However, military men do not minimize the importance strategically of a reconquest of at least the southern part of the Philippines. That would place American forces in position to harass and eventually to sever Japan's supply lines to her rich conquered territories in Malaya and the Netherlands East Indies.

Pushing the conquest of the Philippines northward would not only increase the potential damage to Japanese shipping but would also bring within range of attack the enemy base on Formosa Island and probably make possible an aerial junction of MacArthur's forces with the allied forces—American, Chinese, and British—driving toward the Asiatic coast thru southern China.

Here is the way the South Pacific situation shapes up almost a week after the start of the first real offensive against Japan:

MacArthur with full strategic control of both his own forces and those of Adm. William F. Halsey Jr., can turn the allied striking power in any direction that seems most desirable. Generally his forces in New Guinea and Halsey's units in the central Solomons appear to be driving initially for bases from which to throw overwhelming air power against the Japanese base of Rabaul from two directions.

Rabaul Not So Important.

At this time, however, the conquest of Rabaul is not so important as is the engagement and destruction of Japanese air and naval forces.

Beyond Rabaul American forces might logically be expected to strike at Truk Island, lying about 1,000 miles to the north. Truk may and probably will be raided by long-range planes and carrier based aircraft. It might even be shelled eventually by our naval forces.

YANKS BATTER KISKA IN NINE NEW AIR RAIDS

Blast Gun Positions, Cove and Camps.

Washington, D. C., July 4 (AP).—American airmen, battering the Japanese Kiska garrison, which seems ultimately destined for destruction, have scored numerous damaging hits in a new series of nine raids.

The navy, reporting this today, said anti-aircraft positions and the camp areas on the rocky Aleutian island were struck by the heaviest loads of bombs. Some of the gun emplacements may have been knocked out and casualties could have been caused in the living quarters.

It reported also, without explanation, that "one direct hit was made on a house." In view of the accuracy of American precision bombing it appears probable that the house was a chosen objective; it could have been a headquarters building for a part of the enemy's Kiska command.

Ventura and Mitchell medium bombers and Liberator heavy bombers carried out eight of the nine raids. They struck in waves on Friday at gun positions in the Gertrude cove area, the camps, and the North Head section of the island.

The Liberators went back alone the next day again to pound the enemy positions, hitting this time at the main camp area. Fog and low hanging clouds, however, made it impossible to observe results of the attack.

The raids were the heaviest reported since the general offensive started far away in the southwest and South Pacific.

Samuel F. Jacobson, 1044 Hollywood avenue, reported to police yesterday that burglars robbed his home of a fur coat and two rings, all valued at $1,100.

YANKS RUSHED ATTU INJURED TO U. S. HOSPITALS

Seattle, Wash., July 4 (AP).—American casualties in the battle of Attu reached Pacific coast hospitals, the Seattle port surgeon disclosed today, even before final Japanese organized resistance on the island was overcome.

And now nearly all the wounded, Col. Louis Brecheman Jr. said, have been brought more than 3,000 miles from the fog ridden beaches of the Aleutian outpost.

[The war department announced at Washington on June 4 a total of 1,535 Attu casualties. They were 342 dead, 1,135 wounded and 58 missing.]

The first casualties arrived by transport on May 27. It was not until May 30, according to a navy communique, that the last enemy resistance was overcome.

French Ordered to Use Only Synthetic Rubber

BERNE, Switzerland, July 4.—French manufacturers have been instructed by the Nazis to use only synthetic rubber. An official circular states that no demand for natural rubber can be taken into consideration without an opinion from "the German pilot firm." This designation indicates "piloting" has taken the place of "collaboration."

dubi, after 10 were killed and several wounded.

Gen. MacArthur took direct charge of the operations against Kiriwina in the Trobriand Islands and against Woodlark Island.

Before leaving the New Guinea base he impressed upon members of the landing party the importance of occupying these two places.

The Trobriand group lies roughly 150 miles east of allied held Buna, New Guinea. Woodlark is about 100 miles east and slightly south of the Trobriand group.

The special importance of these two places was not explained. They represent but a small part of the area covered in the advance of allied forces which began June 30 on a land and sea front reaching from the central Solomons west to a point near Japanese held Salamaua in Eastern New Guinea.

These surface operations have been accompanied by far-flung aerial activity extending from the Solomons in the 2,800-mile arc westward to Kendari, Dutch Celebes.

Immaculately Dressed.

It was the second time in eight months that Gen. MacArthur had taken the field. The first occasion was last October when he set up headquarters at Port Moresby for the operations which took Buna and other points on the southeastern New Guinea coast and drove the Japanese out of the Papuan part of the big island.

For the operations against Kiriwina and Woodlark he set up advance headquarters in a palm-thatched hut built with the aid of native labor. He moved in shortly after his arrival in an army bomber escorted by Airacobra and Lightning fighters. Preparatory to the zero hour he visited a point on the New Guinea coast where great masses of arms and supplies were stored. He gave high praise to the men who made the supply preparations.

Immaculately dressed even in the field, the general, however, discarded the blouse which he usually wears at his Australian headquarters. He went around dressed in well-pressed khaki trousers, khaki shirt bearing the four stars of his rank, a light tie and the elaborate garrison cap which he designed.

Raid Nauru Island.

Washington, D. C., July 4 (AP). A heavy bombing raid on Nauru Island in the Gilbert group northeast of the Solomons a week ago, was reported by the navy today. Liberator heavy bombers attacked there and found 14 Zero fighters in the air over the enemy airstrip.

Only four of the Japanese fighters endeavored to engage the bombers. Two of the Zeros were damaged while all United States planes returned safely.

MEXICO SELECTS WAR CONGRESS; ONLY ONE HURT

MEXICO CITY, July 4 (AP).—Mexicans voted today to select their first war congress in nearly 100 years. Reports indicated that it was quiet election. One man was injured slightly when struck on the head during a fight for possession of a voting booth, but he was the only casualty in the federal district.

A total of 3,000,000 votes was expected to be cast. The voters balloted on the entire membership of 246 representatives in the chamber of deputies and half the 76 senate seats. Several states also named governors and legislators.

ALLIED BOMBERS RIP JAP BRIDGE AND RAILROADS

NEW DELHI, India, July 4 (AP).—United States medium bombers knocked out the important Myitnge railroad bridge near Japanese-held Mandalay in Burma again yesterday, destroying the south span and smashing tracks and the enbankment on the south approach, it was announced today.

The bridge, spanning the Irrawaddy river, had been damaged in an earlier American raid, but Japanese engineers apparently had made it usable again, a United States communique said.

Heavy bombers struck the industrial area of Myingyan Saturday, the communique reported. Nine tons of bombs were dropped on Friday by B-24 bombers on an enemy railroad construction base at Tanbyuzayat.

CHINESE BEAT BACK TWO JAP COUNTER-BLOWS

CHUNGKING, China, July 4 (AP).—Chinese forces have beaten back two Japanese counter-attacks in southern Hupeh province near Kungan, one of the bases from which the invaders launched their abortive drive on the upper Yangtze river, the Chinese high command announced today.

Kungan is midway between the Japanese base of Ichang, on the Yangtze and Lake Tung Ting.

The communique said fighting also occurred in Yunnan province west of the Salween river, where Japanese based at Kunlung attacked Chinese positions.

CHICAGOANS RUB EYES WHEN JEEP TAKES TO WAVES

Army Show's Amphibian a Real Water Wagon.

The entrance to the army ordnance-Chicago Tribune war show is in Nathan Hale court between Tribune Tower and W-G-N. Visitors should start the tour there. The show is open daily from 10 a. m. to 10:30 p. m. There is no admission charge.

With a bright July sun forcing the mercury over the 90 degree mark and sending thousands to the beaches, one exhibit of the great army ordnance show sponsored by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE and the ordnance department of the army service forces also took to the water yesterday.

The amphibious jeep, officially christened U. S. A. 7014881 when it was run off the assembly line, breezed up Michigan avenue under the guidance of Lt. W. A. Morey of the Chicago ordnance depot at a rate of speed which was less than half its top limit and could not have raised any objections from OPA inspectors. The jeep has six speeds forward and two reverse, but its exact top speed is still restricted military information.

Jeep Takes to the Water.

At Diversey harbor, with Skipper Morey at the helm and with 2d Lt. H. J. Kaufman of the Savanna ordnance depot and 2d Lt. F. E. Smith of Aberdeen, Md., proving grounds serving as crew, the jeep nosed into the water and went chugging out to Lake Michigan to the amazement of thousands of Lincoln park idlers and bathers along the beaches.

The return trip was along the lake shore, thru Chicago river locks, and up the river to Michigan avenue bridge where the jeep was maneuvered for the benefit of hundreds who lined the bridge and adjacent stairways and docks. Similar maneuvers will be held in the river just east of the bridge today at 11:45 a. m., 1:45, 3:45, 5:45, and 7:45 p. m. for the entertainment of ordnance show visitors.

The amphibious jeep is equipped with an unusual combination of land and water gadgets. While traveling on land it is operated as almost any private automobile and rides almost as comfortably. It is powered with a standard jeep engine. The main difference from the ordinary jeep is its welded body which keeps it afloat.

Surprisingly Buoyant.

When entering the water a lever starts the propellor which, with the rudder, is fitted in a groove that runs thru the center of the boat along the bottom. After it is afloat another lever disengages the four wheels to lessen their drag. The jeep, even when loaded, has a freeboard of nearly a foot and is surprisingly buoyant. It can ride out waves three or four feet high and an auxiliary pump promptly bails out any water the jeep may ship in rough weather.

When in water the bow is protected by a metal gunwale which can be turned back when traveling on land. Near the bow is a power-driven winch to be used for pulling or towing purposes. Coils of rope fore and aft are for mooring. An anchor is stowed on top of the spare tire. The jeep has auto headlights and taillight and blackout lights, but the inventors forgot to add running lights for night travel on the water.

When not traveling up and down Lake Michigan the jeep can be inspected in the tent just off Michigan avenue and south of Tribune Tower, where it rests beside the General Sherman tank and other war equipment.

NAZIS TO FIGHT HARD FOR ITALY, EXPERT PREDICTS

Move Troops to Fascist Area, He Asserts.

BY HANSON W. BALDWIN.
[New York Times Military Analyst.]

New York, July 4.—A major change in German strategy is now occurring in Europe—a change so fundamental that it may well affect the course and duration of the war. In the past two months—particularly in recent weeks—the Germans have considerably reënforced Italy. There is now no doubt that they are determined to make a strong fight for Italy, Sicily, Sardinia, and the Mediterranean Islands.

Since mid-June a Nazi offensive in Russia has been anticipated momentarily, yet July has started and the Russian front is still quiet. These two facts put a new complexion upon the entire European strategic situation.

2,800 Axis Planes in Italy.

No longer can there be much, if any, hope for a quick and easy victory over Italy. It is still possible that Italy can be knocked out of the war this year, but there is no longer much hope of an Italian "collapse" when, and if, invasion starts. There are too many Germans in the peninsula and its appendage of islands.

Some months ago, indeed some weeks ago, there were relatively few Nazi troops south of the Brenner pass. It appeared that the Germans had elected to make another stab against Russia and to support Italy only with air forces and a minimum of ground forces. Today, the Luftwaffe on the Mediterranean front and in western Europe has been reënforced. There are probably 1,000 Nazi planes, plus 1,500 to 1,800 Italian planes, available for Mediterranean service.

Nazis in Sicily Increased.

In addition to 9 or 10 Italian divisions in Sicily, the larger parts of two, possibly of three, German divisions are stationed there. There are probably 300,000 axis troops in Sicily, and the German part of this garrison has been increasing steadily. Sardinia, previously lightly held by the Italians with the help of some Luftwaffe units and Nazi anti-aircraft troops, is now garrisoned by three or four Italian divisions and the equivalent of at least one German division. There are 45,000 to 60,000 Germans in Crete, plus half as many Italians.

Other German divisions have been moving from France and possibly from the Balkans into the Italian peninsula. There are probably a minimum of five or a maximum of eight German divisions in Italy today, plus Luftwaffe and auxiliary units, and others may be moving in.

German planes in the central Mediterranean area have been pulled back from Sicily and have been based in recent weeks at more secure fields north of Naples. A considerable number of planes has been carefully husbanded against the day of our anticipated invasion.

Italian Morale Is Key.

Italian troops, of course, still outnumber the Germans in Italy and Sicily and Sardinia. As a result the difficulties of any invasion attempts the allies may make will be either greatly increased by stubborn Italian resistance, or greatly eased by the weakness of the Italian will to fight. Italian morale is thus still a key factor in central Mediterranean operations, but it is no longer the dominating factor; the German reënforcements have insured a tough fight.

In addition to strengthening their forces in Italy the Nazis have built up their ground forces in France and the low countries and their air forces in western Europe. The latter move seems intended as a permanent answer to our intensive bombardment. The former probably represents a transitory reshuffling of units, since some of the 15 additional divisions that until a few weeks ago had augmented the strength of axis forces in France, have now been transferred south into Italy.

It is a curious fact so few Americans know the words of our national anthem. DO YOU?

To make it easy to learn them, we reproduce each stanza. Clip or tear out these words, paste them on a card to carry about until you really know them. Then pass them on to others. Let's start a crusade, beginning this Independence Day, to have everybody know these words. July, 1943, is also a fine time to make a declaration of your own . . . to resolve to invest in MORE War Bonds and to buy them regularly.

CLIP or TEAR OUT and . . . learn

THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER

Oh, say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, thru the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there.
Oh, say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

2
Where the foe's haughty host in dread silence reposes
What is that which the breeze, o'er the towering steep
As it fitfully blows, half conceals, half discloses?
Now it catches the gleam of the morning's first beam
In full glory reflected now shines on the stream

3
And where is that band who so vauntingly swore,
That the havoc of war and the battle's confusion
A home and a country should leave us no more!
Their blood has wash'd out their foul footsteps' pollution:
No refuge could save the hireling and slave
From the terror of flight or the gloom of the grave
And the star-spangled banner in triumph doth wave
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave!

Oh! thus be it ever, when freemen shall stand
Between their lov'd homes and the war's desolation;
Blest with vict'ry and peace, may the Heav'n-rescued land
Praise the Pow'r that hath made and preserved us a nation:
Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just
And this be our motto, "In God is our trust."
And the star-spangled banner in triumph shall wave
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave!

ITALIANS WRECK DOCKS TO BALK ALLIED LANDING

ALLIED HDQ. IN NORTH AFRICA, July 4 (AP).—Axis defenders of invasion-threatened Sicily have begun blowing up port installations that might be used in an allied landing, it was disclosed today.

An official announcement said aerial photographs showed that the enemy was destroying quays at Trapani, on the northwest tip of Sicily, with demolition charges. Trapani's population totaled about 63,000 before bombings started an exodus.

[The Rome radio said that the big air and naval base of Palermo, Sicily's capital, has "ceased to exist" under the pounding of allied bombers.]

Tell of Raids Near Rome.

The Italian Sunday communique, broadcast from Rome, stated that allied planes bombed Ostia and Fiumicino at the mouth of the Tiber river southwest of Rome last night and repeatedly flew over the outskirts of Rome, drawing anti-aircraft fire from the capital's batteries.

[British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden reiterated last week that there would be no hesitation in bombing the Italian capital "if the course of the war should render such action convenient and helpful."]

There was no confirmation here of the attacks on Ostia and Fiumicino, but such raids by the North African air force frequently are not reported immediately.

100 Miles from Cape Bon.

The daylight attacks followed a raid on Trapani the preceding night by R. A. F. Wellington bombers, which also hit the Sardinian port of Olbia and left seven great fires blazing in its railway yards.

It was while surveying results of the attack on Trapani that aerial photographers discovered the enemy was adding to the destruction of the port, which lies only 100 miles directly across the Sicilian straits from allied-held Cape Bon peninsula in Tunisia. The purpose evidently is to deny the facilities to any allied landing parties.

An announcement said that "the quay of the port of Trapani is being demolished by explosions all along the side where shipping is unloaded, according to photo reconnaissance." The 5,000 foot quay line is adjacent to the Trapani submarine basin.

Sicilian air fields at Milo, Sciacca, and Comiso were objectives of three raids yesterday by American and South African light and medium bombers escorted by American Warhawk [P-40] fightjers.

Bomb Airdromes in Sardinia.

The day's operations of the strategic air force were featured by the bombing of Alghero-Fertilia airdrome in northwest Sardinia. Mitchells [B-25s] dropped their bombs on four large buildings there.

Mitchells and Marauders [B-26s] attacked Milis airdrome in central Sardinia. Marauders bombed Capo Terra in central Sardinia. Warhawk fighters shot up radio installations and gun emplacements at Pula in southern Sardinia.

A Valletta communique reported that Malta based fighters provided cover for the bomber attack upon Comiso.

Ten enemy planes were downed in the day's operations and nine allied craft were reported missing.

CLAIM 50 PLANES DOWNED.

The Italian communique claimed that a total of 50 allied planes, including "numerous" four engined bombers, were shot down over Sicily during the day. It said Italian fighters accounted for 18 of the number and German fighters got 10, while anti-aircraft fire destroyed the other 22.

NAZIS FORM NEW NAVY BRANCH TO FIGHT INVASION

Adm. Raeder Named Head of Combined Units.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, July 4 (AP).—A Berlin dispatch to the newspaper Aftonbladet reported today that a new German "general service" military branch headed by Grand Adm. Erich Raeder had been created, apparently to combat any allied invasion.

Adm. Erich Raeder.

Raeder organized the new branch with four divisions—coast guard, submarine, light and heavy naval forces—said the dispatch which passed Nazi censors.

Units of the new branch indicated it was principally a reorganization within the German navy, altho personnel also was drawn from the army and air force.

The Aftonbladet correspondent said "mystery" surrounded the reorganization but that the task of the new branch apparently was to combat the expected invasion.

He reported that no official announcement was made on the task or purpose of the branch. From the complexion of the units, however, it appeared that they were designed primarily for operation around coastal areas which Adolf Hitler must defend on an arc from the tip of Norway to Greece.

Raeder was head of the German navy from Oct. 1, 1928, until Jan. 30, 1943, when he was succeeded by Grand Adm. Karl Doenitz in a step interpreted by allied sources as meaning Germany had decided upon intensification of submarine warfare as a main hope of winning the war. Raeder then became admiral inspector of the navy.

Raeder's new branch will supplement the present branches of the army, navy, and air forces, the correspondent said.

Personnel for the general service group will be drawn from seasoned officers and men on the air force, submarine squadrons, the fleet, army heavy artillery, and pioneers, the engineer units, he added.

There was no indication of how much of Doenitz' naval personnel would be transferred to Raeder or how the overlapping of their naval forces would be coördinated.

STICKELL SAYS 'GOSH!' AS KING DECORATES HIM

Tells How Honored Men 'Bang the Gong.'

(Lt. John H. Stickell, Gilson, Ill., farmer who became one of the R. C. A. F.'s most distinguished flyers in the prelude to invasion, today tells the ninth part of his first hand account of "Halfway Between Heaven and Hell." He is now a navy flyer.)

BY LT. JOHN H. STICKELL

[Copyright: 1943: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Out of the year and a half I was with the R. C. A. F. in England, two days stand out as great dates for me. One was Oct. 17, 1942. That was the day I was promoted from pilot officer to flight lieutenant [pronounced leftenant] and was notified I would be awarded the distinguished flying cross.

The other was Feb. 16, 1943. That was the day my observer and I banged the gong. To bang the gong means to get a medal pinned on you by the king.

With winter clouds settling over Germany, the Pathfinder force—the group which preceded the bombers and marked the targets and of which my crew and I were the first members—paid some visits to Il Duce and his sunny land of Italy. Nice winter vacation.

Alps Foil Bombers.

Our first vacation spot was Genoa. But, as related several days ago, heavy clouds covered the city, so we dropped our load on Savona, which we found clear.

We started back to Genoa two weeks later, leaving that time at 4:30 in the afternoon. It was cold and wet over France, and we had to keep down to 5,000 feet to prevent freezing. We started to climb for the Alps but at 9,500 we iced up. All four motors cut and we had an exciting few moments when we started to fall. But the motors came on again. We went home.

We tried Hamburg two nights later but ran into ice, flak, and searchlights. We didn't get to Hamburg. The third trip to Genoa was also a flop for us. The port inner engine went out over the channel, so I jettisoned the bombs and started home. I was at 2,000 feet when the starboard outer engine also quit. We managed to keep our little altitude on the remaining two engines and made base, but it was hard on the nerves.

The ground crew gave K. King, our Stirling bomber, a good going over. In two days they had her ready again, and on Nov. 15 we headed back to Genoa. Everything went lovely for us this time, which meant terrible for the Italians. Heavy clouds protected us over France. It cleared over Switzerland for another wonderful view. Some 20 ineffective Italian searchlights thought they were guarding Genoa, but our flares lighted the town like day, overpowering the lights as the sun overpowers a flaming match.

We dropped our bombs and the photo showed we had hit our target. The Pathfinder force carried bombs only on long trips. The rest of the time it was content with flares and markers. Also, every bomber is equipped with a camera which takes a picture each time a bomb is dropped. That shows where the bomber has been, helps reconstruct the flight and prevents flyers from stooging around the coast, jettisoning their bombs, then going back home and reporting they were over the target.

About Thanksgiving time we gave Turin two workings over. Then Frankfurt again, despite heavy clouds.

By this time the R. A. F. had developed some new navigational equipment which it wanted to install on the Pathfinder planes. Most of December and January we worked with the engineers, getting out the bugs. We went into action the last day of January, but it was a couple or three more weeks before the stuff was working properly. The equipment, of course, is a secret.

One day early in February I received a little brown envelope. "On his majesty's service," it said. There was a note that if the label were cut, the envelope could be reused by affixing a new label. I disregarded instructions and tore the envelope open.

Letter from the King.

"Confidential," the letter began. "The king will hold an investiture at Buckingham palace on Tuesday, the 16th February, 1943, at which your attendance is requested. It is requested that you should be at the palace not later than 10:15 o'clock a. m. Dress—service dress, morning dress, or civil defense uniform. This letter should be produced on entering the palace, as no further card of admission will be issued."

The letter carried the royal crest and was signed "Your obedient servant" by some secretary whose signature I haven't yet been able to make out. The English write terribly.

Lt. Shapiro, my observer, got a similar invitation to call on the king. We decided to accept.

So we called our crew together and told them to meet us in London on the evening of Feb. 16 and we would take them to dinner. "Bring along some WAAFs, if you want," we said, generously. The lieutenant and I also sought out a couple of WAAF officers and invited them.

Gets Trousers Pressed.

Clem, the batman, gave my trousers an extra pressing and the brass buttons an extra polishing. We didn't think of getting new clothes. Two uniforms were all we were allowed. We wore them winter, spring, summer, and fall.

Lt. Shapiro and I presented our letters to the guards at the tall iron gates. We looked to see if the bomb damage to the palace still showed. We couldn't find any débris or holes. We walked thru an open corridor into the courtyard around which the palace is built. The big reception room is across the yard.

We were ushered into a little room. About 160 other men were there. We lined up according to rank. The navy, being the senior service and getting all the breaks, was first, then the army, then the R. A. F.

Promptly at 10:30 a. m. the doors to the big hall swung open. About 300 persons, mostly parents of men decorated, were sitting in straight chairs along the walls. I had two tickets for mom and father, but of course they couldn't come. Maybe next time.

King on a Dais.

Beefeaters—the palace guards who wear big fluffy collars and red clown suits—lined an aisle thru the room. They stood stiffly erect. In their right hands they held those tall spears, or whatever you call them.

The aisle led directly to a dais in the middle of the room. On it stood the king, in a navy uniform and wearing more gold braid than anybody. It's like I said, the navy gets all the breaks, so the king was dressed as commander in chief of the navy.

One by one the men filed up the aisle. Just as they had practiced, they marched up to the king, clicked their heels, bowed, stepped one step forward, banged the gong [took the medal], stepped back one step, turned and marched off.

At last it was my turn. The royal scribe called my name.

"Pilot Officer Stickell has taken part in attacks on Essen, Hamburg, Bremen, and other heavily defended targets," the scribe read. "Thruout, his captaincy and determination have been of the highest order. His personal example has been an inspiration to all."

I hope I did the footwork as practiced. The king pinned on my medal. He is a small man. He stood on a dais, yet the top of his head came about even with my chin.

"You're an American, I believe," he said. I was too surprised to remember the words exactly.

"Yes," I said.

"How many operations have you made with the Pathfinders?" he asked.

"Gosh, about 14, I think," I said. I was the one who stuttered.

I didn't expect to be talked to. I probably even said "sir," altho even a blundering idiot knows nobody ever says "sir" to the king. It's always "your majesty."

"How do you like England?" the king said.

"Fine," I said. I meant it.

"And the R. A. F., how do you like it?"

"Fine," I said again. I meant that too.

I guess I echoed the king's sentiments for he held out his hand and we shook on it.

MME. CHIANG HOME AFTER 15,000 MILE TOUR OF U. S., CANADA

CHUNGKING, July 4 (AP).—Mrs. Chiang Kai-Shek returned by plane to this war capital today for a reunion with her husband, the Chinese generalissimo, after a tour of the United States and Canada.

Weary and airsick, she landed here in a transport plane piloted by an American crew, ending her 15,000-mile journey which began last Nov. 18.

The time of her arrival was kept so secret that not even the generalissimo was informed. Consequently he was not at the airport to greet her and only upon her arrival at their home were they reunited.

The trip back to Chungking took less than a week and passed uneventfully, but the first lady of China found the strain of travel trying. She arrived as President Lin Sen lay gravely ill and China was only three days away from the beginning of the seventh year of the war with Japan.

British and German Guns Open Up Across Channel

LONDON, July 5 [Monday]—(AP).—British and German big guns exchanged salvos across the Straits of Dover early today. Some shells fell in the Dover area in this duel, which was the third within a week.

The exchanges usually indicate that a coastal convoy is passing. With their railroads strained, the Germans were reported relying more and more on this risky means of sneaking small boats thru the channel to supply their coastal defenders.

BIG FORCE OF U. S. BOMBERS RAIDS NAZIS IN FRANCE

R.A.F. Makes New Attacks on Cologne, Hamburg.

LONDON, July 4 (AP).—The R. A. F. bombed the already devastated city of Cologne for 45 minutes last night and also pounded Hamburg, while large formations of American Flying Fortresses took over the daylight offensive today by attacking three important axis targets—Nantes, Le Mans, and La Pallice in France.

The coördinated sky assaults cost the R. A. F. 32 planes and the United States air force eight Fortresses.

The Americans, observing the first anniversary of 8th air force operations over Europe, attacked U-boat nests and port installations at Nantes and La Pallice, and an airplane factory at Le Mans.

Encounter Strong Opposition.

"Bombing results were good," said the communique, which added that "strong fighter opposition was encountered at Le Mans and Nantes, but none at La Pallice. A number of enemy fighters were destroyed by the bombers."

The Le Mans railway yards, freight car repair shops and engine sheds are among the largest in France. The city is the site of important armament factories, including a subsidiary of the Renault Motor works. Le Mans also has the famous Gnome-Rhone Aero Engine plant, producing motors for the German air force.

Key U-Boat Repair Base.

La Pallice is one of the key U-boat refitting and repair bases. Nantes is a German air force servicing and repair depot.

The British attack on Cologne was directed especially at the Kalk and Deutz sections of Cologne on the east bank of the Rhine.

[The German Sunday communique asserted that 37 British bombers were destroyed in the raid on Cologne and that three other allied planes were downed in occupied zones.]

ADM. HOOVER SEES PACT NEAR IN MARTINIQUE

SAN JUAN, PUERTO RICO, July 4 (AP).—Vice Adm. John H. Hoover said today the chances of a settlement were "favorable" after his return from a Martinique conference with the Vichy French high commissioner, Adm. Georges Robert, who had requested a discussion on terms for changing French authority in the island colony.

It is possible that Gen. Henri Giraud, co-president of the French National Committee of Liberation in Algiers, who is now on his way to the United States, may stop here to visit Adm. Hoover.

Last night the Martinique radio broadcast a three point plan under which Robert was represented as willing to permit the island to "pass to other French authority" and which was handed to Adm. Hoover. The terms were: A demand for guaranteeing the maintenance of French sovereignty; the nonintervention of foreign armed forces, and the resumption of the supply of provisions.

BRITISH OUTPUT OF WAR GOODS UP 40% IN 1943

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 4.—Oliver Lyttelton, minister of production, in a radio broadcast tonight said "we are producing a greater volume of goods than ever before in the history of our country whether in war or peace." Production of weapons of all kinds rose by 40 per cent in the first quarter of 1943 as compared with the first quarter of 1942.

"Over the whole field of war production, naval and other ship building and army munitions and aircraft production of the British commonwealth is now larger than that of Germany, Austria, and Czecho-Slovakia put together," Lyttelton said.

Of Britain's 3,250,000 unmarried women between 18 and 40 years old, nine out of every 10 are engaged in full time war work in the fighting services, civil defense, or industry. Lyttelton appealed to the workers to exert greater effort during 1944 and said that if there is no feeling among the workers that they can slow down a still higher target should be reached.

SEARS, ROEBUCK TO SHOW DIAMONDS FOR BRIDES AND BOMBERS

What is believed to be the first public exhibit in a Chicago department store of industrial diamonds and diamond-set tools will open at the Sears, Roebuck and Co., State Street Store, 403 South State street on Tuesday, July 6th. The industrial exhibit will augment a special display of Sears Tradition Diamonds in the jewelry department of the store.

Thousands of dollars worth of gem diamonds in all sizes, both the rough stones and the cut gems, will be featured. A diamond cutter will be at work at his wheel throughout each day, and the latest machinery for diamond cutting will be shown. Replicas of famous diamonds of history will form another part of the show.

The exhibition of diamonds used in war industry has been prepared with the cooperation of J. K. Smith & Sons, Inc., manufacturers of diamond tools. Visitors will see industrial "rough" just as it comes from the African fields and similar stones set in tools of various types used in precision work on war equipment. The exhibits will be illustrated by a series of large photographic murals.

Sears, Roebuck, who have been selling diamonds for 50 years, estimate that more than half a million American girls have become engaged with Sears Tradition Diamonds.

Demand for diamond rings today is greater than during any other war period in our history. The Sears show will feature solitaires of different sizes, as well as important clips, brooches, and other types of diamond jewelry.

800 NAZIS SLAIN IN FUTILE DRIVE ON RUSSIAN HILL

Reds Set for Big Push, Berlin Asserts.

LONDON, July 5 [Monday]—(AP).—The Germans suffered 800 dead in two futile charges against an important height on the northwest front yesterday, Moscow announced early today. The Berlin radio, meanwhile, said Russian transport movements along the long front had been completed and "a soviet offensive now is to be expected almost any day."

Three German batallions of 2,400 SS elite troops, supported by seven tanks, "tried to retrieve an important height which our guards captured at the end of June," said the Russian midnight communique in describing the sharp fight which presumably took place in the Veliki Luki sector, 90 miles east of the Latvian border.

Nazis Forced to Rereat.

Russian fire forced the enemy to retreat in the first attack. A second axis attempt was met by a Red army counter-attack which "hurled the enemy back again with heavy losses."

The bulletin, recorded by the soviet radio monitor here, also told of heavy Russian air attacks Friday night on Kerch and Temryuk, Crimean and Caucasian ports.

The consistent raids on these ports in the Kerch strait area may foreshadow soviet land operations aimed at smashing the narrow axis bridgehead in the Caucasus, where the German high command reported yesterday that axis forces had advanced in the lagoon area below Temryuk "despite difficult terrain conditions and enemy counter-defense."

Berlin Tells of Threat.

Moscow did not mention any land operations in the Caucasus, but Berlin radio commentators in broadcasts acknowledged that soviet landing barges and flat bottomed motorboats had been threatening Germany's rear communications leading back to the Crimea.

WILLKIE URGES WORLD PLEDGE OF CO-OPERATION

New York, July 4 [Special].—Wendell L. Willkie today proposed a declaration of interdependence among the nations of the world, as a sign that Americans meant they wanted the creation of a world in which there was equality of opportunity for every race and every nation.

Speaking in a special Independence day broadcast entitled "One World," presented by the writers war board in collaboration with a broadcasting system, Willkie declared:

"As an earnest of our good will, today, on this one hundred and sixty-seventh anniversary of the declaration of our independence, I propose that we add to it another declaration—a Declaration of Interdependence among the nations of this one world."

He expressed the conviction that the American people would choose "by overwhelming majority" to make the choice of equality for everyone, "everywhere," rather than choosing narrow nationalism, "which inevitably means the ultimate loss of our own liberty and the certainty of recurring wars," or international imperialism, "which means the sacrifice of some other nation's liberty and the same certainty of war."

DIES OF GUNSHOT WOUND.

George Ellingsworth, 17 years old, 2442 Van Buren street, died yesterday in the Bridewell hospital of a gunshot wound received when Policemen Richard Corcoran and George Barnum reported they surprised him in the burglary of a grocery at 515 South Kilbourn avenue on June 25.

Hen in Honduras Lays a 'V' Egg for U. S. Envoy

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, July 4.—The American ambassador, John D. Erwin, has received a present of an egg. The governor of Ocotepeque, Col. Julian Mejia, presented to the ambassador an egg bearing an unmistakable "V" as a talisman for victory. The governor said: "Even nature seems to announce the decisive triumph of the allied nations against the barbarous totalitarianism of the axis."

Mrs. Sallie Schrager, 65 years old, of New York City, died of a heart attack last night shortly after she had boarded a Pennsylvania railroad train in the Union station to return to her home. She came to Chicago to visit her son, Morris L. Schrager, 3343 West 19th street.

FINNS MAKE BID TO BE BETTER FRIENDS OF U. S.

Washington, D. C., July 4 (AP).—An open Finnish bid for better relations with the United States, in disregard of German pressure on Finland, aroused interest in diplomatic quarters here today.

Organization of a Finnish-American society at Helsingfors, composed only of Finns, was announced during the last week to "cultivate good relations between Finland and the United States." Its chairman is Eljas Erkko, newspaper editor and former foreign minister.

Its organizers have long been considered pro-American. What interested Washington observers was the fact that they should announce such an organization while subject to German pressure.

Some regarded it as a sign that Germany has weakened until the Finns no longer fear that country and that the organizers of the society, at least, are confident of an allied nations victory.

No comment on the announcement of the new society has come from Germany, altho the German Transocean news agency reported it.

EVANSTON HERO WITH 5 ZEROS TO CREDIT, IS HOME

Sgt. Leroy H. Post Won D. F. C. for Feat.

Sgt. Leroy H. Post.

Staff Sgt. Leroy H. Post, 27 years old, an Evanston Township High school graduate who won the distinguished flying cross and oak leaf cluster as a gunner and assistant radio operator on an army bomber in the Pacific, returned to his home at 911 Sherman avenue, Evanston, yesterday on leave. Sgt. Post is spending his leave with his wife, Pauline, and his mother, Mrs. Alma Post, of 1431 South Boulevard, Evanston.

Sgt. Post is credited with shooting down five Japanese Zero planes in his 16 months of service. He won the distinguished flying cross for action over Lae harbor when his bomber sank one transport, damaged another and shot down six Zeros, and the oak leaf cluster for piling up 220 hours of combat flying.

Jap Pilot Shot Down.

He told of one encounter over Timor Island, in which his bomber shot down a companion of "Willie from Dilli," daredevil Japanese pilot whom American crews nicknamed for the town of Dilli on Timor, near which he usually operated. "Willie" got away, the sergeant said, after drawing the fire of his bomber.

Lt. John G. Dobson returned to his home at 6622 Woodlawn avenue yesterday, after 18 months of service as a bombardier and navigator on a bomber in the South Pacific. He will be guest of honor tonight at a pageant at Woodlawn and Minerva avenues and 64th street, sponsored by several Woodlawn community groups.

Lt. Dobson was stationed at Pearl Harbor during the Japanese attack of Dec. 7, 1941, and served in the battle of Midway Island and Guadalcanal. He won the distinguished flying cross and air medal with oak leaf cluster for extraordinary service. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. De Witte S. Dobson. He was married March 28, 1942, to Joy Stearns, a University of California student, whom he met in San Francisco.

Told of Son's Death.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jannisch of 333 Park avenue, River Forest, were notified yesterday of the death of their son, Corp. Fred Jannisch Jr., 20 years old, who died June 29 of a tropical disease while a Japanese prisoner in the Philippines. Corp. Jannisch was a member of the Maywood tank battalion which was mustered into federal service in November, 1940. He was graduated from Oak Park High school a few months before. He is survived by his parents and two sisters, Dorothy and Helen.

Capt. J. V. Kleczewski, dentist in the army medical corps who has been on active duty in the South Pacific for the last 15 months, has returned on leave to visit his wife, Helen, and daughter, Joan, 10 years old, at 2648 North Spaulding avenue. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Kleczewski of 5252 Grace street.

Capt. Kleczewski said he had been stationed in the Pacific islands north of Guadalcanal and had not seen his wife and daughter for nearly two years. He was a practicing dentist in Logan square district before joining the army in February, 1941.

CHICAGO KILLER ESCAPES FROM PRISON FARM

Stonewall Clark, 34 years old, Negro, serving a life sentence from Chicago for the murder of a grocer in a $4 holdup in 1926, was reported missing yesterday afternoon from the Stateville penitentiary honor farm.

Other convicts said they had last seen him at 1:30 p. m. in the dormitory building. Half an hour later Clark was not present when William Engstrom, a guard, called the roll. Clark, a kitchen helper, had a good prison record.

Clark and Ernest Holt, Negro, were convicted of murdering Robert Levy while robbing him in his grocery at 1443 Fulton street on Dec. 22, 1926.

WARING WARNS OF PERIL TO U. S. INDEPENDENCE

Columbia, S. C., July 4 (AP).—National Comdr. Roane Waring of the American Legion, speaking on what he called "probably one of the most tragic anniversaries of our independence," declared tonight that powerful internal forces are working "to destroy all of the roads leading back to a full constitutional government when the peace is once achieved."

"So-called master minds of politics, steeped in foreign ideologicies, have built a patchwork of burocratic directives" with which "they seek to pit class against class, business against labor, race against race," Waring said in a speech here on the eve of the South Carolina Legion convention.

He asserted that "some dreamers have become imbued with the idea that the Constitution, which has stood as a bulwark protecting the weak from the strong, can be changed, abrogated, and even destroyed simply by an onward proletariat march."

Waring said he saw a gradual encroachment by the federal government upon the sovereignty of the states, which "in times of depression pawned their independence."

STEAL "BOMBER" FUNDS.

A bottle containing between $125 and $150 in cash contributed by customers for a "buy a bomber" fund was stolen yesterday from a restaurant at 2407 Division street.

CANCEL RADIO TALK ON NEGRO BLOOD DONORS

New Haven, Conn., July 4 (AP).—A speech on race relations which was to have been given by Prof. Maurice R. Davie of Yale university over station WTIC in Hartford was canceled tonight, the station said, because of a reference in the script to Red Cross policy on Negro blood donors.

Prof. Davie, a sociology professor, said he had refused to eliminate the reference even tho it meant the program would be canceled. "I refuse to kowtow to the Red Cross or any other organization that interferes with my freedom of speech," he declared.

Leonard Petrucelli, program manager of the station, said the Red Cross had not objected and that the station officials had decided "it was not in the public interest" to carry the program.

The statement in Davie's talk to which the station objected was:

"Perhaps no single incident has done more damage to Négro morale than the gratuitous insult to the race by the Red Cross in first refusing to accept the blood of Negro donors and then in segregating it, for no scientific reason whatsoever."

50,000 ATTEND ONLY BIG SHOW OF QUIET FOURTH

City's Residents Spend Holiday at Home.

More than 50,000 persons, sitting last night under a perfect Fourth of July sky in Soldiers' field, watched the city's only big Independence day celebration. It was sponsored by the Cook County council of the American Legion.

Jay Brown, council commander, said that the celebration was planned to provide a safe Fourth observance for children as Chicagoans in general spent the day as a quiet Sunday at home. The program began with a parade, acts by circus clowns, drum majorets, drill team exhibitions and music from four championship drum and bugle corps.

Two hours of circus acts, including performing bears, an elephant, and high wire artists thrilled the children. This was followed by the mass induction of 77 WACs and 24 WAVES, who took the oath in midfield.

Chandler Shows Stunts.

Capt. A. C. [Speed] Chandler, former stunt pilot and now an army ferry command pilot, demonstrated aerial acrobatics above the field in a new all wood trainer plane, the first of its type.

Parents and relatives of marines chuckled when a marine corps tug of war team pulled a navy team across a dividing marker in short order and then had to stage a repeat performance because the team completed the act so quickly. The marines won again on the second try.

State police and the Chicago Motor club said the Fourth passed "just as any other Sunday since gas rationing began" with about one-fourth the usual number of holiday cars on the highways.

The most serious traffic accident in the Chicago area appeared to be a freak collision involving five cars at Ridge avenue and Lake street, in Evanston, in which Mrs. Hattie Stiener, 70 years old, 445 Barry avenue, and three other persons were injured. They were taken to St. Francis hospital.

Quarter Million at Picnics.

Forest preserve officials estimated that a quarter million picnicked in the 150 groves on the 36,000 acres of woodlands around the city.

The beaches were almost abandoned during the morning as rain threatened, but when the sky cleared, the temperatures went into the low 90s and humidity passed 50 per cent, crowds gathered. At North avenue an estimated 100,000 bathers lazed on the sand or in the water at 3 p. m.

"Nice, comfortable crowds" were reported at other city beaches in mid-afternoon. City transit lines said holiday throngs bound for beaches and parks were handled with little trouble. Many walked. The Oriole park community had its third annual picnic with almost all participants walking to a forest preserve grove.

A few large war plants on the Chicago rim worked thru the day but many, ahead of orders, took the day off. Many held picnics for employes and their families.

18,000 at Ball Park.

Eighteen thousand watched the White Sox and Philadelphia play ball. Racetracks were closed. Golf courses reported crowds "a little bigger than on the usual Sunday."

County jail prisoners celebrated by playing a baseball game and working in the prison victory garden.

Chicagoans of Italian birth or ancestry had a double Independence day. Besides commemorating adoption of the Declaration of Independence, they observed the birthday of Giuseppe Garibaldi, champion of Italian unity. He headed armies which helped unify the Italian nation. Once, when banished during reversals, he came to the western hemisphere and led a revolution that set Uruguay free.

OPA GAS CHECK THREATS FAIL TO MATERIALIZE

Green Bay, Wis., July 4 [Special].—The office of price administration's threatened holiday crack-down on Illinois and other out of state motorists in this area failed to materialize today as traffic flowed without hindrance from gasoline rationing investigators.

Altho John Reinhart, OPA district administrator, had announced he intended to have 15 agents take part in a "highway check" despite refusal of local police to coöperate, no reports of OPA activity were received from any of the 22 northeastern counties comprising the Green Bay district.

Indiana Autoists Unaffected.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 4 [Special].—All quiet on the gasoline rationing enforcement front was the report from Indiana cities and vacation resorts today. State police and other authorities said no instances of motorists being halted and quizzed by agents of the office of price administration had been brought to their attention.

SHIP LAUNCHING GIVES SENECA A GLORIOUS JULY 4

Throngs Cheer as Craft Goes Down Ways.

Ceremonies on Air

A special broadcast titled "Independence Day in Seneca," will be given on W-G-N at 11:45 a. m. today. The program was recorded by a W-G-N crew yesterday. The broadcast will include highlights of the ceremonies in connection with the launching of a tank-landing ship in the yards of the Chicago Bridge and Iron Works.

George T. Horton.

For years Seneca, a sleepy Illinois prairie town of 1,200, celebrated the Fourth of July as all other towns in the nation have celebrated Independence day.

Yesterday Seneca, a bustling boom town of more than 10,000, celebrated by launching a ship and screaming itself hoarse at a rodeo staged by hundreds of Texans who moved in during the last year.

The ship, a tank landing craft 300 feet long, was the 20th launched into the Illinois river at Seneca since December. As the eight foot wave, created when the ship hit the water sidewise, rolled across the river and washed onto the old picnic site, George T. Horton, president of the Chicago Bridge and Iron company which is building the ships on the Seneca prairie, said that the boom yards were producing ships at the rate of one a week and that in the very near future the rate would be up to six a month.

Praises Part of Workers.

Comdr. Paul S. Goen, assistant supervisor of ship building for the Chicago naval district, told Seneca workers they were doing their part in the war. "There is a job for every man and woman today," he said. "The navy is no longer the first line of defense; it is the first line of attack and your ships are vital in attack."

Miss Ruth Curnick, whose 34 years as secretary for Merle J. Trees, vice president of Chicago Bridge make her the company's most veteran woman worker, christened the ship after the Rev. Robert Snider, pastor of Nazarene church at Streator, asked an invocation. The Peru American Legion band played. Men, women and children from Streator, Peru, Ottawa, Morris, Marseilles, and La Salle came to Seneca for the holiday.

Employs 8,200 Persons.

Trees said the company employs 8,200 persons in its yards, located at Seneca because the 175 acres needed for the plant could be bought for $4,000, a fraction of the value of Chicago property. To help house new workers which increased the village's population almost tenfold, 225 trailer units and 1,269 temporary FHA units have been provided. Boom town wooden sidewalks link the barracklike structures.

Most of last year's Seneca High school girls are now working, but the school building which housed all grades is now filled by high school students alone and a 15 room temporary building has been erected for the elementary grades whose enrollment has grown from 125 to 750.

Forrest Graves, a town councilman, said the boom has caused problems. For example, he said, the council decided years ago to permit only five taverns. Today beer flows thru the five taps so fast it seldom has a chance to cool.

C. P. Trowbrie, a druggist, said his stock was cleaned out in one day when 3,000 workers arrived within 24 hours. Since, it has been replaced manyfold. Dr. W. E. Coulter, the town's only physician, said he had delivered 2,270 babies, but had virtually to give up his country doctor practice to look after the shipyard workers. Immunization shots are checking epidemic dangers, he said, but rats are a problem. Miss Elsie Maxwell, public health nurse for La Salle county, said the infirmary established in the village was cutting health hazards.

The average Senecan was more terse. He blinked his eyes, still not able to believe what he saw, and said: "You'd never know the old place any more."

HEART ATTACK FATAL TO WIFE OF EX-SOLDIER

Mrs. Josephine Hein, 21 years old, of 1921 Cleveland avenue, died of a heart attack yesterday while preparing to welcome home her husband, Pvt. Norman Hein, 24, who was en route from the Lawson general hospital at Atlanta, Ga., with a medical discharge after three months in the army.

Mrs. Hein was giving her baby daughter a morning bottle in the nursery when she collapsed, according to her sister, Mrs. Frances Waschbus, with whom she lived. She worked as a supervisor at the Acme Visible Record plant at 1754 Belmont avenue, and had not been ill.

WOMEN SLAYERS AGAIN FACE DAY WITH OWN SOULS

Mrs. Dunkel [top] and Mrs. Smith.

Mrs. Blanche Dunkel, 52 years old, and Mrs. Evelyn Smith, 54, will spend tomorrow in solitary confinement in the state reformatory for women at Dwight. The punishment was ordered eight years ago by a judge who wanted them to be alone with their consciences on each anniversary of the murder they committed.

The two women were sentenced to 180 years at hard labor by Judge Cornelius J. Harrington in Criminal court on Aug. 8, 1935, for the killing of Mrs. Dunkel's son-in-law, Ervin Lang, a 28 year old grocery clerk.

Strangle Lang, Dismember Body.

Lang was strangled to death and his body dismembered with hacksaw and knives in Mrs. Smith's apartment in Chicago on July 6, 1935. Judge Harrington ordered that the women be locked in separate cells on July 6 every year to spend that date in solitary remorse.

Mrs. Dunkel had planned the murder, it was shown at the trial conducted before Judge Harrington without a jury, because of jealous hatred when she learned that Lang had become attentive to another woman nine months after the death of his wife.

Mrs. Smith, a blonde laundress and former burlesque dancer, confessed that she strangled Lang after he had been drugged into unconsciousness in her apartment, where the victim had been lured by Mrs. Dunkel, who left before the crime was committed. With the help of Harry Jung, her Chinese paramour, Mrs. Smith threw Lang's body into a swamp near Hammond, Ind., and hid his legs in a tree trunk near Munster, Ind.

Work in Shirt Factory.

Mrs. Dunkel would be 104 years old, and Mrs. Smith 106, before they could plead for parole.

In the reformatory, each woman works half a day in the shirt factory. Mrs. Smith works the rest of the day in the laundry, and Mrs. Dunkel in the hospital. Miss Helen Hazard, the superintendent, said the women are healthy, and their records are good.

As each woman sits alone, she may brood on the words of Judge Harrington: "This punishment will be a deterrent to crime and an admonition to criminals that you are suffering a living death, tortured by your consciences."

JULY 4 RITES IN AFRICA LED BY EISENHOWER

ALLIED HDQ. IN NORTH AFRICA, July 4 (AP).—Gen. Eisenhower presided today at special Fourth of July ceremonies attended by French and British officers.

A British royal navy warship, by order of Adm. Andrew Browne Cunningham, fired a 48 gun salute. Ceremonies commemorating the day were held wherever Americans were stationed in North Africa.

French editorialists recalled the role the French armed forces played in bringing the American revolution to a successful conclusion and the American assistance given to France on two occasions when that country was threatened.

High army, navy, and air force officers gathered under the palms at allied force headquarters for the brief ceremony. Gen. Eisenhower said: "The Declaration of Independence was made good 167 years ago after a long and bitter war. The three nations involved are now represented here. Unhappily they were not on the same side in that war but today we are marching side by side to defeat an enemy which is trying to destroy everything our Declaration of Independence stands for."

Envoy Standley Is Host at July 4 Fete in Moscow

MOSCOW, July 4 (AP).—Americans in Moscow observed the Fourth of July today at an open house given by their ambassador, William H. Standley. They drank a concoction they called "Cuba librasky"—a Cuba libre with vodka substituted for rum. Among the Americans present were Capt. Edward V. Rickenbacker, here on a war department mission, and Arthur Hays Sulzberger, publisher of the New York Times.

LUCAS EXPLAINS BILL FOR VOTING BY YANKS IN '44

Plan Hearings After Congress Recess.

vote. The commanding officers shall be responsible for the collection of same, when marked and sealed, and also for their being mailed. Ballots shall have priority in mailing, microfilming, transmission, and delivery. The ballots shall be micro-filmed and processed the same as other V-mail."

The bill would not preclude voting under the regular absentee voting system of any state.

Urges Coöperation.

"My thought in connection with this extremely important measure is to make it easier for the soldiers to vote in the coming election," said Sen. Lucas. "They will feel more tightly bound to their home communities and their own families, if the officers of the army and navy will enter into this with the same spirit as the officials of an election precinct.

"These boys in the armed forces are willing to represent us and perhaps die for us. They should be made to feel by their superior officers that they are good enough to help us back home to have the kind of government they want. In the hands of these fighting men is the destiny of America. They will determine what kind of a world we should live in. Not only their bullets, but their ballots, should help determine the destiny of this nation.

Hearings to Be Held.

"My thought is that both political parties must be represented fully, adequately, and honestly, on every ship, every island, every continent, where our boys carry the Stars and Stripes. If every soldier and sailor in the armed forces is afforded the opportunity to vote without difficulty, then when the election is over, there will be none to criticize or prophecy something different, had the soldiers voted.

"I want to say that the bill is now before the committee on privileges and election. Hearings will be held as soon as the recess of congress is over. The bill may not be perfect in every detail. I invite members of the senate, or any other citizen of the country, who is interested in this bill, to study it with the view of making constructive suggestions to the end that there will be no question about the soldiers failing to have the opportunity to vote."

A 3,000 PER CENT ERROR.

The editor of the American magazine says that he recently discovered that nobody had ever taken a national inventory and determined how much stuff of all sorts we had in America and what it was worth. He thought it was high time somebody was finding that out, and asked Harold L. Ickes, secretary of the interior, to get the answer for him. The self-proclaimed No. 1 curmudgeon submits a total of 12 trillion and 23 billion dollars. Ickes tells how he arrived at that number in the current issue of the magazine.

What all this shows is that the editor of the American magazine is badly in need of a research man to furnish him with the figures he needs or to tell him where to get them. It is untrue that an inventory of America has not been taken, and the value set down. The editor went to the wrong department in Washington. The department of commerce is prepared to answer just such questions, and the department of the interior doesn't know anything about it.

The figures Ickes gave the editor contain an error of about 3,000 per cent. The worst of sourpusses turns out to be the poorest arithmetician. The editor of the American magazine, his assistants, and his copyreaders deserve some fitting recognition for the high order of the mistake which got by them.

For ready reference, the national wealth figures can be found in table 334 in the 59th number of the Statistical Abstract of the United States, published by the department of commerce in 1938. There is set down the wealth of the country in summary as shown by each decennial census from 1850 to 1900, and for the years 1904, 1912, and 1922. The figure for 1922 was 320 billion 804 million dollars. No later surveys of wealth have been made by the census bureau.

The federal trade commission in response to a senate resolution adopted in 1923 made a report in 1926 running to 381 pages on the national wealth and income. The commission fixed the wealth of the country at 353 billion dollars. This figure differs by about 10 per cent from the census bureau valuation for the same year.

Since 1922 a number of private agencies have estimated the wealth of the country at from 350 billion to a little more than 400 billion in 1929, and at something less than 300 billions in the depression when the price level carried total valuations down. Thus the national industrial conference board fixed the total wealth in 1929 at 354 billions, 289 billions in 1933, and 322 billions in 1937. The Notre Dame bureau of economic research, in a study by the Rev. Edward A. Keller, determined that the physical assets of the country were worth 410 billions in 1930.

There is variation in these figures, but all of the authorities seem to agree that the property of all of us taken together, together with our mineral resources, our streets, our schools, our churches, and all our other assets are worth around 400 billion dollars. In the face of these figures, Mr. Ickes says the wealth of the country runs into trillions of dollars. In the American magazine article he makes the figure 12 trillion and some odd billions of dollars.

Ickes arrived at a figure 30 times larger than any reached by the experts by placing a valuation of 10 trillions 980 billion dollars on the coal reserves of this country and its possessions. He gets that figure by applying to the estimated amount of coal under ground a price of $2 per ton.

Coal hoisted to the surface and loaded in cars has been worth an average of about $2 per ton during the last five years, but the largest part of that represents labor cost. And there are other costs. The coal itself in the ground in the mines now operated isn't selling for very much.

The mines being worked are the ones where the labor cost is the smallest. It would cost a lot more than $2 to bring to the surface the bulk of the coal resources, which Mr. Ickes says are worth $2 a ton. If labor cost is over $2, and the finished product sells for only $2, then the raw material isn't worth anything. Consequently, the bulk of the coal reserves of the country at the present time are worthless. They may be worth something centuries hence, but not here and now.

The federal trade commission in its report for 1922 placed a valuation of 11 billion dollars on the coal reserves of the country, adopting figures of the coal commission. The trade commission report said "these estimates of the coal commission greatly exceed those of the bureau of census and are probably high." Mr. Ickes took these figures which looked excessive to the federal trade commission, multiplied them by a thousand, and now says that's what our coal is worth. His figures for iron and oil are wild exaggerations of a similar nature, which no responsible person informed on the subject would accept for a moment.

There is wealth enough in the ground, which, if extracted, would make everybody rich. Likewise, there may be enough fish in the sea to give every inhabitant of the earth 10 thousand dinners, but it takes labor and capital in the form of equipment to catch the fish and cook them.

If Mr. Ickes wanted a really big figure, why didn't he speak of the wealth in the ocean? About nine years ago chemists began to extract gold from the sea. They found that there is 4 quadrillion dollars' worth of gold in the oceans, and in addition large quantities of silver, radium, tin, iron, nickel, lead, and other minerals, equal to nearly 2 million dollars for every man, woman, and child in the whole world. Every one is a millionaire. When the 4 quadrillions of gold and the other quadrillions or quintillions of other metals are taken from the ocean, Mr. Ickles' figures on the national wealth will be correct. But not until then.

The seriousness of the Ickes article arises from the fact that he uses his fantastic figures to talk down the seriousness of the national debt, which is already over 140 billions, is rising by the hour, and will be above 200 billions by the end of the present fiscal year. He offers phony figures on wealth to those who "are complaining that the war is going to bust us and that we shall leave our children penniless." The fact is that the war will be a burden for years to come, and that in less than a year the government mortgage will be more than a 50 per cent lien upon all the wealth the people of the country have created and saved since the settlement of the continent began. We shall be able to bear this terrific load and survive only if we recognize it for what it is. It does no good for a public official to misrepresent the situation as Ickes has done.

SOVEREIGN NATIONS.

Sen. Vandenberg and Sen. White, Republican members of the foreign relations committee, have introduced a resolution which would put the present congress on record as favoring "the participation by the United States in post-war coöperation between sovereign nations to prevent, by any necessary means, the recurrence of military aggression and to establish permanent peace with justice in a free world."

The end sought is, of course, one which every citizen of the United States desires, if means can be found of accomplishing it. The resolution is chiefly commendable, however, for its insistence that the participants in any such action shall act as sovereign nations. It resists the heavily financed propaganda of the Roosevelt Democrats and the Roosevelt Republicans to bring the republic to an end.

A post-war world organization, if by organization is meant some super-government that goes beyond the consultation and coöperation of free nations, is something that cannot be contemplated seriously. Disregarding other defects in Union Now, that scheme does not contemplate a world organization, but merely a sort of alliance or commonwealth of nations, confined to the so-called western democracies, in which Great Britain and the United States would be the principal partners. Like any other alliance, it could not fail in time to arouse the enmity of the nations excluded from it.

A world super-government must presuppose the membership of China and Russia, among others. China has never had a national government in the modern sense. Its present generalissimo, despite his admirable qualities of leadership, could not hold his nation together long if he did not command the American subsidy. When this is withdrawn, as it will have to be when peace comes, nobody can predict what China will become. Its record, however, does not invite the supposition that it will remain unified under a strong central government.

Stalin, the absolute, personal master of Russia, is in his sixties. American support has been a powerful factor in keeping him in power. Even presuming that he can hold on after the peace, his years are numbered. Nobody can be sure what will happen when he dies. The European dictatorships are young. None of them has yet had to meet the problem of succession.

We can assume that the British people, with their long experience in parliamentary government, will recover as much freedom as they yielded when they subjected themselves to dictatorship in this war, but it is quixotic to expect any change in the essential nature of the British empire. Will the empire be willing to stop beating its Indian subjects?

After viewing these instabilities within the constituent parts of a super-government, how is it possible to imagine any stability in the super-government itself?

FALSE TO THEIR OWN GODS.

With the usual hue and cry, the anti-trust division of the department of justice a few days ago indicted a number of corporations and individuals engaged in producing various compounds of the rare metal, titanium. The charge is that these companies and some of their officers were engaged in a conspiracy with German, Japanese, British, and other foreign business men to restrict distribution and control prices. Among the defendants in this case are the National Lead company and E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co.

We know precious little about titanium and nothing about the business practices of the defendants. We know a good deal, however, about the anti-trust division of the department of justice. The speciality of this division is smearing. Of late it has been devoting much of its attention to companies which, like National Lead and du Pont, are playing a leading rôle in meeting the nation's war needs. As has been remarked before, the company that gets an army and navy "E" for distinguished service to the nation can be regarded as in line for an indictment. The smearers are determined that American industry, under private management, shall not emerge from this war with credit.

The department of justice these days is stumbling over its own feet. It damns American business men for exchanging patents with European business men and it also damns isolationists. The department is far more isolationist than the isolationists. The bright young men in the anti-trust division are seeking to prevent Americans from taking advantage of the inventions of foreigners and would deprive foreigners of any of our scientific discoveries. That is nationalism carried to an absurd extreme.

They are inconsistent at another point. As Mr. Gilbert Montague of the New York bar explained in a recent address, the practices which they now call criminal were approved by the Supreme court "in a succession of decisions in which precursors and stalwarts of the New Deal such as Justice Holmes, Justice Brandeis, and Justice [now Chief Justice] Stone had concurred."

The young zealots are false to their own internationalist and New Deal gods.

Editorial of the Day

HOOVER LOSES HIS PLANE SEAT.

[Jackson (Miss.) Clarion-Ledger.]

Ex-President Herbert Hoover is mentioned in the news again, but the story isn't particularly important.

Mr. Hoover reached Denver by plane from Chicago, en route to Salt Lake City.

At Denver, a transport pilot took over his seat on the basis of war priorities and the ex-President had to finish his journey by train.

The story does not reveal the nature of Mr. Hoover's business in Salt Lake City. Even without knowing this, however, most readers are probably confident it was more important to the nation's welfare and the war effort for the transport pilot to get to Salt Lake City that fast.

"How're we doing—but don't tell me," remarked one of the Fuehrer's tame astrologers to another who was skimming the late headlines.—Detroit News.

THE MEN OF HONOR.

The first words of the Declaration of Independence, "When in the course of human events it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another," are so familiar that almost every adult American can quote them with a passing mark in accuracy. But what of the last words? You never hear them mentioned, and yet they carry the greatest thrill in the document:

"For the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor."

* * *

Our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor: A sufficient answer, one would think, to the propagandists for "Union Now."

* * *

Honor as a code of conduct seems to have been dropping out of fashion, especially in political life, where it has been largely replaced by expediency. Consider how often it was discussed in the literature of the past, and how seldom it is mentioned in the writings of today. The last novelists who often based their themes on the sense of honor were Henry James, who died in 1916, and Joseph Conrad, who died in 1924.

* * *

"Honor" occupies about 70 per cent of a column in Webster's dictionary, but the definition which provides the best reading is:

"A nice sense of what is right, just, and true, with course of life correspondent thereto; strict conformity to the duty imposed by conscience, position, or privilege."

* * *

The sense of personal honor is a virtue of individualism, and to certain spokesmen for the group-conscience [see the career of Mr. Hitler] it is obsolete. Yet the words and works of the Signers still lead the way for this republic.

AMERICA, OUR NATIVE LAND.

By Pilgrim fathers blest,
Who left their homes beyond the sea
At duty's stern behest,
Still Pilgrims may we ever be
To bear aloft the light
Of loyalty and liberty,
Of reverence and right.

America, our native land,
God made thee wondrous fair,
And that thy beauty may abide
Be this our earnest prayer:
Let honor ever be thy boast,
Let courage still be thine,
And on the pathway of thy years
May faith forever shine.

America, our native land—
O, God, still bless our State.
Thru all the years that are to be
May goodness make her great.
May truth forever be her law
And justice her success;
Then all the earth shall learn Thy name,
The Lord of Righteousness.

Confession of a Reformed Riveter.

A short time ago the defense work fever caught up with me and I tried my skill at riveting in an airplane factory. I had watched riveting in boiler shops and on skyscraper skeletons and thought it quite easy. Besides, I have been more or less associated with flatheads and roundheads all my life.

But I soon found that an airplane rivet is full of idiosyncrasies; some have to be kept in an icebox to keep their heads from swelling. Also, the inspectors are more exacting than a pasha with seven tails. Even the back of the rivet that no one ever sees has to be just so wide and high.

You insert the rivet, press the gun against it, and turn on the air. Then you discover what an ornery cuss a rivet really can be. Its head gets marred, scratched, flattened, squashed, serrated, lopsided, crooked, or oblique. The inspector gives it a red mark and you have to drill a hole in its exact center and snip it out. But who can find the exact center of a scrambled egg?

So I am back home raising mushrooms.

INDEPENDENCE DAY.

I would be independent and
I gladly undergo
A lot of regimenting just
To keep on being so;
I get along with rationing,
I seldom use my car,
I shiver in the wintertime,
And that's not all, by far;
I regularly buy war bonds,
And meekly bow my neck
When taxes bite a brutal hunk
From each and every check;
I'll watch them take my only lad
As soon as he's eighteen—
His independence means a lot—
He's strong, and tough, and keen;
I swear somewhat when Hopkins says
Civilians need to suffer,
For by and large I'm just a sort
Of ordinary duffer;
But I feel vastly better since
That bright June twenty-five
When congress made it widely known
That freedom's still alive;
And I'll put far more vigor
Into each loud "Hurray!"
With independence won again
This Independence day!

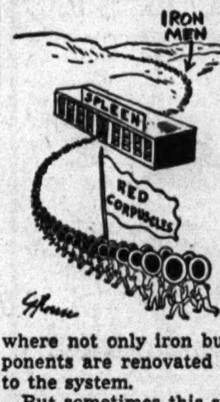
WHEN THE SPLEEN GOES ON A RAMPAGE.

OF ALL our vital organs, the spleen remains a mystery. Long known as the cemetery of the blood corpuscles, it plays an important rôle in salvaging the materials of which they are made.



The average life of an erythrocyte [red cell] is 25 to 30 days. But these worn out carriers of oxygen are not thrown upon the dump pile. They are sent to the spleen, where not only iron but other components are renovated and restored to the system.

But sometimes this structure misbehaves—as in hemolytic jaundice, Banti's disease, Gaucher's disease, etc. In consequence, it may become engorged. Altho this mass of tissue is probably not the chief offender in these maladies, nevertheless, to permit it to remain within the body is to aggravate a condition which in time may filch life. Fortunately, removal may be accomplished without danger.

* * *

In so-called familial jaundice we are dealing with an inherited tendency. Here the blood elements are destroyed far too quickly. As a sequel, the spleen becomes swollen, a severe anemia ensues, and gallstones may form. As a rule, the first sign of trouble is enlargement. Abdominal discomfort, due to the demand for more room, may call attention to the disorder.

We know that obstruction within the liver is not responsible for this type of jaundice because the stools do not lose their color. Anemia increases gradually and the red cells become extremely fragile. The remedy of choice is surgery.

Another annoying ailment is purpura. Tiny areas of bleeding are noted beneath the skin and the mucous membranes. They may vary in size from a point of a pin to the palm of the hand. One variety is characterized by marked reduction in the number of platelets [tiny oval constituents of the blood]. Girls are affected more often than boys. The patient complains that the slightest blow will cause a discoloration to develop.

While medical treatment is advocated, it may not always succeed. But it is well to employ a nutritious diet, guard against fatigue, and utilize large doses of iron and liver. Now and then relief will follow the eradication of focal infection.

* * *

Here again, extirpation may bring about a spectacular recovery in chronic cases. As soon as convalescence is established, the percentage of platelets is augmented, finally reaching approximately a normal level. Altho minute bleeding spots may appear later, serious hemorrhage will be rare indeed.

With such a reliable procedure immediately at hand, there is little excuse for allowing illness to drag along to the point where the sufferer is in danger. The same may be said of Banti's disease, the basis of which is not understood. Help must be forthcoming before stomach hemorrhages occur. Damage to the liver may place the patient in jeopardy.

In some respects, at least, this organ may be considered about as essential as the appendix or the tonsils.

No. The main factors are environment, nutrition, and exposure. When the disease appears in families, it is because the same conditions have influenced parents and children alike.

HOUSECLEANING FORMULA.

Olney, Ill., June 30.—The home front seems to be in a bad way, resulting from bad generalship, overlapping authority, fourth termers, left wingers, incompetents filling important posts, so-called economists, professors and half baked lawyers taken from law schools before they ever stood before the bar of a court to practice. It is high time to clean house and reorganize.

When the bright and starry eyed boys set up the OPA they carefully refrained from freezing all prices and wages, and eliminated labor and farm products from their calculations, probably for political reasons. This has caused untold confusion in the economic life of the country.

First of all, let the President get rid of Harry Hopkins and his other New Deal advisers who have led him astray so many times. Let him forget his political ambitions and direct his energies toward solving the domestic problems at hand, rather than the global problems to follow the war.

Next, fire all the professors, so-called economists, left wingers, future planners and half baked lawyers, and replace them with a few men of experience and sound judgment, who know something about the matters with which they are dealing.

Appoint Ex-President Hoover to the entire control of the raising, distribution, price and control of food, and clean out the OPA from top to bottom. The army and navy could doubtless use with more or less profit some of the young men there employed.

Next, replace Madame Perkins with some one from the ranks of labor, or who has had experience in dealing with the problems of labor, and instead of six or eight overlapping agencies having control over labor, let that control be exercised exclusively by the department of labor.

Abolish the overlapping of authority. Give each man a job and the complete authority to do that job. Eliminate all the useless New Deal bureaus and their tax eating personnel, and over all let Jimmy Byrnes preside as a coördinator of their several efforts.

DONOVAN D. MCCARTY.

PRAISES GOV. GOODLAND.

Chicago, June 30.—We can recognize the changing sentiment in the American people day by day. The most recent display of real interest in the welfare of the American people and their constitutional rights was capably put forth by an honest and fearless public official, deserving of commendation, when he denounced the OPA's Gestapo tactics in the state of Wisconsin. Acting Gov. Goodland is rightly trying to perpetuate the American rights of the American citizens embodied in our Constitution.

Could a burocratic form of government be lasting in America [not ignoring the pretext of war] if more Americans asserted themselves and their rights? A constitutional form of government will not impede our war effort, but it will suppress the New Deal slant toward a new utopia so essential to a totalitarian pattern. It's encouraging to know the New Deal termites can not dupe every one into accepting all of their programs.

THEY HANG ON.

CARL HENRY.

VIRGINIAN SALUTES WISCONSIN.

Louisville, Ky., July 1.—The courage and American principle shown by the governor of Wisconsin in guaranteeing to citizens within that state their constitutional rights is like a light in the midst of heavy fog and gloom. His statement, coming as it did a few days before July 4, is like a new Declaration of Independence. Would that more governors might display the same courage in order that Americans might recover their inalienable rights, and this nation have a new birth of freedom under God, to live and let live, free from the unreasonable and unnecessary oppression of a fattened burocracy.

I am from Virginia, here on business, and only wish that our governor may have the courage to follow this splendid example.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR CRACKPOTS.

Crown Point, Ind., June 30.—I noticed in a recent news item that while in conference with a group of cattle feeders in Washington one of the long haired boys from OPA announced that there was no place in the present economy for cattle feeders.

Now the child isn't to blame. The man who put such people in responsible positions certainly cannot avoid that blame.

A MEMBER OF THE WAR MEAT BOARD.

WHAT DO THEY PLAY NOW?

Chicago, June 27.—The producers of "Mission to Moscow" have long been leaders in turning out propaganda movies. Their chain of theaters was also among the first to cram the patrons with picture after picture "glamorizing" foreign wars. They played the national anthem at each show to whip up more war enthusiasm among the audience, long before this country became involved. I wonder now if "The Star Spangled Banner" still precedes the showing of "Mission to Moscow," or have they more appropriately substituted the soviet national anthem?

CREDIT FOR MILITARY SERVICE.

Chicago, July 3.—[Friend of the People.]—I understand that soldiers and sailors who recently took examinations for engineer and lieutenant in the Chicago fire department will be given extra points to apply on their examinations in recognition of their services in the present war. Will you kindly inform me if this is true? A. S.

The civil service act provides that persons who were engaged in the military or naval service of the United States during the years 1861, 1862, 1863, 1864, 1865, 1898, 1899, 1900, 1901, 1902, 1914, 1915, 1916, 1917, 1918, or 1919, and who were honorably discharged therefrom, shall be given preference in certification for appointment in original entrance examinations, by having their names placed at the head of the list of eligibles.

In promotion examinations, however, the law provides that such persons shall be given an additional credit of 1 per cent on the basis of 100 per cent for each six months or fraction thereof of such military or naval service, but that no person shall be given such additional credits in promotion examinations for more than 18 months of such military or naval service. The law further states, however, that such additional credit shall not be computed so as to increase or decrease the rating alloted to any person competing in such examination for ascertained merit [efficiency] or seniority in service. Therefore, in accordance with this portion of Sec. 10½ of the act, the credit for each six months or fraction of service for those passing the examination for lieutenant [fire department] will be .6 of one point. For the promotion examination for fire engineer, .7 of one point for each six months' service. The maximum credit that could be allowed for lieutenants would be 1.80 per cent; for fire engineer, promotion, 2.10 per cent. The credits vary due to the different scopes of the examinations. J. H. OSBORNE,
Secretary, Civil Service Commission.

BIRTH CERTIFICATE.

Chicago, July 1.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Please tell me to whom I should write for a birth certificate.

A. C.

Usually the first step toward obtaining a birth certificate is to get in touch with the county clerk at the county seat of the county in which you were born. For a Chicago [city] birth after 1939, apply at 54 West Hubbard street; for all other births in Cook county, apply at 160 North La Salle street.

If the clerk doesn't have the record, ask him about a delayed registration. Illinois has liberal provisions for delayed registration but Indiana does not. If your record is not available, and cannot be supplied, you cannot get a birth certificate. The alternative is to try to induce prospective employers, etc., to be satisfied with such church records, Bible entries, etc., as you can supply.

RENT INCREASE.

Chicago, July 1.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—For years I rented a three room apartment, charging $9 a week, furnished. When the tenants moved the furniture was no longer usable. I decorated and refurnished and added refrigeration, which cost more than $200. The entire expenditure amounted to $500 for the flat. I want $11 a week for it, which is reasonable. I made application to the price administration for the increase but did not receive an answer. O. Z.

In general, decoration and repairs do not justify a rent increase under OPA, but an improvement such as adding a room might justify an increase. If you feel that your facts are exceptional, take the matter up further with OPA.

Select the answers which you consider best. The last problem counts five points. Then look for the correct answers on page 14.

1. Which one of the following has no foot?
   River Hill Stairs Tree.
2. Certo would normally make a housewife think of which of these?
   Baking Washing Ironing Canning.
3. A person described as a towhead would have hair of what color?
   Black Reddish Brown Whitish.
4. If a pound of iron rusted completely, which one of these terms would most accurately describe its final weight?
   Less The same More Twice as much.
5. Which one of these words is inappropriate in this general grouping? Calumet Clabber girl Hershey Rumford.
6. Match the items in the left hand column with the words to which they belong, as listed in the right hand column. You deserve one point for each correct judgment.

[a] Black market [v] A scapegrace
[c] Black list [x] Bad luck
[d] Black cat [y] Illegal sales
[e] Black sheep [z] Refuse membership

Score yourself as follows: 0-2, poor; 3-6, average; 7-8, superior; 9-10, very superior. [Note—The last question counts five points.]

BEEF SHORTAGE JUST STARTING, RANCHERS WARN

Tighter Pinch Predicted in Six Months.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Denver, Colo., July 4.—With cattle population on the western range at the highest point since 1934, live stock men here foresee a curtailment in beef production which will alter the diets of men and women in military service as well as civilians.

The explanation of such scarcity existing in the midst of apparent abundance is found in the economics of beef production which government economists have failed to grasp or chosen to ignore, spokesmen for the live stock industry declare.

Shortages existing up to the present are merely a forerunner of the pinch to come which will be felt severely in another six months, live stock men predict.

Experts Explain Mechanics.

The mechanics of getting a pot roast or a beefsteak from the western grazing range to a dinner table in Chicago or an army mess hall in Tennessee were explained today by men who have spent their lives learning the beef business.

From the time a cow is bred on the range it takes 28 months to produce a steer or heifer weighing 750 pounds. To bring the animal up to a market weight of 1,000 to 1,200 pounds requires another 4 to 6 months in the feed lot.

Beef is produced at a much slower rate on the range than in the feed lot. The rate at which an animal gains weight in a feed lot is approximately three times faster than on the range. For the 28 months required to raise a 750 pound steer on the range, the equivalent production in the feed lot is 2,000 pounds.

Cattle on Range Increase.

Without normal feeding operations beef production will fall, altho cattle on the range are plentiful and increasing in number. That is the situation that exists today, cattle men said.

The cattle population has been rising for several years. At the beginning of this year there were 78 million cattle in the United States and the total is expected to reach 81 million by the year end, according to official government estimates. This compares with a cattle population 10 years ago of 74 million and 61 million on Jan. 1, 1930.

A substantial part of the increase is accounted for by the growth in the number of dairy cows and heifers kept for milking. In the 17 western range states today there are 23½ million beef cattle, excluding milk cows and heifers saved for milking. Cattle men disagree about whether the range is overpopulated, but there is agreement there is no shortage in beef cattle. Many range men believe that a liquidation of part of the herds is advisable.

Lost Tonnage Predicted.

But the liquidation of range cattle will not fill the nation's beef requirements, it is emphasized. The cattle will be marketed at lighter weights and at a great sacrifice of beef tonnage. The tonnage will be lost because the cattle cannot be fattened on grain in the feed lots of the corn belt, under present conditions. This is due to office of price administration regulations that make feeding unprofitable, cattle men assert.

Grass fattened cattle that go direct to market will be absorbed in a relatively short period, live stock men believe. They will come chiefly from the Flint hills sections of Kansas, the Osage region of Oklahoma, and from Montana. It is in these areas, where the grazing is particularly good, that cattle have the best chance of reaching a marketable condition without grain feeding.

At best, however, they produce a beef inferior to that which comes from the feed lots.

Movement to End in Fall.

The grass cattle movement which can fill part of the beef demand in the next few months will end in the fall. Thereafter the real shortage of beef will develop, it is predicted here.

There is certain to be a period early in 1944 after the grass cattle have been absorbed when a shortage of beef cattle much more severe than at present will cut the flow of meat to the army and civilians, it is said.

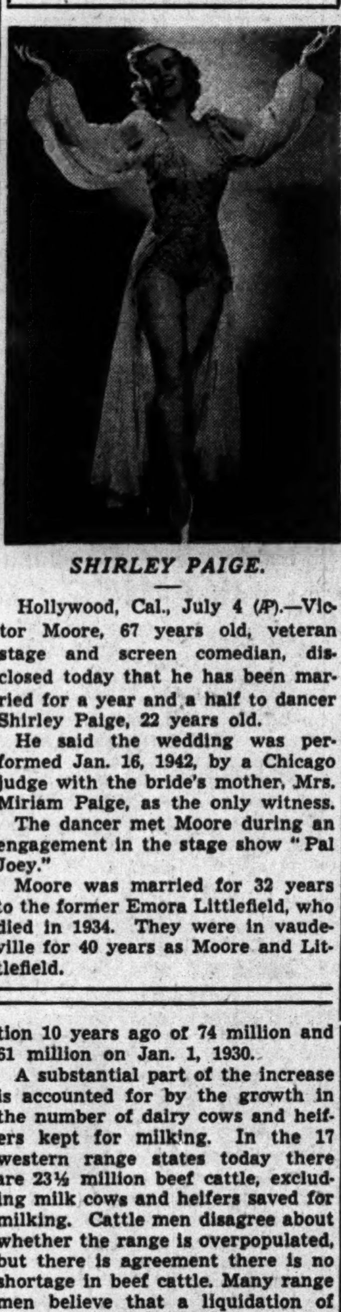
Should feeding be resumed on a large scale within a reasonably short period, which now appears unlikely, fat cattle from the feed lots would relieve the shortage later in the year.

"Consumers should not be misled by the figures on the number of cattle on the range," said F. E. Mollin, executive secretary of the American National Live Stock association, an association of range men. Mollin said that tonnage, not the number of animals, is the factor that determines the amount of beef reaching the consumer.

Range men emphasise they are not withholding cattle from the market. Grazing conditions determine the time to take cattle off the range. As long as the grass remains good and additional weight can be put on cheaply, the cattle are kept on grass.

At present grazing conditions in Colorado, Wyoming, and Montana are excellent. Grazing conditions are not as favorable in New Mexico and Arizona and certain sections of Texas because of dry weather.

Marriage Revealed



SHIRLEY PAIGE.

Hollywood, Cal., July 4 (AP).—Victor Moore, 67 years old, veteran stage and screen comedian, disclosed today that he has been married for a year and a half to dancer Shirley Paige, 22 years old.

He said the wedding was performed Jan. 16, 1942, by a Chicago judge with the bride's mother, Mrs. Miriam Paige, as the only witness.

The dancer met Moore during an engagement in the stage show "Pal Joey."

Moore was married for 32 years to the former Emora Littlefield, who died in 1934. They were in vaudeville for 40 years as Moore and Littlefield.

NYA ABOLISHED; 4,300 OFFICIALS LOSE THEIR JOBS

Washington, D. C., July 4 (AP).—The national youth administration as an operating agency is dead—eight years and three days after it came into being.

Aubrey Williams, its director, signed the death certificate in telegrams ordering cessation of work in some 500 communities, after congress completed legislative action on cutting NYA down to a $3,000,000 liquidation fund.

Williams said today his order affected 5,500 persons. All project supervisor personnel, numbering about 4,300, were dismissed, and the headquarters staff of about 600 was cut to what Williams called "a bare modicum of administrative personnel to wind up NYA affairs."

THIEVES STEAL CAMERA.

NEW PLAN DRAWN TO END CHAOS IN MEAT INDUSTRY

Board Revision, Changes in Ceilings Urged.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 4.—A plan designed to bring order out of the chaos reigning in the meat industry under the regulations of the price administration was submitted to the administration today by Rep. Walter C. Ploeser [R., Mo.] with the approval of groups representing all interests from farmers to retail dealers.

The program which Rep. Ploeser submitted to Fred M. Vinson, director of economic stabilization; Prentiss Brown, price administrator, and Marvin Jones, food administrator, embodies the following points:

1. Revision of war meat board to include industrial elements not now represented.
2. Establishment of retail ceilings at the roll-back level on all grades of dressed beef, except government graded AA, and ceilings on all other grades of beef, lamb, veal, pork, and poultry.
3. Establishment of a wholesale ceiling allowing reasonable profit markup for retailer and insurance to nonslaughterers of meat allocation.
4. Establishment of a slaughterer's ceiling price based on the cost of live animals and poultry, plus operating costs and shrinkages, with allowance for minimum profit.
5. Establishment of feeders' selling price ceiling on all cattle except those graded AA when dressed, and a ceiling price on stocker and feeder cattle and beef calves.
6. Protection for producers and feeders of cattle on their food costs—including government assistance where any deficiency exists in the proportionment of the over-all price range from producer to consumer.

"If we are to avert a tragic meat famine in a land of plenty; if we are to avoid disastrous economic dislocation and the gravest peril to the nation's health thru dietary deficiencies," Rep. Ploeser said, "we must immediately initiate a program which is fundamentally sound, which merits the support of all groups in the industry and in which the public can have confidence.

"We believe we have such a plan."

8 DIE, 7 IN FIRE, AS 2 CARS BURN AFTER COLLISION

Marienville, Pa., July 4 (AP).—Eight persons were killed today and two were injured in an automobile collision three miles south of here, state police reported.

Both cars burst into flames, trapping seven persons in one car and burning their bodies beyond recognition.

Corp. P. H. Winger of the state police identified the eighth victim as Mrs. Catherine Boland of Akron, O. Winger said an operator's license issued to Carl Melvin Wood of Ithaca, N. Y., was the only immediate clew to identification of the others.

DAY BY DAY ON THE FARM

The FARM by Ben Markland

July 4, 1943.

WHEN northern Illinois farmers planted their corn in early June they didn't expect the stalks to conform to the old saw of being "knee high by the Fourth of July."

As a matter of fact that standard is low for corn in this area. In good seasons field corn is nearer waist height than knee height by Independence day. This year, however, the May rains delayed the planting season so long that many farmers were doubtful that their corn would reach knee height by the Fourth of July. The growing season has been good, however, with periodic rains and alternating warm spells. The first corn planted on the Wheaton farm is just about knee high now, and later plantings are in stages of development varying from three inch sprouts to a foot high.

Crows Damage Crops.

The crow menace is regularly entering into farmers' discussions of crop prospects. The manager of the Wheaton place has a number of fields which were badly damaged by crows. Their attacks have been spotty, with bands of birds pulling up the kernels and sprouts in various fields. The farm manager estimates that the birds have consumed a total of three to five acres of corn.

In past years these damaged rows could be replanted, but the late planting season this year makes it improbable that substitute plantings put into the ground now would mature.

The gardener also has had crow damage to his sweet corn. The last planting of Golden Bantam [a 300 foot row] was barely above ground level when the big black birds swooped down on two successive mornings and consumed the entire row. A new planting of corn was made in the same row.

Gardener Gets Revenge.

The gardener got revenge on two of the crow raiders. He got up early the other morning, loaded his 12-gauge shotgun, and headed for the garden. There he found two of the black raiders feeding on a dead furbearer. A single blast from the shotgun accounted for both birds, and their bodies were suspended from a post in the center of the garden to serve as a scarecrow [1943 model].

In past years the gardener has found that crows will avoid a plot in which there is evidence that other members of their fraternity have had a little misfortune. They soon become accustomed to ordinary scarecrows, but the sight of one or two dead companions gives them the hint they need. The same trick is used by game bird-breeders when the nests of ducks and other birds have been raided by crows. One or two crows shot in the nesting territory makes the rest of the clan avoid that area.

★ The GARDEN ★

THE advantages of thoro garden cultivation are being proved this year in the two sample gardens on the Wheaton farm. The small plot, 30 feet long and 25 feet wide, has been cultivated entirely by hand tools. The large farm garden, which is more than 500 feet long, has a minimum distance of three feet between rows and has been cultivated by a rotary tilling machine powered with a gasoline motor.

Altho the cultivation of the smaller plot has been as complete as is possible with hand tools, the vegetables are considerably below the quality of those being harvested from the larger plot. When a comparison was made last week, the carrots in the large garden were almost twice as large as those in the small plot, and the beets also were considerably larger. Both gardens have the same type soil and were fertilized identically before being planted.

The garderer believes that the more efficient cultivating done by the power tiller is responsible for the heavier yields. This is made apparent when the soils of the two plots are compared. The topsoil of the small garden breaks into clods of one inch diameter when a hand cultivator is drawn thru it. The topsoil of the large garden, on the other hand, can be completely pulverized merely by drawing the heel of a shoe thru it. The loose condition of the soil in the large plot is attributed to more thoro cultivation.

Within reach—Keep your electric mixer in a convenient place so that it will be quickly available for the countless duties it performs.

Make it a point to assemble all ingredients before starting the mixer to avoid delays. And it is better not to try to do anything else while the mixer is working.

Shortening should be allowed to reach room temperature before creaming.

Mixing batter and dough—Overbeating or underbeating are often the cause of poor results. So be sure to pay close attention to the mixing time of the batter or dough.

Scrape down the sides of the bowl during the process of mixing. A soft scraper is preferred, since it can be used during mixing. If a metal spatula or a spoon is used the mixer should be stopped.

At the range—If your mixer has a portable beater unit, use the beaters right at the range for whipping potatoes, beating frostings, or mixtures right over heat. To release the portable unit, pull trigger under the motor and lift by the handle.

To mix in kettle or utensil in which food was cooked, take the turn-table off base of mixer and place kettle under the beaters.

Mashing potatoes or vegetables—Steam potatoes or vegetables until soft and drain off the water. Use low speed and lift the beaters up and down to chop food into bits. Add approximately ½ cup of hot milk for each 2 lbs. of potatoes or vegetables. Add seasoning. Turn the mixer to medium speed for 3 minutes and use a soft scraper on sides of container while the mixer is working.

Extend your butter ration—To make your butter ration go farther, mix well 1 lb. of butter with 1 cup of milk. This will increase the 1 lb. to about 1½ lbs.

To whip coffee cream or condensed milk—first place it in the freezing compartment of the refrigerator until it has a mushy consistency.

Making mayonnaise—Use your mixer for making mayonnaise and salad dressings, and extracting juice from fruits.

Remember to use your mixer for blending the ingredients of meat loaf, deviled eggs and sandwich fillings. To make purees, steam fruits or vegetables until very tender. Remove pits, if any, from fruit. Mix until it becomes a pulp. Then put through sieve.

BLAME IN FOOD CHAOS PUT ON 'OPA SOCIALISTS'

Cattlemen's Counsel Hits Agency Officials.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 4.—Hot and heavy debating of "the OPA crisis" featured Theodore Granik's American Forum of the Air, broadcast tonight from station WOL of the Mutual network.

Joe Montague.

Former Judge Joe Montague, general counsel for the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' association, placed the blame for the chaos in food production, rationing, and price fixing on the Socialists in the office of price administration.

"The officials of that agency," he said, "have proceeded on the theory or assumption that any individual or any industry that has operated successfully is per se evil and his or its operations must be changed and strictly controled.

Attack on Independence.

"These officials have assumed unto themselves the prerogative of a monopoly on patriotic sentiment and presume that any business man who tries to continue his endeavors is unpatriotic and must be curbed by regulation.

"Their activities have convinced native born Americans that they are deliberately using the terror of war to bring about a complete reconstruction of the social, economic, and political life of this country—probably of the world.

"The grand old patriots—who were essentially individualists—and who signed the Declaration of Independence, would turn in their respective graves if their descendants and successors did not resent and resist this deliberate and premeditated attack on the doctrine they expressed in their famous declaration."

Another New Deal Stunt.

Rep. A. L. Miller [R., Neb.] said that "The administration has tried very hard to persuade the American people that unless some of these things which the OPA has been trying to force down the throats of all of us, are done, we will have run away prices and high cost of living. Believe me, folks, this is just another New Deal boogyman. The fact is, that if these things are done we will have runaway prices.

"Our normal system of supply and demand in food is being so seriously thrown out of gear that unless it is straightened out immediately the whole OPA idea will collapse and prices will really go haywire."

"We should not call it the 'OPA crisis'—it is really the 'U. S. A. crisis,'" slammed back Rep. Will Rogers, Jr. [D., Cal.].

Assails Republicans.

"To me it is regretful that the leaders of the Republican party have allowed themselves to become the spearhead of this interference with our national economy. They seem to be working, not to check inflation, but to discredit President Roosevelt and the government officials who are laboring to protect 130,000,000 consumers against the greed and avarice of a handful of profiteers."

Russ Nixon, Washington representative, Congress of Industrial Organizations, United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, said that "the 'hate Roosevelt' crowd who have always opposed the progressive, social minded advances made under the Roosevelt administration are today taking advantage of all of the inevitable problems and complications we face in mobilizing this great nation for total war to achieve their traditional, partisan, reactionary political aims."

WAVE CAPSIZES BOAT; CHICAGO MAN DROWNED

Mario Massie, 54 years old, 706 South Kenneth avenue, drowned in Channel lake, seven miles west of Antioch, in Lake county, yesterday when a speed boat in which he was a passenger capsized. Three others were rescued by Cesare Molinari, 49, of 4539 Congress street, owner and pilot of the boat.

Lake county deputy sheriffs said Molinari told them his boat was engulfed by a wave churned up by another craft as he was making a sharp turn, dumping all five into the water. Molinari swam to the side of his wife, Anna, and held her up until life cushions in the submerged boat bobbed to the surface.

Then he assisted Paul Delliquadri, 43, of 4303 Flournoy street, and Charles Vitellaro, 38, of 4901 Erie street. The four clung to the cushions until other boatmen reached them and brought them ashore.

"The Spanish Lady"

By Maurice Walsh

Copyright: 1943: by Maurice Walsh

SYNOPSIS: Diego Usted, thinking he has only a few months to live, comes from his commando duties to the Scottish Highlands to visit his Uncle Hamish and his Aunt Ellen McLeod. Hamish is Gen. Harper's head forester. Diego has a run-in with the general on first sight but he makes friends with the general's young Spanish wife, Ann. When Diego goes to the Harper home to apologize to the general, he meets the rest of the family: the general's brother, Maj. Arthur, and his children, Henrietta and Charles. Henrietta tells Diego that every one hates the general but loves Ann. When Henrietta flirts with Diego, he kisses her. She tells him she may some day marry Larry, Ellen's son. Then Ellen spots the lipstick on Diego's handkerchief, and guesses about the kiss. He confesses. Larry comes home on furlough.

INSTALMENT XIII.

TUSSLE.

The next morning Larry McLeod and Diego walked up to Lodge Affran for dinner, giving themselves two hours for the four miles. Larry was not a spate talker like his mother, and mostly the two were companionably silent.

In time they came to the end of the wood, and looked down and across to the ugly stone house beyond the spread of lawn.

"We are not the only visitors," Larry remarked.

There were some people on the lawn. One of them Diego knew to be Henrietta, and a short man might be young Charles. There were two or three in uniform. Larry and Diego walked down the slope thru the open gates and across the grass.

Some one saw the two men coming. Young Affran lifted his voice in a clan skirl, and came hurrying across the lawn on short, sturdy legs.

"Hold it, Jimmy!" said Larry. "I want to find out how this fellow has lived. An old custom of ours."

He leaped into the air lithely and landed softly as a cat on the balls of his feet; he took two or three dancing side-steps right and then left, and went forward on his toes, his shoulders crouched, and his arms wide and low. Young Affran stopped a dozen paces away and thrust both palms forward in most urgent appeal.

"No, Larr, no! A new flannel bag and a Canon jacket—36 coupons. Stop it, blast you!"

"But 36 coupons, Larr? Have a heart!"

"Just the one mouthful, my darling!"

The two circled each other, sparring, feinting, ducking away cautiously and whirling again. Suddenly Young Affran charged in like a fighting bull, but Larry sidestepped, caught a flying wrist and pulled his opponent round in a timed swing that lifted him off his feet and should have rolled him over. But Charles spread his legs wide in the air and came down on his feet solid as a frog.

Larry was the taller by some inches, but Charles was the heavier. He tried hard, lifting Larry off his feet, but Larry grip-vined him smartly and came to the ground safely. The faces of the two were grimacing with strain and sheer berserk fury; this was a struggle to the death between two men who hated each other. Henrietta was circling round the vortex, holding her long skirt up with one hand, her eyes shining and intent.

"Watch your thigh, Larr! Charlie, if he gets a hand under!"

They strained again, staggered, tottered, came down on their knees breast to breast, and rolled over on their sides, shoulders, touching the ground at the same time.

Charles patted his friend's head. "Tough as ever, blast you!" he said cheerfully.

"Don't tell me it's busted?" implored Charles. He shoved Larry off and bent to examine the damage. Diego estimated that a round score of stitches would make that worsted trousers reasonably second-hand.

"Foolish to put them on when I heard you were home. All well! I saved the jacket anyway. How are you, old hoss?"

"Well, what's this?" said a young man in uniform.

"Say, you fellows, this is my friend, Larry McLeod, and his cousin, Capt. Usted." Charles introduced the young officers. Two were fresh-faced English lads, and the third was a Canadian Scot who looked and spoke like a New Englander.

The three of them would keep edging toward Henrietta. She was wearing a long half-formal dress of light pastel blue with short sleeves and a V-neck, and a dull-gold ribbon held her hair. She came to Diego's side and drew him across the lawn.

"Just using you as a stalking horse," she said. "What's wrong with me this evening?"

"Everything and nothing. Gold, amethyst, and fire! I withdraw anything I said about kissing."

"Very happily put, hidalgo, but we'll not take to kissing."

"Not as a habit. You owe me one."

"On the hand. When these cubs get a real eyeful of Spanish Ann made up gorgeous for you this evening, I'll not need you. There she blows!"

"Come, my children!"

"Alas! for my brief dominion," murmured Henrietta.

"Do not struggle for it," Diego told her.

They crowded in at the porch door. Maj. Arthur Harper, in a blue suit, was shoveling ice into a tall crystal jug. Ann Harper took Diego's hand in both of hers.

"But you are welcome in your best blue suit, Senor."

She went straight to Larry, took his hand and held it. "I am happy that you come so soon with your foreign cousin, Mr. Larry McLeod. Your father, him I love, and your great mother watches that I save my soul. But of her I am envious, having what I have not."

Diego understood that her envy was real. She, too, would be a matriarch and have one husband and ten children.

"Mr. Larry, you will drink this with me." She touched her lips to the brim and he bowed over the glass as he took it. Young Affran's feet were restless on the tiles, and Henrietta groaned.

Ann Harper filled the boys' and major's glass, but her own she only quarter filled. Suddenly Ann startled them by an agonized little shriek, and dropped on her knees at Young Affran's feet.

"O, my careless darling! Your beautiful new trousering!"

"It is nothing, Ann."

"Nothing? And there are stains of grass, too. O, the wrestling match! The custom is of old—it is good." She smacked a palm and pointed to ground-glass door at the side. "Go! Mr. Larry, and Charles with you. Washing will do you both no harm."

When they came back, Ann Harper was sitting on the arm of Henrietta's chair, sipping her cocktail, and her dark-green, heavy silk dress outlined the swell of one thigh and showed the length from knee to ankle. It was hardly just to the fair girl that the red woman should sit thus above her, for they were a complete contrast, and the contrast did not favor her. Just then Maj. Gen. Harper and his factor came in from the outside. Henrietta slipped her glass, not yet empty, into Diego's hand. The general's expressionless eyes went over them all, his head nodded and his short legs took him across to Larry, whom he started to question.

It was about then that a gong boomed inside the house. The general led the way into the inner hall. Ann Harper put a hand on Diego's arm, and gestured the others ahead.

The young people were watching the young Canadian. He was the only one who was not aware of the treachery of the barbarous skin rugs on the polished parquetry. Diego led the lady-of-the-house in careful tacks. Once, indeed, she trod on a treacherous edge, and the sudden grasp of her fingers on his arm sent a tingle thru him.

Henrietta said: "Keep your mouth shut, Charles. This is strictly business."

The Canadian half way across, took a confident short-cut across a huge bear skin, and a foot went. "O!" he said and made such a supreme effort for balance that both feet shot away in a complicated tangle; and the back of his head was reaching towards the parquetry when Larry with extraordinary agility snared him with an arm and swung him upright.

40 Skaters Escape Injury as Fiery Tent Top Falls

Forty persons skated away unharmed when the canvas roof of the Rollerway rink at Fifth and North avenues, north of Maywood, fell in flames on the floor early last night. Steve Seipp, the manager, said the fire started in the rear of the tent top, apparently caused by a cigaret.

300 Children Mark July 4 at Algonquin

Three hundred children at the United Charities' Camp Algonquin celebrated Independence day yesterday with a program that began with a parade and ended with ice cream. The paraders marched thru the wooded trails to the swimming pool, where much of the program was presented. Sun suits and shorts, traditional camping attire, were bedecked with red, white, and blue ribbons, flowers, and streamers. Several of the children were dressed as Indians. They carried balloons and flags, and used whistles and noise makers to their fullest capacities.

The 28 mothers in the parade made music with odd bits of kitchen equipment. A Mexican mother from South Chicago, vacationing at the camp with her nine children, beat a rhythm in march time with the tops of two pans.

Demonstrations of aquatic skill and buffoonery rivaled each other for the onlookers' applause. A highlight of the afternoon's program was crowning of the camp's queen, Miss Penny Bertenshaw, a Hyde Park High school senior, who is spending the summer at the camp as an aid. Two of the camp mothers, one from the Mother Cabrini federal homes, and the other from the Trumbull park federal houses, were her attendants.

The evening's festivities included entertainment by representatives of each of the camp's age groups. A group of 11 year old boys gave their version of the first day in an army camp. A satire on the rest hour was given by the 10 year old boys. There was tumbling, presented by the 9 year olds, and a patriotic sketch by those from 7 to 8. A girls' group performed a melodrama entitled, "The Mummy Walks." Another sang Swiss mountain songs.

Observance of the holiday is an annual event at the camp for underprivileged children on the Fox river. This year's celebrants were the first group to arrive for a two weeks' vacation, and when they leave next week others will take their places. Contributions from readers of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE help make these vacations possible.

Sally Receives New Pleas for Wheel Chairs

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Requests for wheel chairs continue to be numerous.

A case worker requests our assistance in obtaining one for Mr. B., an elderly man. He recently had both legs amputated and is now ready to leave the hospital. However, it will be impossible for the family to take care of him without a wheel chair. This man always has been very active, and permanent confinement to bed will be extremely difficult for him.

Mr. R. also has lost both his legs. A wheel chair is essential for him when he leaves the hospital. The family is not in a financial position to purchase one, because the father has been ill and unable to work for more than a year.

Another reader requests a wheel chair for Mrs. J., who lives on the south side. She is an elderly woman and has no living relatives. Her only income is a small old age pension, which just pays for her food and shelter. She has been ill and a shut-in much of the time in the last four years. Her left leg has been amputated, and because of her age and general weakness it is not possible for her to walk with crutches.

If any reader can provide a wheel chair for any one of these cases, we will be happy to arrange for transportation or to supply further detail.

Ration Budget Aid

Ephraim, Wis., Attracts Many from Chicago

BY JUDITH CASS.

RUSTIC Ephraim, Wis., a name which always brings up a picture of soaring bluffs and cool pine forests to those who have summered there, will have its usual quota of Chicago visitors this season. War time duties are cutting the vacations of many visitors to occasional week-ends instead of long lazy weeks, however. On Saturday the Ephraim Yacht club opened its season with a party for the young people, and by yesterday the club's normal hum of activity had been restored, with guests swarming the grounds for a patriotic regatta and tea.

Mrs. Herbert Sanborn, Mrs. Ralph Horween, Mrs. John Matter, Mrs. Chester D. Tripp, Mrs. Francis H. Hardy, and Mrs. Arthur Byfield were hostesses at the tea. Mr. Matter is commodore this year at the club, whose property is under the supervision of Charles Butler. The latter post formerly was held by Bob Davis, but this year Bob and his mother, Mrs. Warren T. Davis of Northbrook, spent only one brief week-end at the Anderson hotel before he had to register at St. Mary's college in Winona, Minn. for training before receiving his navy commission.

Malcolm Vails Hoping to Return for Vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Vail were up from Highland Park for an early summer vacation and hope to return to their Ephraim home later in the season. "Huckie" Vail and Ralph Horween will not have much chance to skim their boats around Eagle Harbor this summer, as they soon will be entering summer school at Culver Military academy.

The road leading to the late Dr. Frederick Stock's home has a new mailbox this summer, for after two years of struggling with construction difficulties the Lawrence Schwabs of Kenilworth finally were able to complete their stone house. By now they are installed at Ephraim.

When the Francis Hardys arrived in the village a few weeks ago, they found their vegetable garden well under way and a substantial flock of young chickens already beyond the downy stage, thanks to the cooperation of a neighbor. Miss Ann Hardy, who recently completed her first year at Mt. Vernon seminary in Washington, D. C., will be on the debutante list for the coming season. Recently Miss Eugenia Lynde of Winnetka was her house guest at Ephraim.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Ranney have arrived at the Homestead in Hot Springs, Va., for their customary summer visit.

Howard Goodmans Attend Daughter's Wedding in East.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Goodman of University avenue were in Williamsburg, Va., on Saturday for the marriage of their daughter, Jean, to Chaplain Samuel E. Stumpf, lieutenant [j. g.], U. S. N. R. The ceremony took place at 4:30 p. m. in the historic Christopher Wren chapel at William and Mary college, with Miss Peggy Goodman as her sister's maid of honor. The bride, a June graduate of Wellesley college, has enrolled for courses at William and Mary while Lt. Stumpf completes his training there at the navy chaplains' school. He is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Louis Stumpf of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Mockler of Wilmette announce the engagement of their daughter, Marguerite, to Sub-Lt. Kenneth W. Forbes, Royal Navy Volunteer Reserve, of London, England. Miss Mockler, who is called "Peg," has been in business in New York. She met her fiancé when he visited there. She attended Northwestern university and the Tobé-Coburn school of fashion. Miss Mockler's parents are expecting a visit from her later in the summer.

Pvt. C. Radford Van Ness will leave today for his army air force post at Westover field, Massachusetts, after a visit with his wife, the former Anita Smith, and their new son. The baby, born on July 1 in Passavant hospital, has been named for his father. Mrs. Van Ness and her son will be staying with her parents, the Lawrence Dunlap Smiths, in Lake Forest when they leave the hospital. The baby's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Gardiner B. Van Ness, is spending the summer at the Glen View club.

Claiborne Bradley Leaving for Massachusetts Today.

Claiborne Bradley, son of Mahlon Ogden Bradley of Highland Park, is leaving today for Pittsfield, Mass., to spend July and part of August with his father's cousin, Mrs. Donald F. McPherson. He will be joined later in the summer by his sister, Anne, who will first spend a vacation in Cape Cod.

Mrs. John F. Schlotterbeck and her small daughter, Lou, of the Seneca hotel, have left for Washington to spend the summer with Mrs. Schlotterbeck's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Earhardt. If gasoline rationing permits, the family will go to Arundel on the Bay, Md., where the Earhardts have a summer home.

Lt. [j. g.] and Mrs. Robert F. Allen [Nanno Van Houten] have named their new daughter Nancy Sheffield after her great-great-grandmother. The baby, who was born on June 17 in St. Joseph's hospital, is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Eddy Van Houten of Chicago and of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Allen of Houston, Tex. Lt. Allen's wife and baby will join him in Port Chicago, Cal., as soon as they are able to travel.

Enjoys Racing Season at Chicago Tracks

Front VIEWS and PROFILES

BY MARCIA WINN

Little Tales of the Big Screen.

Hollywood, Cal., July 4.—Very little is impossible here. Very little, even nylon hose, is unattainable. The screen is omnipotent and ingenuity is triumphant. The story of the picture in which a few ducks were needed to complete a bucolic background is a splendid example of this.

The ducks were to stroll across a grassy sward on which a swain and his maid were making love. The ducks had been trained to do just that, and did. The only trouble was that as they waddled, they quacked merrily.

"Say," the director finally shouted angrily, "can't some one do something about those ducks? They make so much noise they cut out the actors on the sound track."

"O, you wanted my quackless ducks!" he cried. "Why didn't you say so?" And out of a box he produced three mute fowls.

Some time ago a studio needed a hippopotamus for a Tarzan picture. Few hippos are running around loose here, and they found it necessary to hire one from a zoo. For some reason they picked on the London zoo, which said the studio could hire the hippo at $50 a day and his keeper at an additional $50 a day. The studio demurred at paying such a salary to the keeper and said it had many caretakers able to care for the animal, which was to be used in only one scene. The animal came, without keeper, and a portion of beach at Balboa was roped off for the scene. The hippo was placed on a raft and pushed into the water. All went well except that the animal never emerged. The hippopotamus is one beast that cannot swim in salt water.

Then there was the movie publicist, a small, timorous man who had always held the movie industry in greatest awe. His very awe reduced him to such self-consciousness that he often made extraordinary mistakes. At last he died and was buried in Hollywood cemetery right next to the studio he served so painfully. A picture known as "Generals Die at Dawn" was being filmed the morning of his funeral and a scene requiring the waters of a great sea was being made on the waters of a great 40 foot tank, which then was on the studio's back lot next to the cemetery wall. On one side of the wall bells were being tolled for this gentleman, and on the other the sound tracks were waiting. Suddenly the director, outraged beyond measure, roared to his force: "Call up that cemetery and make them stop those bells! They're holding up production!"

Even the cemeteries here achieve extreme results. Not too long ago to be forgotten Hollywood cemetery hired a new press agent who came to his job full of merry optimism. He hadn't been there long when he began to tell his friends on newspapers a confidential story: Every Easter morning a woman dressed in black came to the grave of Rudolph Valentino to lay a wreath upon it. She was not his widow, he went on to say, and she was always heavily veiled. Soon every newspaper was aware of this confidential story, and on Easter morning a cameraman lurked behind every tombstone in the cemetery. The woman came. She was dressed in black. She carried a wreath. But when she was prevailed upon to remove her veil, she also removed all mystery. "I'm sick of this," she said angrily, and disclosed that the press agent had hired her from the central casting agency.

A gentleman named Harry McDermott is president of the Southern California Gaelic association. To reach him one must call the B'nai B'rith temple.

Conference on Care of Child in War Time Opens at U. C. Today

Problems of planning for the care of children in war time will be discussed at a week long conference opening at 9 a. m. today in Blaine hall at the University of Chicago. This morning's speakers will include William H. Spencer, regional director of the war man power commission; Louise Stitt of the women's bureau of the federal department of labor, and Hazel Fredericksen of the children's bureau of the department.

Helen L. Koch, University of Chicago child psychology professor, who will preside at the opening session, said the conference will be attended by social workers, home economists, health authorities, government officials, and others from all parts of the country.

This afternoon's program will be devoted to discussion of federal, state, and local resources to be tapped to meet problems of child care. Tomorrow morning's discussions will be given over to day centers for young children, and the afternoon to problems of control of standards and licensing of such centers.

Summer Things You Want Are Now on Sale

BY REA SEEGER.

While relaxing during this long holiday week-end, think of the important shopping events to come. The best summer sales, markdowns on what's left of smart clothes, start tomorrow morning. This is the time to snap up the available bargains—to track down that print dress, that cotton or thin wool suit or coat, that exciting hat that seemed a bit prohibitively priced in the beginning of the season. It may still be awaiting your jubilant ownership!

These summer sales cover all the summer showings, from underlayers to hats, gloves, and bags. Even the sports clothes and beach togs are pushed in with the rest of the loot offered at reduced prices.

This summer has a long hot way to go, before you'll need wools and furs, so snap up the cottons while they're here. Black sheers, linens, smart gingham and chambray suits, and the tropic flowered jersey and silk dresses can be worn for many a sultry day comfortably and in high fashion.

Big floppy hats, prim little piques, rough straws and the transparent sheers and horse hair braid are tagged with prices that are easy on depleted clothes allowances, and what's more, shrewd shoppers are buying these extremely wearable bits of millinery for use next summer. That same farsighted trick can be applied to summer clothes, too. Blouses, sweaters, slacks, sportsshirts, play costumes, beach robes and swim suits — in fact there's hardly an item worthy of the name of summer fashions, that isn't included in these long awaited July sales.

Architectural Designs Exhibited at Tavern Club

The second of a series of summer exhibitions of architectural designs has been hung by the art committee in the Tavern club. It will remain on view thruout July. Included in the "war and peace" show are ten black-and-white and color photographs of summer homes in Illinois and Colorado ranch houses and two designs in color of army installations in semi-tropical areas.

Defauw Closes Commonplace Ravinia Week

BY CLAUDIA CASSIDY.

The weather relented for Ravinia's first week-end, providing a handsome holiday Sunday and a Saturday evening when the rain at least waited until the concert was under way—tho once started it refused to abide by the bugler's intermission promise, "It Ain't Goin' to Rain No More." So Désiré Defauw had two sizable audiences to hear the last half of his summer engagement with his new charge, the Chicago Symphony orchestra.

Mr. Defauw chose the Franck Symphony in D minor for a Saturday finale, and the Beethoven Fifth as a "victory" symbol for the 4th of July. Oddly, considering his supposed predilection for French music, the Beethoven was the better of the two. At least it had a straightforward drive and a muscularity to indicate that Mr. Defauw subscribes to the theory that the odd numbered symphonies are the brothers of Beethoven's symphonic family. It was the best of the five symphonies Mr. Defauw has conducted for Chicago. The other four, the Franck among them, were undernourishing performances topped off by a whipcrack coda, much as you might offer a hungry man a fancy dessert to console him for not having had any dinner.

In general, the closing concerts underscored impressions of Mr. Defauw's conducting which have deepened into convictions. He is not a conductor with a sensitive ear for line, structure, and color, and he lacks the brilliance of style which can make of a fine orchestra an instrument so exact, so fluent, and so resourceful that music becomes a revelation and listening an endless voyage of discovery.

In his six Chicago concerts, Mr. Defauw has revealed no new aspect of beauty, has turned no suddenly beguiling phrase to enchant the ear. His "Schéhérazade" was marked by some fine solo playing, altho it was not Mr. Weicher's best day, but in general it was a commonplace performance, shorn of the magnetism of sustained story telling, even as the "Fire Bird" he conducted last April at Orchestra hall. His way with the Franck Symphony lacked the long line of cumulative crescendo, and was muddy in string texture, relying on the splendor of the brass to pull it thru.

The wonderful music from "Salome" was on the voluptuous side, and good enough so far as it went, but it might almost have been written by Johann, not Richard. Mr. Defauw made it pretty Strauss, with no hint of the jangled horror, the quivering nerves, the diseased mania that runs thru the "Dance of the Seven Veils," as thru all the grisly and magnificent score. Johann Strauss himself was conducted bandmaster style, in the "Wiener Blut" waltz, and De Falla's "Three Cornered Hat" lost its sultry languor and came off best in the crisp drive of the farruca.

In his two listings of American music, Mr. Defauw made what seemed perfunctory choices, neither rewarding. Roy Harris has done better work than "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," and William Schuman's "American Festival" overture is scarcely more than an arid exercise in composition.

However, tho the concerts were disappointing, the orchestra is tuned up after its holiday, and has for the plucking the ripe sound of a superb instrument. When Mr. Defauw let the music take its natural course, there was some beautiful playing, and there was friendly applause. If you missed the "tusch" Saturday night, that was because the orchestra wisely has decided to apply Orchestra hall custom to Ravinia, which means that the fanfare, highest honor in the orchestra's power to bestow, will be awarded only on occasions of the highest distinction.

Aviation Cadets at U. of C. Put on July 4th Program

Independence day might have been subtitled Joseph H. Spear day at the 4th of July celebration at International house, University of Chicago. Not only did the Pan-American council's director appear as guest speaker, but, as spectator, Mr. Spear saw himself portrayed in an original comedy skit which several of his friends among the aviation cadets at the university contributed to the late afternoon program. The Joe Speark of the playlet was seen coordinating inter-American affairs in a strenuous local bout of diplomacy. Cadets Karl Hendrickson, Ray Gladstone, and Robert Knapp were among the players. Pvt. Walter Kircher sang.

Women in War Work

By Kate Massee

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Miss Hazel Watson, room registry director at the loop Y. W. C. A., helps Pvts. Chuck Wasserman (left) and Jack Teller find living quarters for visiting relatives.

"Soldier and young wife to room registry for living quarters . . . Five WACs in for showers . . . Four navy nurses, en route to west coast, wanting to rest for a few hours . . . Girl from Peoria for room registry . . . Two sailors wanting room for sister, who arrives next week . . ."

These excerpts, jotted down on the record by an information desk hostess one Saturday afternoon at the loop center Y. W. C. A., 59 East Monroe street, give a hint of the extent of the week end hospitality services being offered to men and women in uniform, not to mention their sisters, their cousins and their aunts!

The "Y" became aware several months ago that not all service men who descend upon the loop are looking for dance bands, food, and games. It soon was learned that many men merely want a pleasant place where they can drop in with relatives for a quiet chat and rest. Others want desperately to find housing accommodations for their wives or mothers. The Y. W. C. A. loop center is now offering them this hospitable service. An especially cordial invitation is given to WAVES, WACs, SPARS, members of the marine corp women's reserve, and army and navy nurses to make the loop center their headquarters for relaxation and beautification.

The room registry, which is a citywide housing service specializing on supplying lists of desirable rooms in private homes in all parts of Chicago, is facing a tremendous summer time increase in the demand for rooms.

"We thought we had a busy month last December," said Mrs. Miette Cummings, director of the service department, "when we had 238 applications. In June the number was 1,284, and that number did not include those persons who telephoned for general housing information. The total number of applicants for rooms since Jan. 1 is 4,790, more than half of whom were service men."

Mrs. Cummings makes a plea to housekeepers who have rooms to rent, either on a permanent or transient basis, to list them with the room registry. Volunteer workers who can give some time during the day or evening also are vitally needed. They visit the rooms listed and also serve as receptionists and assist with clerical work. Women interested in this important home front service are asked to call Mrs. Cummings or Miss Hazel Watson, room registry director, at Franklin 0760.

More than 41 million dollars worth of war bonds have been sold since January, 1942, thru organizations affiliated with the Jewish group of the women's division of the war finance committee of Cook county. In making the announcement, Mrs. Louis L. Mann, chairman, said that at this time last year the group had sold only 2 million dollars worth of bonds, so that nearly 40 million dollars worth have been sold in a year's time. Several women's organizations have also conducted drives to buy bombers.

Mrs. Mann said that the amount had been realized at no cost to the treasury department, since members of the volunteer committee did all the work, including secretarial assistance. Vice chairmen of the group are Mrs. Arthur J. Baer, in charge of files; Mrs. Max Sachs, head of special events, and Mrs. David Wodlinger, who compiles the monthly statements.

Two sisters, Lillian and Dorothy Scher, were sworn into the WAC simultaneously the other day at recruiting headquarters, 166 W. Van Buren street. Both joined they said, because they "want to feel they have a real part in the war." Lillian is eager for overseas service and wants a role in the rehabilitation of Europe when the conflict is over.

Lillian is a graduate of the University of Chicago, and before her induction was a high school teacher in Port Huron, Mich. Dorothy was an assistant at the Woodlawn branch of the Chicago public library for some time prior to joining the WAC.

The young women are two of the five children of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Scher of Dorchester avenue. One son is in the army.

[This department reports on women's war activities and answers questions regarding such activities.]

Urban League Secretary to Speak at Sheil School

The Tuesday evening class on "The Negro in America" at the Sheil School of Social Studies will have A. L. Foster, executive secretary of the Chicago Urban league, as guest speaker tomorrow night. Mr. Foster will discuss "Job Opportunities for Negroes." Mrs. Madeline Morgan will preside. The school, offering 24 courses of study during the summer quarter, is conducted at the C. Y. O. center, 31 East Congress street, and is open free to the public.

Miss Neumann Is Married to G. G. McKinley

Mr. and Mrs. William Robert Neumann of Greenleaf avenue announce the marriage on July 2 of their daughter, Helen Jean, to Ensign Gilbert Gage McKinley of the navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold McKinley of Elmhurst. The Rev. Fred Harrison of the First Congregational church of Elmhurst read the vows in the west room of the Edgewater Beach hotel, and a dinner was given afterward in the Berwyn room. Ensign McKinley took his bride on a wedding trip to northern Wisconsin, and later they will be at home in Miami, Fla., where he is stationed. The young McKinleys met while attending Elmhurst college, from which both were graduated.

Mrs. Clem Fulmer of Mishawaka, Ind., and O. E. Tronnes of Lake Shore drive announce the marriage on June 23 of their daughter, Jean Elizabeth Tronnes, to Capt. Edmund George Cook Jr. of the army air forces, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cook of Bay Village, O. The ceremony took place in the post chapel at Randolph field, Tex. Capt. Cook and his bride are graduates of Miami university at Oxford, O., where she was beauty queen in her sophomore year. He and his bride will live at Randolph field, where he is an instructor.

Mr. and Mrs. Mel J. Stevenson, formerly of Chicago, announce the marriage on May 31 in Albuquerque, N. M., of their daughter, Ann Huston, to Maj. Lloyd Walter Powers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Powers of Greenwood avenue. The former Miss Stevenson, who attended the Art institute of Chicago, recently made her home with her sister, Mrs. Edward T. Bryant of Greenwood avenue. Maj. Powers, a graduate of the University of Chicago, has taken his bride to Brownwood, Tex., to live.

The marriage of Miss Marjorie Marienthal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Marienthal of Ellis avenue, to Pvt. Donald Hugh Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Walker of Erie, Ill., took place on June 13 in Rabbi Louis Mann's study, with a wedding dinner following at the Windermere East hotel. Pvt. Walker is stationed here, and he and his bride are at home in Cornell avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Hedges of Granville avenue announce the marriage of their daughter, Frances, to Sgt. Robert F. Shields, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl B. Shields of Hazel avenue. The wedding took place on June 17 in the Granville Avenue Methodist church. Sgt. Shields recently returned from two years of active duty in Pearl Harbor, Midway, the Solomons, and New Guinea. He is a graduate of North Central college. The former Miss Hedges attended Northwestern university. Sgt. Shields and his bride have gone to Lake Geneva on a wedding trip.

The marriage of Miss Dolores Hohner of Chicago to Sgt. Frank Begale Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Begale of North avenue, took place recently in St. Mary's church, Tomah, Wis. Sgt. Begale and his bride are living in Tomah, where he is stationed.

Looking at Hollywood . .

By Hedda Hopper

Hollywood, Cal., July 4.—Met Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Gould, editor of Ladies' Home Journal, and their daughter on "Destination, Tokyo" set. Found Cary Grant and a couple of youngsters—one was Bob Hutton and the other Bill Prince. Bill comes from "Eve of St. Mark" on Broadway. He toured a season with Harry Carey in "Ah, Wilderness." He's sensitive, has great feeling for acting. I don't wonder movies puzzle him. He was playing an interne on a submarine. Told Comdr. Grant one of the crew had to be operated on for appendictis. Says he, "I'm only a pill pusher—not a surgeon. Never operated before, but the kid will die if he doesn't have one." He's ordered to perform the operation. A scene like that takes a bit of doing. And just as they were ready to shoot it the cameraman ordered perspiration on his face. Glycerine was squirted on from a flit gun. Cameraman said, "I only want it on his forehead and upper lip." By the time the scene was ended, I'd have let the kid do an appendectomy on me.

Slapstick.

On next stage Ann Sheridan was getting some rough treatment from a bunch of comedy cops, with Bob Murphy a singing sergeant, in "Shine on, Harvest Moon." Bob's giving so many parties at the house of Murphy for the gang he'll be out of pocket on the picture, but he's sure havin' fun. Annie, with an 18 inch waist and padded hips, is black and blue from those old ironsides, and for a change, would like a good dramatic part where she doesn't have to be manhandled. . . . Leroy Prinz, who put the boys from "This Is the Army" thru their paces, was rough on them one day. Some even complained. The colonel came to Prinz and said, "Do you know what the boys are saying about you?" . . . Prinz: "No, what?" He was told. Whereupon Leroy yelled: "Ha! that's nothing! You should hear what they call YOU!"

Idea Free.

Since Bruce Bairnsfather has a new book called "Jeeps and Jests" out, wonder why Columbia doesn't bring old Bill up to date with Bairnsfather's latest, and star Charlie Coburn in it? He made old Bill famous. . . . Marjorie Rinaker, from Chicago, has written a play about Sarah Bernhardt which is being considered for Luise Rainer on Broadway. . . . It's a tossup whether Kay Aldridge will come back and work for Metro or marry Johnny McClain. . . . Eddie Arnold says Hollywood is seeking a fifth freedom—freedom from B pictures. . . . Frank Craven will be a grandfather any minute now. . . . Dorothy McGuire, meeting a tall, dark good looker at the airport the other day, would introduce him to none.

Smart Idea.

They're making many prints of "This Is the Army," aim being to send it overseas and show it in occupied countries as soon as our troops take over. . . . The scene President Roosevelt laughed at most in "Stage Door Canteen" was Ed Wynn explaining the workings of the place to a soldier: "Here actors wait on you. Down in Washington there's a canteen where congressmen do it. Gee, I'll bet the boys starve to death there! You know how long it takes a congressman to pass anything!"

Fighting Irish.

Pat O'Brien will do three this year—"The Iron Major" which he's on, "His Butler's Sister" with Durbin, and "Marine Raiders." He'll try to spend week-ends with his family at Del Mar. They've moved down. Son Shawn, age 7, refused to go by train, insisted upon riding beside the driver on the truck which moved them. Pat said the most frequent expression heard among our men in the Caribbean area was, "I'm Just Jungle Jolly." . . . Jane Wyman, riding in a crowded bus, reached into her pocket and felt a grab at her wrist. A man standing next to her said, "If you weren't so pretty, I'd turn you in," as he removed her hand from his pocket. . . . Jerome Zerbe, New York society's pet photographer, is in Australia with the United States navy. . . . Henry Hull plays the American in "Life Boat."

Summer guests, many of them the out-of-town variety, have a way of popping up periodically. Luncheon and supper parties often must be given in their honor, and our ration books will take a beating unless care is used in planning menus for these affairs.

Light summer luncheons are easily planned around nonrationed foods. Molded egg salad, a delicious blend of chopped eggs, celery, green peppers, pickle relish, pimiento, gelatin, and mayonnaise, might serve as a main dish, with sliced tomatoes and cucumbers, potato chips, and hot cinnamon rolls rounding out the menu. A cottage cheese and raw vegetable salad, attractively arranged by surrounding a mound of cottage cheese and chives with groupings of green pepper circles, sweet onion rings, fluted cucumber slices, tomato wedges, and waffled carrots, would appeal to a group of waist watchers. Serve with nut baking powder biscuits, lemonade, and fruit shortcake. Equally appealing to calorie counters are fruit salad plates crowned with sherbet balls in interesting color contrasts.

Other point-free luncheon entrees are such dishes as hot macaroni, green pepper, and pimiento loaf with tomato sauce [made with fresh tomatoes], or nut loaf with fresh mushroom sauce. Serve with a fruit or vegetable salad bowl or crisp jellied salads.

Hearty buffet suppers and dinners at which men folk are to be entertained present more of a problem. But with unrationed fish, eggs, and chicken from which to choose, we're off to a good start. Chicken is well liked and versatile enough to be used in many casserole dishes which will stretch one or two chickens to serve a crowd.

Fresh shrimp has never ending possibilities. Serve it to your guests creole or gumbo style, making the creole with stewed fresh tomatoes instead of the canned variety. Or combine with hard cooked eggs, green peppers, mushrooms, and cream sauce, and serve in toasted bread cases or on toast points.

Scallops are delightful company fare. Saute them or make into fritters. Combine with rice and shrimps and you'll have a southern seafood specialty. This interesting casserole dish, rich and well seasoned, serves six:

Seafood Casserole.

1 cup small scallops
2 eggs
2 cups boiled rice
1 cup cooked shrimp
2½ tablespoons finely chopped onion
2 tablespoons fat
⅓ cup tomato catsup
½ teaspoon celery salt
1 teaspoon curry powder

Combine liquid from scallops with slightly beaten eggs. Add rice, scallops, and shrimp. Brown onion slightly in fat and add catsup, celery salt, and curry powder. Stir into rice mixture. Add extra salt, if necessary. Pour into greased shallow baking dish and bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees Fahrenheit, about 30 minutes or until firm.

Trophies of Guadalcanal Fighting Put on Display

Trophies taken from the Japanese on Guadalcanal—an officer's sword, a rifle and bayonet, rubber sniper's shoes with split toes, a helmet, coins, and good luck tokens—have been placed on display at the Central-Uptown OCD community headquarters at 945 Wilson avenue. Most of the articles were taken by Capt. H. D. Albertson, 25 years old. He sent them home to his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Albertson, 4702 N. Malden street, shortly before he was killed in action on last Nov. 23.

Two Apron Patterns

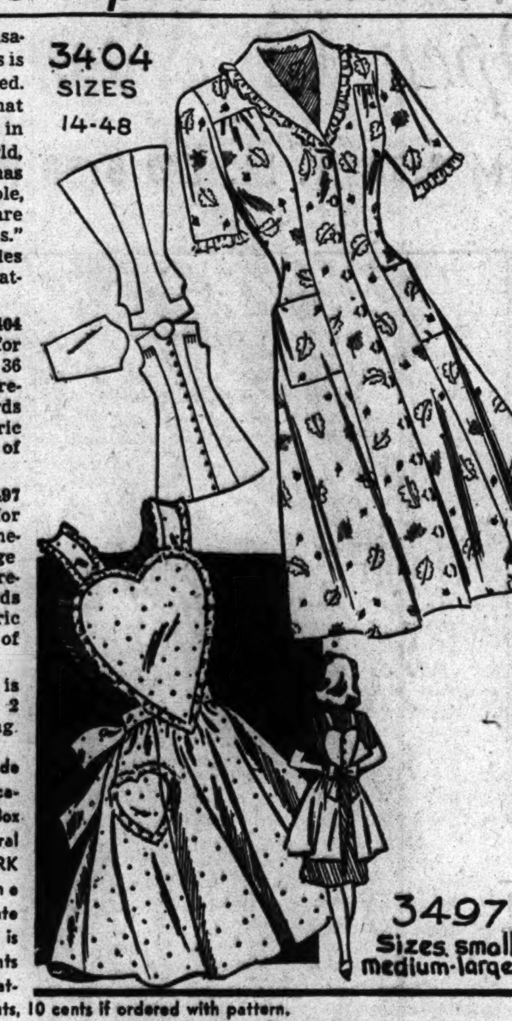
The indispensability of aprons is well established. No matter what her other roles in a war time world, every woman has a household role, too, and these are her "uniforms." Both these styles are useful and attractive.

Style No. 3404 is designed for sizes 14 to 20, 36 to 48. Size 36 requires 4⅜ yards of 35 inch fabric with 1⅞ yards of ruffling.

Style No. 3497 is designed for sizes small, medium, and large Medium size requires 2¼ yards of 35 inch fabric with 3 yards of ruffling.

Each pattern is 10 cents, plus 2 cents for mailing.

Order Clotilde patterns from Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY. Print name and address; state size. Each pattern is 10 cents, plus 2 cents for mailing. The pattern book is 15 cents, 10 cents if ordered with pattern.



According to Culbertson

[Copyright: 1943: By Ely Culbertson.]

It is a remarkable fact, observed many times in this column, that the most dogged bidders are the very players who should be conservative because they are unable to play their dangerous contracts to the best advantage. Today's deal is another illustration of this point.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 diamond	1 heart	1 spade[!]	Pass
2 clubs	2 hearts	3 no trump	Pass
Pass	4 hearts	Double	Pass
Pass	Pass

Perhaps South was encouraged to keep on bidding by reason of the fact that he had not "run into trouble" with his first two bids, or perhaps he was just indulging in a wild game-saving measure. Whatever his reason, his four heart bid opposite a partner who had passed consistently, was an example of outrageous "pressing."

West's bidding was shrewd. His initial spade response, of course, was largely psychic; he was "building the hand up" for no trump play and therefore bid spades, first, to discourage a spade lead and second, to keep the opponents from bidding the suit. West's hand was amply strong enough to protect this psychic, i. e., if, by chance, East had strong spade support and raised persistently, West would always be able to overcall in no trump.

West opened the diamond queen, then shifted to the club king. A second club was ruffed by declarer, who promptly laid down the heart ace and queen. West won with the king and cashed the heart jack, then shifted back to diamonds, leading the jack and 10. Declarer ruffed, and with only one trump left in his hand aimlessly led a low spade. West ducked and East's blank queen won the trick. Now, on a club return, declarer ruffed with his last trump, and, as a consequence, he could not make a single trick in spades. The upshot was that he took only four tricks, all trumps, and thus was down six for an 1,100-point penalty.

Curiously enough, the defenders had benefited by East's failure to ruff two spades as he could have. That line would have given East-West eight tricks. As against this, however, declarer could have saved no fewer than three tricks by laying down the spade king, instead of leading the low trump. East's blank queen would have been smothered, and, as a consequence, declarer would have taken three spade tricks instead of none. Moreover, despite West's bid of spades, there was no possible reason for not laying down the spade king, and, as may be seen, an excellent reason for making that play.

TODAY'S $5 PRIZE RECIPE

Spiced Prune Ice Cream.

1 14 ounce can evaporated milk, or 1½ cups day old coffee cream or top milk
1 teaspoon unflavored gelatin
1 tablespoon cold water
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
⅛ teaspoon cloves
⅛ teaspoon salt
2 cups cooked, pitted prunes, slightly sweetened
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup finely chopped or ground nutmeats

Scald milk or cream, whichever is preferred, and dissolve in it the gelatin which has been softened in the cold water. Set aside to cool. Add spices and salt, and chill until set. Whip until thick and light and add chopped prunes, brown sugar, vanilla, and nutmeats. Turn into freezing tray of automatic refrigerator and freeze until firm. Mixture need not be stirred during freezing, except to prevent prunes from sinking to the bottom.

Parents Should Not Argue in Front of Child

[Copyright: 1943: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

I don't belong to the school which believes a child cannot grow up to create a happy marriage unless he has witnessed that fine thing in his own home between his parents. At the same time I do believe that discord makes children more miserable than husbands and wives know and tends to threaten a child's sense of security. So if you value the immediate emotional welfare of your children, don't descend to bickering before them.

In unity is strength, and it's true in a family as well as in a nation. So, present a unified front to your children, a front which is united in the intelligent understanding way.

Children must have faith in both of their parents. But if those parents constantly differ before the children, if mother says "No," and dad says "Yes, why shouldn't they? You're too strict," how can children have that secure feeling?

One, the most common, is that they are at odds with each other in their hearts. Something has aroused an antagonism between them, and it expresses itself in this quarreling over the children. By gaining favor with the children thru indulgence or by openly belittling each other, they give vent to their acrimony.

The other reason, much less common, is a sincere difference of opinion about the children's training—unwisely shown before the children. The latter is much less harmful, and these parents can more easily break themselves of the habit. They can, perhaps, read together and thrash things out when the children aren't around.

The former, tho, the parents emotionally involved, must try to straighten themselves out. They must do it for the good of their children. And if they can't quite accomplish that, they can, at least, resolve to stop wrangling before their boys and girls, and work things out together.

Order STEWARTS in Advance

FOR Freshness:

Be sure you buy fresh coffee by leaving your order for Stewarts with your grocer. No stock of Stewarts Coffee will stand on your grocer's shelves. Instead, freshly packed coffee will reach your grocer at least once a week. Buy only a pound at a time. He will announce the day—so take advantage of this special store service for guaranteed freshness!

Instead of using 6 tablespoons for 6 cups—use just 4 of Stewarts. This will give you 25 to 30 EXTRA cups of delicious, full-flavored coffee per pound! The fancy aged Sumatra coffee in the Stewarts blend gives you better-tasting, more satisfying coffee while you make each pound go ⅓ further. Get this added coffee enjoyment by ordering Stewarts from your grocer today!

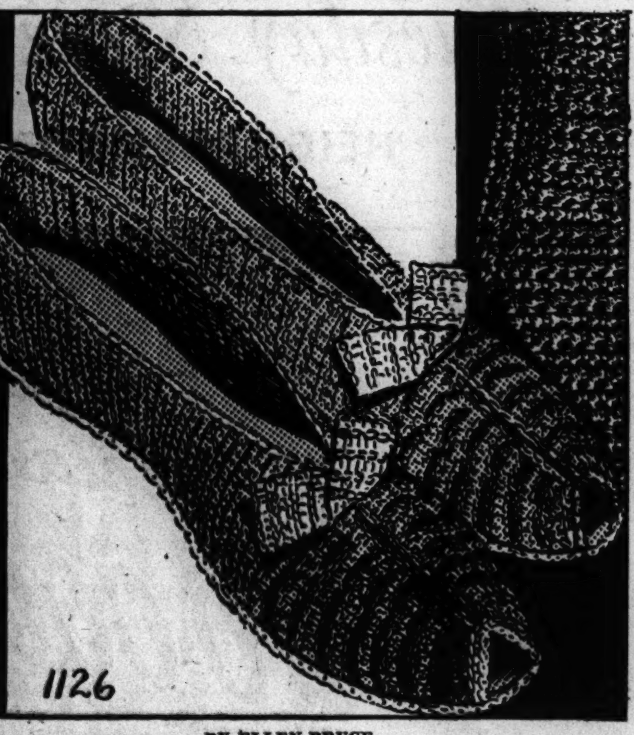
Crocheted Play Slippers



BY ELLEN BRUCE.

Crocheted slippers are a boon to every person "around the house" or during play time. Often more comfortable than leather shoes and equally durable, they are easy to create and attractively trimmed with crocheted bows.

For instructions in crocheting the play and house shoes, No. 1126, send 10 cents in stamps or coin, plus 2 cents to cover mailing cost, to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MACKAY

New Approach.

Women have been won by jewels and furs and motor cars; they have been wined and dined and decked with flowers. But the young man walking along Monroe street at the rush hour with a white collar girl the other evening had a new approach. "How would you like to see some steaks in a window?" he asked significantly.

Why, O Why?

"Why do people waste their nickels and dimes calling numbers of which they are not sure? [Nine times out of 10 it's at the boss' expense.] We get at least 20 calls a day for another company just because their number is similar to ours. Never again will I guess at a number and hereby resolve to look it up and make it register!"

Feminine Firsts.

The first Salvation Army lassie in Chicago was Elizabeth Williams in 1885. . . . Pauline Gower is commandant of the women of air transport auxiliary and head of the women of the ferry pilot service in England. She was the only woman appointed by Kingsley Wood to serve as a member of the committee investigating flying over populous areas. She ran an air taxi business before the war. . . . The first telephone operators in Chicago were boys, and I'll wager you didn't know that. . . . And I'll wager you didn't know that in the long skirt era there was a Rainy Day club which campaigned for short skirts for rainy days and considered itself in the vanguard of feminine progress. . . .

The first British woman doctor of science was Dr. Sophie Bryant. . . . The first woman to sit in the Canadian parliament was Mrs. L. C. McKinney. . . . The first woman whose name appears on any railroad's pay roll, according to Marion Talbot Stevens, is Susan Morningstar, a charwoman employed by the Baltimore & Ohio railroad in 1885. Today there is a woman civil engineer, Olive Donnis, who designs railroad bridges and is the B. & O.'s engineer of service. And there is a woman president of the Rock Island Southern railway, Lucy Rogers Walsh. . . . The only woman I know who has been private secretary to 10 governors was Clara Olson of New Mexico.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

If you're in the mood for war and still more war, you'll find "Two Tickets to London" an interesting little war time melodrama—excellently acted, directed, and photographed.

What's it about? This:

The British freighter Lucky Star was torpedoed by a German U-boat—torpedoed thru the aid of somebody aboard the Lucky Star.

Dan is taken into custody, but escapes, with the aid of a lovely night club singer, Jeanne, whose husband, an English flyer, has been killed, and who, with her little son, makes her home with a lovable old couple, the Tinkles. . . .

Jeanne had had a brother, too—who'd gone down with the Lucky Star. When she learns the nature of the accusation against Driscoll, she turns against him—refusing to believe his assertion that he is only keeping under cover that he may track down the real traitor. . . . Just the same she loves him—and her love flies to his rescue at just the right time. . . .

Household Forum

By Louise Bargelt

Mrs. Edward B., Chicago—A damp vase was placed on a mahogany table in our library by one of the children, and it left a sad looking white ring. I took some light household oil and mixed it with a scratchless scouring powder. This "polish" did the work, and the mark disappeared.

Mrs. Patrick J., Des Moines, Ia.—If you ever want to remove any green and tarnished spots from your copper pieces, here's a mixture I have been used successfully for many years. I dissolve as much salt into ordinary vinegar as it will take up and then make a paste of this by adding some flour. I brush this on—and the tarnish comes off. Then I rinse well with clear water, and polish briskly.

Mrs. Will K., Chicago—For a year now I have saved my hands by pushing a piece of steel wool into one half of an old rubber ball. You get plenty of pressure, clean and scrub with steel wool, and the soft rubber of the ball protects your hands.

Mrs. Fred Anderson, New York City—If you ever get just plain tired of the beams in a ceiling, try painting them the same color as the walls—and forgetting them. Personally I like a beamed ceiling, but some friends of mine grew weary of their "beams" and the effect was just what they wanted.

Now—Please—Your—Idea.

D. A. R. Head Asserts U. S. Policy Must Be One of Preparedness

In a special Independence day message addressed to the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution from Constitution hall in Washington, D. C., Mrs. William H. Pouch, president general, reaffirmed the society's stand on military preparedness in defense of peace for this country in the post-war world.

The women of the country whose sons are fighting in another world war, Mrs. Pouch declared, "want to be sure the supreme sacrifice has not been made in vain." They are not willing, she asserted, "to rely upon promises, nor upon international police forces. They can only pray for assurance that freedom and liberty will be preserved by American force if necessary, and Americans must be prepared to use that force." Peace pacts and "so-called international police forces" will not provide security for the United States, and this country must "never again scrap its navy or tear down its great armaments for defense," she said.

"If we had been a little more 'militaristic' for peace in the past," Mrs. Pouch added, "what happened at Pearl Harbor might never have occurred. If we adopt a policy of preparedness for peace in the future, we will have a better chance for preserving the peace won at such great cost."

Thru the Looking Glass

The material, man power, and delivery shortages are being felt keenly by the dry cleaners these days. In some places they are refusing evening clothes, deeming those unessential. In others they do what they can with the help they have and the customers must be patient.

Here are ways you can preserve your clothing, so that it need make less frequent trips to the cleaners:

Above all, use a deodorant or antiperspirant so that your clothing will remain unstained and free from odor. Be meticulous about this. Lots of times, when clothes don't actually need cleaning, they must be sent out to remove the odor of perspiration. If you're careful enough to use shields or the right type of preparation, perspiration odor won't be a problem.

Lipstick stains around the neck of a dress are a dreadful headache to cleaners—and can be avoided. Just cover your mouth with a piece of tissue every time you pull on or remove a dress. It's an easy habit to acquire. Did you know that thousands of dollars worth of merchandise is damaged in shops each month by women's failure to cover their lips when they try on dresses?

You'll notice that your dresses soil first across the shoulders in back and along the neckline, both back and front. A light fabric shield between skin and dress is easily tacked into the back of any dress to prevent that soil smudge across the shoulders. Using a liquid skin cleanser, the nongreasy kind, a couple of times a day, on the neck, particularly in the back, will keep the neckline of your dresses immaculate for an infinitely longer time.

Then, of course, there is the good, old fashioned system of brushing and airing your clothing after use. It's like magic in preserving the freshness and long life of most items in your wardrobe.

Curiously enough, all the little things you do to help relieve the pressure on the dry cleaners' facilities are helpful to your own day in and day out appearance. Grooming, after all, consists of countless little tricks of fastidiousness performed regularly.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

The Arlington Park Jockey club will climax its Independence day week-end program today with the $50,000 Stars and Stripes handicap in which Mrs. Payne Whitney's Devil Diver, king of the eastern route runners, will match his speed against the best horses which have been campaigning in the Chicago area. A crowd of 35,000 is expected to jam Washington Park to watch the holiday card, proceeds of which will be turned over to war relief societies and local charities.

John D. Allen, president of Arlington Park, and Benjamin F. Lindheimer, executive director, have announced 50 per cent of the returns will go to the Community Fund, 25 per cent to the Service Men's center, and 25 per cent to the Red Cross. The management of the track has chosen the biggest day of the season for the charity program.

Whirlaway to Appear.

Whirlaway, the world's leading money winner, originally had been scheduled to make the Stars and Stripes handicap the first major objective of his 1943 campaign in defense of his championship. Tho his racing career terminated abruptly last week, he will make a farewell appearance today. He'll come out on the track for a brief ceremony, in which his owner, Warren Wright, will accept a plaque which will be hung over the door of Whirlaway's stall at Calumet farm.

A field of 15 has been named in the overnight entries for the Stars and Stripes, which is the first of five $50,000 stakes which will be run during the coördinated Arlington Park and Washington Park meetings. Devil Diver is expected to go to the post as a strong favorite in this run of a mile and an eighth, probably little better than even money.

Devil Diver Improves.

Devil Diver originally had been considered the better of Greentree stable's topnotch pair, but Shut Out stole the play away from him last season. This year, however, Devil Diver has developed as his handlers originally had expected, and he now rates the No. 1 position not only of his stable but also, temporarily at least, of the entire handicap division. He has won four stakes in his last five starts.

Among his chief challengers today will be Marriage, Best Seller, Sun Again, Rounders, Aletern, and the Louis B. Mayer entry of Thumbs Up and King's Abbey.

In the event of an overflow crowd arrangements have been made to accomodate the surplus in the infield. Access to this area may be made from either the clubhouse or grandstand sections. Mutuel betting machines have been set up back of the tote board for patrons who choose this location.

Hayes, Browns' Catcher, Called for Army Test

St. Louis, Mo., July 4 (AP).—Frank Hayes, catcher for the St. Louis Browns, has received his induction order and will report to Jefferson barracks Tuesday for an examination.

Our Independence.

The echoes of the bell whose early peal
Announced the birth of our own commonweal,
From out the past ring forth. And flags now furled,
In lands enslaved within a warring world,
Make eloquent each star and shining fold
In that bright banner we so proudly hold.

Dear is our native birthright, and we know
A freedom still untrammeled by the foe,
Because thru troubled years men have not spared
Themselves in time of peril, but have dared
To meet with courage danger's darkest frown,

Now in a seething world grown strangely small
We are concerned with justice due to all,
And on far fields our boys are battling still
To break the bondage of a foreign will;
For naught we prize secure and safe may be

First Flight.

Your letter came today; you're all aglow,
You've made your first flight now at last, it seems,
Your pen rushed thru the very words you wrote
Of this fulfillment of your boyish dreams;
The lift you felt when rising from the earth,
Your spirit, too, soared thru the heaven's blue,
"I can't explain it, Mom," you say to me,

Yes, son, I too, am thinking now
Of "first flights" made by you and all the rest—
Mothers of sons and daughters know full well
The first time fledglings shyly try their wings—
First premonition that too soon home ties must part,
Yes, son, I know and understand too well
What first flight means to every mother's heart!

BITHORN LOSES TO PHILS, 2 TO 1; LEE WINS 5 TO 2

Adams, Rowe Hit Home Runs.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, July 4.—The Cubs this afternoon got back on the victory track when Bill Lee beat Kewpie Barrett, late of the Cubs, 5 to 2, in the second game of a double header with the Phillies, after they had been derailed by Si Johnson, 2 to 1, in the first game.

The Chicagoans' winning streak ended at five straight with the setback in the first match, Johnson's third conquest of Hi Bithorn this season, but success in the second game, achieved despite homers by Buster Adams and Pinch Batter Schoolboy Rowe when the Cubs had only three runs, gave the lads a record of six out of seven on their trip.

Eighth Victory for Johnson.

In accomplishing his third 1943 success over the Cubs and his eighth in the National league in the first game this afternoon, the 35 year old Silas from Illinois held the Chicagoans to five hits, three of them by Clyde McCullough. Bithorn yielded only four hits in the six innings he worked and there was only one off Eddie Hanyzewski in the last two innings. But the Phillies really deserved to win because of Johnson's skilled work in the two jams which the Cubs precipitated and his general success in making the Chicago sluggers think they were hitting at an overripe cantaloupe.

Bithorn's loss in the first game was his eighth against eight defeats. Lee's success in the second game was his third of the year. The loser in the second game was Kewpie Barrett, recently released by the Cubs to Seattle. His purchase had not been announced here and his appearance this afternoon was planned as something of a coup. Barrett has now lost five National league decisions, has won none.

Triplett Doubles.

The Phillies made their victory runs in the second inning. Jimmy Wasdell, first up, walked, whereupon Babe Dahlgren lined a single to right, Wasdell reaching third on the hit and Dahlgren taking second on Bill Nicholson's throw to third. Coaker Triplett then knocked the first of his two doubles, scoring Wasdell and Dahlgren. Triplett moved to third on Charley Brewster's sacrifice, but was out at the plate on Mickey Livingston's grounder to Lennie Merullo. Johnson then struck out. Bithorn was in control all the rest of the time he was in the game.

The Cubs got a run in the seventh

SWIM ENTRIES CLOSE JULY 12

Tribune Event Scheduled July 17 and 18.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Boys and girls who wish to compete in the 14th annual 100 yard free style swimming races July 17 and 18 may do so without paying any registration fee. There never has been any charge for entering the races and The Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., pays the fee for contestants 16 years of age and over who are required to register with the Central association of the A. A. U.

Swimmers under 16 years of age are not required to register with the A. A. U. but they must be amateurs, of course, to compete in the races. There is no restriction on residence and in other years contestants have come from at least five of the central states.

Winners in 1942.

Pat Fisher of Elkhart, Ind., won the Class B title for boys 13 and 14 years of age; Al Stanley of Clinton, Ia., was the winner in Class C for those 15 and 16 years of age, and Robin Middlemas of Milwaukee, Wis., was the Class D champion which includes boys 17 and 18 years of age. Polly Givler of Naperville, Ill., the Class A champion, was the other out-of-Chicago champion.

The other 1942 champions were Joyce Johnson, Chicago, Class B; Alice Miller, Shawnee Country club, Class C; Marilynn Billquist, Skyline A. C., Class D; Barbara Ramser, Shawnee Country club, Class E; Arthur White, South Side Boys' club, Class A, and Stephen Grimm, Chicago, Class E.

Entries postmarked no later than midnight a week from tonight will be accepted for the trials. Individual entries may be made on the blanks which will be printed daily in these columns thru next Monday. Team entries may be sent in by the instructor, manager, or captain but the home address of each swimmer must be given as well as his age classification.

To Receive Souvenirs.

Each contestant, who proves his ability to swim 100 yards, will receive a bronze souvenir button. These probably will be the last to be awarded while the war continues but a sufficient supply of these remain from last year's meet for 1943.

Two team trophies will be presented at the finals in California park July 25. One is for the boys' team scoring the most points and the other is for the winning girls' organization.

42 Football Players Enroll in Notre Dame Summer School

Notre Dame, Ind., July 4 [Special]. —Forty-two navy, marine corps and civilian football players have reported for the summer session starting at Notre Dame on Tuesday, but, with one or two exceptions, there are no name players in the group save for Notre Dame stars themselves.

42 Players Present.

GUARDS—Capt. Pat Filley, Bernie Meter, a reserve on the 1942 team; Joe Signaigo, Johnny Frampton, Charles Renaud, and Bob Snyder, now 17, all of whom will be sophomores starting Tuesday; Bob Wilson, who has played two years at Illinois, and John Perko, a Minnesota substitute last year.

Wenskunas Heads Centers.

QUARTER BACKS—Angelo Bertelli who will move on from Notre Dame after playing the first five games, and George Terlip, sophomore from Elkhart, Ind.

MISSOURIANS TO PURDUE

Columbia, Mo., July 4 [Special].—Twelve members of the Big Six championship Missouri football squad have been ordered to report to Purdue university for training in the marine reserve school. The list includes:

Leo Mills of St. Louis, 220 pound tackle and twice a letterman; Keith Parker of Gillespie, Ill., full back and javelin thrower; Bernard Peppers of St. Louis, 215 pound tackle; Joe Morrow of Carthage, Mo., center; Jim Darr of Quincy, Ill., half back; Tom Hughes of St. Louis, 220 pound tackle; regular tackle; Joe Morrow of Carthage, Mo., center; Jim Darr of Quincy, Ill., half back; Tom Hughes of St. Louis, 220 pound tackle; Nelson Klaus of De Soto, Mo., tackle; Stan Schultz of St. Louis, tackle; Ed Gerker of St. Louis, quarter back; John Moore of St. Louis, end; Mike Popovich of Benld, Ill., full back, and Ted Smiley of Clinton, Mo., tackle.

GROVE PITCHES THREE-HITTER; LEE YIELDS SIX

South Siders Jump Into Tie for 3d.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The White Sox slipped into a third place tie in the American league's merry-go-round race yesterday and at the same time stationed themselves only two and one-half games behind the pace-setting Yankees. This advance of the Sox resulted from two lethal punches delivered to Connie Mack's Athletics, one by a 5 to 2 count and the other by 5 to 1 before a turnout of 18,020 in Comiskey park.

The Sox applied different techniques to approach the heels of the league leaders. In the first game they went in for extra base wallops, one of them being Jimmy Grant's fourth homer. This boisterous method made Thornton Lee's share of the afternoon's chores quite simple. In the second struggle the Sox made only four hits in behalf of Orval Grove, but two of these were in the seventh when they cut loose with so much of their wild west base running that four runs blossomed. It was the sixth victory for the unbeaten Grove.

Hello, Good-by for Kuczynski.

The Sox weren't very considerate in the first game of Bert Kuczynski, the ex-Penn football player and imminent marine. It was his first major league start, an assignment graciously granted by Manager Mack and the Sox went to extremes to be sure he would enjoy an early start for Parris Island, S. C. They dusted Bert off with seven hits and four runs in four innings, the other run being an assessment against Herman Besse.

Grove's job in the second game was such a masterpiece that he yielded only three hits. He had a one run edge until the sixth because his pals had done a little damage to Russ Christopher at the outset, but he was melted into a tie in the sixth as the result of two enemy hits.

Sox Blast Newcomer.

The first of the various items which contributed to Kuczynski's failure in the first game was Moses' leadoff double. Wally went home on Tucker's triple to right center. Tucker was cut down at the plate on Curtright's tap, but on a hit and run maneuver Appling singled to center and Curtright dashed all the way from first base to the plate.

In the second inning Castino walked, went to second on a wild pitch, and scored on a single by Lee. In the third Grant contributed his homer, the ball plunking into the right field pavilion. The fifth Sox run was levied against Besse as soon as he took over the relief job in the fifth. Curtright walked and Appling singled, Grant's sacrifice and Kolloway's fly doing the rest.

Lee's only difficult inning, the seventh, opened with a double by Estalella, a single by Siebert, and a double by Hall. The three hits accounted for one run. Siebert then scored on an infield out.

Appling Drives Tucker Home.

The Sox didn't need much hitting to get away to a one run lead in the first inning of the second debate. With one out Tucker walked and stole while Curtright was becoming enmeshed in a set of strikes. Appling blasted a single into right and Tucker dashed home. This edge stood up until Welaj singled past Appling with one out in the sixth, stole second after two were out, and skipped home on Wagner's double to left center.

The seventh started off mildly. With two out the Sox had no more to show than Kolloway's pass. While dodging a pitch, Turner eased a hit between first and second, Kolloway going to third. While Christopher was holding the ball, Turner stole second. A base filling walk to Grove came next and on the first pitch Moses singled to score Kolloway and Turner, Grove taking third and going in from there on a wild pitch. After Tucker had walked, Wagner heaved wild to third trying to break up an intended double steal, and Moses scored.

CARDS DEFEAT DODGERS TWICE, 2 TO 0 AND 7 TO 2

3 St. Louis Homers Hit in Second Game.

Brooklyn, N. Y., July 4 (AP).—The world champions, St. Louis Cardinals, took their longest lead of the year today as they downed Brooklyn twice to stretch their margin over the slipping Dodgers to four games before a capacity crowd of 32,387.

After battling thru nine scoreless innings in the first game, the Cards pushed across two runs in the tenth for a 2-0 victory behind the three-hit pitching of Howie Pollet. Then, in the second game, they touched Freddie Fitzsimmons for 10 hits, three of them homers, as they turned in a 7 to 2 triumph on Max Lanier's six-hit performance.

ROSS AWARDED SILVER STAR FOR HEROIC STAND

New York, July 4 (AP).—For his heroic action at Guadalcanal last Nov. 19, Marine Sgt. Barney Ross, former boxing champion, received the silver star medal today during an Independence day radio program honoring American fighting men.

The medal was pinned over Ross' heart by Capt. Lester L. Pratt, U. S. N., commanding officer of the naval hospital at St. Albans, N. Y., where Ross is attached while on sick leave.

South Side Loses Sixth Game in Row.

The North Side continued its complete mastery of the South Side in the police department baseball series when it won both ends of a double header, 7 to 6 and 13 to 4, yesterday in Wrigley field.

Twelve thousand saw the North Siders run their string of victories to six in a row, capture their second successive title without losing a game and thus make Captain George Homer's debut as manager a successful one.

South Opens Strong

It looked like the South was going to sponsor a comeback in the opener yesterday when it jumped off to a 3 to 0 lead with four hits in the fourth but the champions bunched a pass and five hits, one a three-run pinch double by Joseph Nichols of the Accident Prevention bureau, for five runs in the sixth and never again were headed.

In the second game John Klicka of the 38th District, had the situation in hand all the way. His mates rapped 12 hits off Pitchers Bennie Piskac and Tony Sims and took advantage of eight passes and seven South Side errors to win easily.

YANKEE WINS SECOND EVENT FOR R SLOOPS

Jack Vilas Jr. Guides Yacht to Victory.

Yankee, sailed by Jack Vilas Jr., guest skipper from the Lake Geneva [Wis.] Yacht club, won the second race of the Chicago Yacht club's annual Subscription trophy series for R class sloops yesterday, off Belmont harbor. The 39 foot racer covered the 12 mile course in 2 hours and 10 seconds. Vilas' crew consisted of Ed Schnabel Sr., the Yankee's owner, Robert Trettin, Fred Barker, and Midshipman Wesley Schmidt, on leave from Annapolis Naval academy.

Yankee and Alert IV., which finished second yesterday, are now tied with 11¾ points each for the Subscription trophy. Gould Davis, Tabasco was third. The final race will be held at 10:30 o'clock this morning off Belmont harbor.

Time Michigan Yachts.

Bert Williams and his crew, Richard Napier, sailed the 22 foot sloop Bubbling Over to first place in the second race of the Sterling Morton trophy for Star boats yesterday on the same course. Step-N-Fetchit, owned by Buzz Van Arsdale of the Sheridan Shore Yacht club, was runner-up, followed by Emerson Raymond in Dolphin. Williams, a Chicago Yacht club entrant, led the fleet with 21¼ points at the end of the second race, followed by Raymond, from Sheridan Shore, with 20¼ points. The final event will be sailed today on the Chicago Yacht club course.

Ed Schnabel and Ted Lumbard, both members of the Chicago Yacht club race committee, are scheduled to go on watch at the Belmont harbor breakwater at 6 o'clock this morning to time the first of the fleet of yachts racing here from Black Lake, Mich.

EMERSON WINS TROPHY

Vice Commodore John Emerson of the South Shore Canoe club yesterday captured the George Owen Clinch trophy for sailing canoes in Chicago harbor. Emerson had a final score of 13 points, after taking two of the three races.

PARICHYS TAKE SECOND PLACE; BEAT ROCK-OLAS

The Parichy Girls last night took undisputed possession of second place when they defeated the Rock-Ola Music Maids 7 to 5 at Parichy stadium. The Rheingolds beat the Benda Coal Co-eds in a pitching duel 2 to 1 at Rheingold stadium and the league leading Gold Crowns took over the Tungsten Sparks, 7 to 1, at Shewbridge stadium.

There will be three games tonight in the Metropolitan Girls league: The Rheingolds will play the Rock-Ola Music Maids at Rock-Ola stadium; the Benda Coal Co-eds face the Gold Crowns at Shewbridge field; and the Tungsten Sparks meet the Parichy Girls at Parichy stadium.

DOWN AND OUT

Cubs Lose to Phils, 2-1, but Take 2d, 5-2

and let the tying run die on third. With one down McCullough singled and Merullo was safe on Dahlgren's fumble. Dom Dallessandro batted for Bithorn and grounded out to Murtaugh. Hack beat out a bouncer to Dahlgren, McCullough scoring and Merullo reaching third. Lou Novikoff batted for Stanky and grounded to Wasdell on the first pitch.

Cubs Greet Barrett.

There was quite a buzz in the stands when Barrett took the mound at the start of the second game, but the developments immediately following Kewpie's surprise appearance were not exactly as the garrulous former Cub would have had them. Hack opened the game with a double and Stanky walked. Catcher Bob Findley, fresh up from Knoxville, tried to catch Stanky dozing off first, but threw the ball away from Wasdell, the runners advancing. Cavarretta grounded out to Murtaugh, Hack scoring, and Nicholson rolled out to Wasdell, Stanky scoring.

Adams Hits Homer.

There was much cheering when Buster Adams opened the home fourth with a drive into the upper deck of the left field stands, but Lee quieted the disturbance by disposing of Wasdell, Dahlgren and Triplett.

Rowe batted for Barrett at the start of the eighth and banged Lee's second pitch for a 420 foot home run.

The Cubs, a bit shocked by the close shave in the Phillies' eighth, added two runs off Lloyd Dietz after two were out in the ninth. After Cavarretta and Nicholson were out, Goodman singled, stole second and scored on Lowrey's single. Then Lowrey scored on McCullough's triple.

SLIP MADIGAN AT IOWA READY FOR FOOTBALL DUTIES

Iowa City, Ia., July 4 (AP).—Slip Madigan today came back to the University of Iowa campus where he will coach the 1943 Hawkeye grid team.

In addition to returning to the football business, which he forsook three years ago after 19 successful seasons at California's small St. Mary's college, Madigan returned to the section of the country where he was born and reared. Ottawa, Ill., is his birthplace.

Smith, Dietrich to Face Boston Today for Sox

Eddie Smith, the round southpaw who was saved from a possible defeat Saturday night by the weather man, will take a hand today in one half of the double header with the Red Sox. Bill Dietrich will be the other Sox starter. The Red Sox probably will employ Tex Hughson and Oscar Judd.

Wins by Knockout

New Orleans, La., July 4 (AP).—Rangy Bob Montgomery scored a sixth round knockout over Al Reasoner of Chicago today before 5,500.

Market Wise, Shut Out Top Suffolk Field

Boston, Mass., July 4 (AP).—Equally weighted at 126 pounds, the Greentree stable's Shut Out and Lou Tufano's Market Wise share the early public sentiment as possible winners of tomorrow's ninth running of the $50,000 added Massachusetts handicap—richest stake of the New England turf season.

The top weighted pair head a field of 10 entries in the stake which was won last year by Whirlaway, the victory enabling him to set a new all-time record for money winning.

Attention Is a Contender.

Close behind the favored pair is Attention, recently acquired by William Helis for $55,000. Attention, which will carry 118 pounds, is bracketed with Salto, also from the Helis barn, which gets in lightly at 103.

Don Bingo, winner of the recent Suburban handicap, will carry the colors of Bing Crosby and Lin Howard and, with Joe Renick handling the reins, may prove hard to catch in the stretch. Townsend B. Martin's Bankrupt, will carry 107 pounds.

Carries New England Hopes.

Hope of New Englanders to capture the rich stake is Abbe Pierre, owned by Hazel M. Babylon, of Rhode Island. The gray English bred horse has won two Suffolk stakes while tuning up for tomorrow's test. He will carry 111 pounds.

Other New England campaigners entered are Mrs. Ray Feinberg's Firebroom, in at 108; L. B. Sheppard's Kansas, 101, and A. F. Block's Woodford Lad, 102.

Attendance is expected to surpass 40,000 and more than $1,000,000 probably will go thru the mutuel machines.

Defends Agency's Control of Broadcasting.

Washington, D. C., July 4 (AP).—James L. Fly, chairman of the federal communications commission, whose agency is the target of a house committee inquiry, charged today that Committee Chairman E. E. Cox [D., Ga.], the radio monopoly, Wall street interests, and the military have joined forces to wreck the commission.

Fly, in a sharply worded statement, said Cox had defended the commission "and condemned the radio monopoly on the floor of the house" three years ago but later called for an investigation of the FCC, to which the house acceded.

"Cox immediately joined forces with the radio monopoly and Wall street interests on the one hand and the military on the other, all moving in for the kill," Fly asserted.

Seek to Wreck FCC.

"The aim has obviously been to wreck the commission, the only agency representing the public in this important field, to set up monopolistic control by commercial interests and to establish actual and coercive surveillance of the nation's most significant mechanism of free speech."

The committee opened its investigation Friday and more than 50 charges were leveled against the FCC and Fly by Eugene L. Garey, committee counsel. The charges, made in a written statement put into the record by Garey, ranged from accusations of general incompetency by the commission to actual endangering of the nation's safety.

Cox has announced the first phase of the inquiry would be devoted to operations of the FCC radio intelligence program and its value or lack of value to the military services.

Defends War Work.

Garey, formerly of New York City, included in documents put into the record a recommendation from the joint chiefs of staff that the President halt all military and quasi-military radio intelligence activities of the FCC.

"Already Cox's Wall street mouthpiece," Fly asserted, "has declared the intention of destroying the highly valuable war work of the commission — particularly that part which has made it literally impossible for a single enemy transmitter in this country to communicate with our enemies abroad.

"The time has come for the public to know not merely what the Cox committee has concluded to conclude, but also some of the vicious processes employed which further reveal what the Cox committee is up to."

PUTS RACE RIOT BLAME ON NEW DEAL POLICIES

Negro Leader Advises Firm Protest.

A. Philip Randolph, national director of the March on Washington movement, Negro organization protesting "Jim Crow" treatment of Negroes, yesterday laid the blame for race riots "at the door of the present national administration." He addressed about 5,000 persons in a mass meeting at Du Sable High school, 49th and State streets, closing the five day convention of the movement.

"Riots are the result of the government policy of segregation of and discrimination against Negroes," said Randolph, who is also international president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters.

Race Riots Will Continue.

"Race riots will continue long after Hitler is dead and forgotten, if our government does not stop the 'Jim Crow' treatment of Negro citizens and begin to integrate the Negroes into the government and war and peace time industry on a basis of equality."

He said that Negro committees should call on city and state governments to protest racial strife. The Negro, he said, is the only person subject to "Jim Crowism," and Negroes "must take the initiative to abolish it."

"This is not a war for freedom," he said. "It is a war to maintain the old imperialism. It is a war to continue white supremacy and the subjugation, domination, and exploitation of the peoples of color."

Randolph said that the March on Washington movement, altho it is an all-Negro movement, is not anti-white, anti-labor, anti-Catholic or anti-Semitic. "It is simply pro-Negro," he said.

"Welcome" FBI and Dies.

Dr. Charles W. Burton, regional director of the movement here, who as chairman of the meeting introduced Randolph, said that "we welcome the FBI to our midst and also Martin Dies, because we speak only the truth. We are entitled to our rights and we want them."

E. Stanley Jones, an evangelistic minister to India and only white speaker on the program, outlined a seven point program for solution of the Negro's racial problems thru "non-violence."

Former Gov. Clifford Townsend of Indiana told a meeting of 2,000 Negroes at Pilgrim Baptist church, 33d street and Indiana avenue, that the Negro farmer "is doing a great job in food production."

He said that Negroes were furnishing a great amount of labor for food production and commended the Negro race on its loyalty. He said that Negroes thruout the south have increased their production of long-staple cotton and of foods necessary to the war.

Friend of the Yanks

[The Friend of the Yanks department will answer questions about the draft and military service, both in the daily columns and by mail, if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are sent with the queries.]

B. K. T. writes: "I am a college graduate and would like to get into service and receive training in radar, but I understand one has to have a degree in electrical or radio engineering. Do you know of any way of realizing my hope?"

ANSWER: The bureau of naval personnel has inaugurated a special radar program for college men who hold a bachelor of science degree, but who may not have received this degree in electrical or radio engineering. Men who are commissioned to be trained in this radar program must, however, have had at least one year of college physics plus college mathematics thru differential and integral calculus. Their grades must have been better than average thruout their college work. Selected candidates are given preliminary pre-radar courses before entering the regular radar officer advanced courses.

It is further required that candidates be under 35, be able to pass the regular physical examination for the naval reserve officers, and have a minimum unaided vision of 15/20 [20/25], binocular vision [using both eyes], with the poorest eye 12/20. Apply, Office of Naval Officer Procurement, Board of Trade, Chicago.

W. O. B. asks: "Are the 'free' tickets to theaters, ball games, etc., restricted just for the use of enlisted men?" I am a 'shave tail'."

ANSWER: Yes, altho we know the pockets of most "shave tails" [second lieutenants] are just as empty as those of most of the privates and noncommissioned officers.

The Inquiring Camera Girl

BY FREIDA ZYLSTRA.

[The Tribune will pay $5 for each interesting question submitted by a reader and used by The Tribune. Today's question was submitted by Mary Ann Allen, 6418 North Artesian avenue.]

THE QUESTION.

What new facts have you learned about geography since the beginning of the war?

WHERE ASKED.

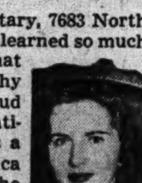
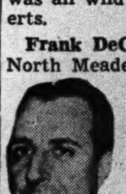
THE ANSWERS.

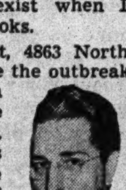
Gloria Peterson, artist, 1300 North Dearborn street—When people spoke of a cruise on the Mediterranean it didn't mean a thing to me except that it was a large body of water somewhere in Europe. Now I'd be able to call off the stops if I had to. The countries that border it now are as familiar as the states that border Lake Michigan.



Ann Nichols, secretary, 7683 North Rogers avenue—I've learned so much about the subject that my old geography teacher would be proud of me. That a continent like Africa has a place like Casablanca was, to me, one of the biggest revelations of the war. I thought it was all wild jungles or barren deserts.



Frank DeCicco, art director, 3607 North Meade avenue—The war has made us more conscious of the importance of air transportation and has done a great thing to distances. Only 60 hours from any point on the earth is a fact that didn't exist when I was reading text books.



John Howard, artist, 4863 North Rockwell street—Since the outbreak of the war I've been studying the globe more than ever before. One fact that was amazing to me was the relatively small size of Japan. I hadn't paid much attention before. Another was the first time I noticed the number of breaks in the international date line.

Adele Koeninger, artist, 2421 Morse avenue—Right after I finished my last geography lesson I could name the possessions of all the countries but I soon forgot them. This war has been a great refresher course. Each time a new possession was involved it took on a more vital interest.

Reuben Sorosky, artist, 5040 Marine drive—There are a few groups of islands in the Pacific that were vaguely familiar to me, but places like Guadalcanal . . . I didn't know existed. I have a vivid picture of their relative positions now and wouldn't be afraid to do a little mapping.

URGE ALL RACES ALTER ATTITUDE TO HALT STRIFE

Strife between racial groups in America is the symptom of a crisis that must be met with a changed behavior, Howard W. Odum of the University of North Carolina, warned yesterday on the University of Chicago Round Table.

Carey McWilliams, ex-commissioner of immigration in California, said recent Los Angeles, Cal., riots blamed on zoot suiters were really organized attacks between sailors and soldiers and Mexicans and Negroes. McWilliams urged an end of barriers of race, creation of a federal agency to conciliate points of irritation in racial conflict, outlawing of all poll tax laws and organization of community committees to consider race problems.

Four Freedoms Discussion.

Franklin Frazier, professor of sociology at Howard university, said the emphasis placed on the four freedoms in world-wide discussion has made Negroes more conscious of racial discrimination. He cited a recent mass gathering in Harlem at which freedom for India was demanded. Prof. Frazier supported the appointment of local committees of white and Negro members as a corrective measure. He criticized many such committees of the past because they were made up of professional men and women only.

Robert Redfield, dean of social science groups at the University of Chicago, insisted that the advances of colored races had brought about a greater danger of reactions. He said the Nazi doctrines of master races are fraudulent. If one part of the nation has democracy the others must have it or else there is no democracy, he said.

South, Negro Face Crisis.

In his foreword Odum, a southerner, said: "The south and the Negro are facing their greatest crisis. I urge them both to declare a moratorium on creating strife. This is no time for blaming anybody.

"All groups have been guilty of foolish behavior. It is time for the south to accept the efforts of the Negro leadership."

MSGR. O'BRIEN OF ST. ANGELA'S CHURCH IS DEAD

The Very Rev. Msgr. Francis M. O'Brien, 70 years old, pastor of St. Angela's Roman Catholic church at Potomac and Massasoit avenues and a priest of the Chicago archdiocese since 1898, died last night in his rectory at 5760 Potomac avenue. He had been ill four years.

Msgr. O'Brien was appointed an assistant priest at Holy Name cathedral after his ordination at Baltimore, Md., June 14, 1898. A native of Scio, N. Y., Msgr. O'Brien was educated at St. Bonaventure's college and studied for the priesthood at St. Mary's seminary in Baltimore.

In 1916 Msgr. O'Brien founded the parish of St. Thomas of Canterbury, built its church at Kenmore and Lawrence avenues and was its pastor for several years. Before he was assigned to St. Angela's church he also served for a time as pastor of Corpus Christi church.

OBITUARIES

TRUCK SPEEDUP AWAITS ACTION OF GOV. GREEN

Heavier Loads Held Needed in War.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., July 4.—Heavier truck loads will travel faster to speed prosecution of the war under bills passed by the Illinois legislature and now awaiting the signature of Gov. Green.

The plea that transportation is "the most vital industry," because all industries—as well as agriculture—are dependent upon it, was instrumental in getting an agreement out of various interests which battled into the closing hours of the general assembly Thursday morning.

The battle against relaxing weight and length limits has been going on for many years. Agriculture has defended the old limitations on grounds that it had the chief stake in the Illinois hard road system and didn't want the pavements pounded to pieces.

Farmers Drop Opposition.

This year the Illinois Agricultural association withdrew its opposition because of war needs, the temporary nature of most relaxations, and the disclosure that 9,000 permits were issued last year to violate the present law.

Railroads apparently did not put up as strong a fight as usual against the changes, or at any rate were less successful.

The final draft of the truck bills emerged from a conference committee of members of the house and senate. Settlement was aided by the fact that unless a compromise was reached in a hurry, the bills would be dead.

Provisions will expire automatically July 1, 1945, with these exceptions:

1. Buses may carry 18,000 instead of 16,000 pounds load on each axle if equipped with hydraulic shock absorbers, compressed air brakes, and balloon tires of not over 10 pounds pressure per inch of cross section. Operation will be confined to adequate roads.

2. Tractors and semi-trailers together are now defined as a combination rather than a single vehicle, meaning they can be 40 feet long instead of 35 feet.

Longer Trucks Permitted.

Until July 1, 1945, a single truck can be 40 feet long instead of 35 feet, and a combination may be 43 feet long instead of 40. Another two year provision will raise the present truck limit of 16,000 pounds load on each axle to 18,000 pounds if the vehicle has balloon tires of not over 10 pounds pressure per inch of cross section.

However, total weight of a two axle truck will be held to 30,000 pounds compared with 24,000 now. Vehicles of three or more axles will be limited to 45,000 pounds total weight instead of 40,000.

Tractor semi-trailers will be allowed up to 56,000 pounds total weight depending upon length. The maximum limit of 72,000 pounds for tractor trailers or trucks hauling trailers was not increased.

In addition, perishable agricultural products may be transported in vehicles that are longer than these limits but no heavier. It is said this will permit hurried shipments of corn to canneries in wagons hauled by trucks, for example.

Speed Limits Simplified.

Present speed limits range from 25 to 45 miles an hour and it was said that policemen couldn't tell in which category vehicles came. This system was simplified as well as liberalized. Under the new bills 45 mile speeds will be permitted to trucks of up to 8,000 pounds [such as grocery trucks] which carry "B" licenses, and 40 miles will be legal for all larger vehicles.

Permits will be granted for oversize and overweight loads only for war material bearing the federal seal, except for the long length permits for perishable farm products.

In connection with the 9,000 permits issued last year it was testified before a senate committee recently that "many" of the outsize and overweight carriers had no state automobile licenses. It is provided in the new bills that such "permit vehicles" must pay maximum license fee for their class plus $100 for permits. License fees are being scaled upward.

'ASSORTED' EGGS LOSE EXEMPTION FROM PRICE PEG

Washington, D. C., July 4 (AP).—The OPA has removed the classification of "assorted" eggs from its regulation covering sales of eggs and products except at retail.

The classification covered ungraded eggs which had been exempted from price control when sold to retailers for candling and grading before resale.

OPA said it found that charges for wholesale grades of eggs sold as "assorted" had tended to advance beyond the maximum prices for corresponding retail grades. Wholesale egg dealers in New York have threatened to "strike," unless OPA took some action.

Steel Control Program Is In Full Operation

Cleveland, O., July 4 (AP).—The transition of steel distribution control from the production requirements plan to the controled materials plan is complete, "and while some difficulties are being met in application of the new method, most steel users have followed instructions and are well covered," the magazine Steel reported today.

"Observers believe that once the trade becomes thoroly familiar with CMP procedure less confusion will result," the publication said. "Some buyers failed to recognize that they no longer are being supplied on a month to month basis and have come into the market to find mills fully booked for the period in which they had expected to get on rolling schedules.

Capacity Well Booked.

"That most users have placed orders promptly and much further ahead than permitted under the former system is reflected by the fact that third quarter capacity generally is booked full. Some producers are sold thru October and also have some orders extending into next year."

"Because of coal labor difficulties, steel ingot production fell 6½ points last week to 92 per cent of estimated national capacity, the lowest rate since the first week of July, 1941," the magazine said. "The largest factor in this drop was the Pittsburgh district, which declined 21½ points to 76½ per cent of capacity, entirely attributed to lack of coal for coke.

Other Declines Small.

"Other declines were small: Cleveland 4 points to 90 per cent; Youngstown 3 points to 94; Cincinnati 3 points to 92; New England 2 points to 93; Birmingham 5 points to 95, and Wheeling ½ point to 86.

"Chicago advanced ½ point to 98½ per cent and Buffalo 2½ points to 93. St. Louis was unchanged at 95 per cent, eastern Pennsylvania 93, and Detroit 92 per cent."

MINORS' INCOME.

Do minors have to file separate income tax returns when they have substantial earnings? If they file separately, can their parents still claim the credit for a dependent even tho the child already has claimed a $500 personal exemption?—B. N.

Answer: A minor child's earnings must be included in the parent's income tax return unless the child has been "emancipated" from parental authority, or unless the parent has voluntarily surrendered or relinquished his legal right to the child's earnings, and can prove that he has done so.

Unearned income of a minor child is in a different category. This type of income, including dividends, interest, and income from trust funds, should not be included in the parent's return.

A minor's liability for the filing of an income tax return and the payment of taxes is the same as that of other persons. A return must be filed if the minor has separate unearned income, or earned income belonging to him rather than to his parent, and if the gross amount is $500 or more for an unmarried minor.

If the minor child is under 18, the parent may claim the dependency credit if he actually provides the chief support of the child, notwithstanding the fact that the child may have earnings of his own. After age 18 no dependency credit may be claimed, altho the parent may still have the right to the child's earnings and therefore must include them in his tax return.

The laws of the state of residence determine when a child is legally emancipated from parental control. In some states a minor becomes of legal age at 21, in others men reach their majority at 21 and women at 18. Actual emancipation, for income tax purposes, may precede the legal emancipation.

SUBSIDY ON POTATO IMPORTS FROM U. S. ENDED BY CANADA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Ottawa, Ont., July 4.—Imported potatoes no longer will be eligible for subsidy, the war time prices and trade board announced today. Subsidies will be paid henceforth only on contracts which had been confirmed by importers prior to 6 p. m., July 3, or on such future contracts as may be specially approved by the board.

For the last few weeks the board has been paying subsidies equivalent to the difference between the ceiling price in Canada and that prevailing in the United States. Domestic new potatoes from Ontario, Quebec, and British Columbia points are now coming on the market.

Grain Prices Swing to New Highs in Week

Developments in Washington provided the incentive for a large advance in grain prices on the Chicago Board of Trade last week. The upturn carried oats to a new 23 year peak; rye and barley to a new high since 1937, and wheat to the highest since last March. Brokers expressed the belief corn would have sold at $1.25 or more a bushel had there been no ceiling.

Announcement that the government loan on wheat had been advanced 1 cent to a national farm average of $1.23 a bushel; cessation of sales of government owned wheat to distillers at less than parity prices; passage of the Commodity Credit corporation bill by congress banning subsidy payments which was subsequently vetoed by the President, and development of an acute shortage in feed grains provided the incentive for the buying movement.

Expect Heavy Purchases.

Elimination of sales of government owned wheat to distillers is expected to result in their purchase of an estimated 100 million bushels of grain, presumably wheat or rye, in the open market, as little corn is believed available.

The possibility distillers may buy large quantities of rye caused its price rise. Oats and barley prices gained on large demand.

Increased government control over the marketing and distribution of cash corn sold by farmers between July 1 and Aug. 10 inclusive was announced by the war food administration. Farmers who sell corn during that period will receive the difference in price between the current ceiling and any advance before Oct. 31.

Industries Make Inroads.

Industrial use of cash corn again was heavy, and it was estimated the CCC obtained about 6 million bushels of corn when it requisitioned the stock of corn held in middle western terminal and subterminal markets recently. This is equal to about two weeks grind by industries when operating at full capacity, leaving nothing for feed manufacturers or feeders in the deficit areas.

Another factor in the wheat market was an announcement that farmers who complied with AAA regulations could sell their new grain to the government at the loan price, instead of pledging it for loans.

NATION'S BUSINESS

Stocks Reach Peak Despite U. S. Note Sale

New York, July 4 (AP).—Share prices last week pushed up to new high levels since 1939 even while the financial resources of the country absorbed a 2½ billion dollar treasury note issue with an 800 per cent over subscription, a record response for a government issue of this size and type.

Meantime, despite its preoccupation with war time financing, Wall street squared itself away for numerous new offerings of the securities of private organizations.

Buy High Grade Stocks.

Buyers in the stock market showed a marked preference, especially late in the week, for high grade, high priced issues, especially utility preferreds, which appeared to confirm the existence of much idle investment money, already highlighted by the over-application for the treasury loan.

The Associated Press average of 60 representative common stocks was up 60 cents at $52.30 on the week, after having reached $52.40 on Thursday, peak since Nov. 4, 1939. The week's turnover, at 5,276,539 shares, was not much above the 4,672,050 shares in the preceding week.

Altho absorption of the big government note issue went off so smoothly that it failed to affect the general investment market, it required some credit manipulation by banks and the federal reserve authorities.

Reserve Active in Market.

For the country as a whole the federal reserve open market committee repurchased 520 million dollars of short term government bills from the commercial banks to ease their position.

The week immediately ahead appeared to offer small business in comparison with the huge treasury offering—a 3 million dollar city of Tacoma, Wash., power bond offering was the largest thing in sight, accompanied by several relatively small stock offerings—but new business loomed.

Utility Loans Expected.

The proposed 44 million refunding of bonds of Utah Power and Light company, a subsidiary of Electric Bond and Share company, reached the registration stage and a 37 million portion of the deal was listed with the securities and exchange commission.

Other utility financing "on tap" and apparently on the way to the offering stage includes a 45 million refinancing plan by the Northern Indiana Public Service company and 20 million of refunding planned by the South Carolina Electric and Gas company.

'OVERTIME' PAY LURES STRIKING MINERS TO PITS

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 4 (AP).—Both management and union leaders looked optimistically today to the restoration of near-capacity production in the coal fields by Tuesday while a wave of work-on-Monday sentiment over the week-end indicated most of the nation's 521,000 miners would work the first holiday shift in the history of the United Mine Workers.

About 100,000 diggers have been on strike in Pennsylvania, Alabama, Virginia, and Tennessee in the third series of work stoppages. Other miners have returned, obeying the union policy committee's order of June 22.

The back-to-work drive, with UMW leaders stressing the overtime pay angle, became virtually a stampede in Pennsylvania's anthracite fields, where thousands of workers voted yesterday in hurriedly called meetings to return to their jobs Monday.

OPA ELIMINATES FILING OF COST OF LIVING DATA

Springfield, Ill., July 4 (AP).—Effective Tuesday, sellers of cost-of-living commodities will be relieved of responsibility of keeping up-to-date statements of ceiling prices filed with war price and rationing boards, Carter Jenkins, downstate regional OPA administrator, announced today.

Monthly statements have been eliminated, Jenkins said, because maximum price regulations specifically applicable to cost-of-living commodities are rapidly taking the place of the general maximum price regulation. Those which remain in the latter regulation do not justify continuing monthly reporting, he said.

Coal Output This Year Cut Sharply by Strikes

Washington, D. C., July 4 (AP).—Coal production in the first half of this year fell 1,729,000 tons below the same period in 1942, Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes reported, attributing the decrease to strikes. He estimated that the nation will need 25 million tons more coal this year than last.

THIRD QUARTER GAIN FORECAST IN RAIL FREIGHT

United States railroad freight movement of 28 principal commodities in the third quarter this year will be 144,677 carloads larger than in the corresponding 1942 period, estimates of the 13 regional shippers advisory boards indicated yesterday. That would represent an increase of 1½ per cent over actual loadings in the 1942 third quarter.

Combined estimates of the 13 boards indicated that users of freight cars expected to ship 9,959,651 carloads of commodities in the next three months. Loadings in the corresponding period last year were 9,814,974 cars.

Trends by Regions Vary.

Wide variations in trends were shown in the various regional forecasts. The trans-Missouri-Kansas board predicted a drop of 4.9 per cent in its territory. The midwest board forecast an 8 per cent gain.

Twelve commodities will be moved in larger volume than a year ago, and 16 in smaller volume, according to the estimates.

The increases predicted follow by percentages: Potatoes, 13.5 per cent; manufactures and miscellaneous, 12.6; fertilizers of all kinds, 11.6; hay, straw, and alfalfa, 11.6; grain, 8.8; ore, 6.5; coal and coke, 6.4; machinery and boilers, 5.6; live stock, 5.5; flour, meal, and other mill products, 4.2; petroleum and petroleum products, 2.7, and salt, 2.5 per cent.

Fruit Volume to Shrink.

A drop of 28.9 per cent in loadings of fresh fruits other than citrus fruits was forecast. The decline in citrus fruit loadings was expected to be 13.8 per cent.

A summary of estimates follows:

SCHENLEY PLANT TESTS ALCOHOL MAKING PROCESS

New York, July 4 [Special].—The WPB has selected the Schenley Distillers corporation plant at Stamp Ground, Ky., for commercial scale experiments in the production of high-proof alcohol by a newly discovered sodium sulphite process, Carl J. Kiefer, vice president of the company, announced today.

Kiefer said the plant, the Green River Distilling company, had been placed at the government's disposal to determine the feasibility of the new process, which is expected to eliminate the use of barley malt in fermentation and yield concentrated protein as a by-product. The program calls for other plants to undertake the same experimentation.

Federal Job Offices Place Million Workers in May

Washington, D. C., July 4 (AP).—The United States employment service filled 1,005,489 jobs in industry and agriculture in May, an increase of 11.2 per cent over April and 28.6 per cent over May, 1942, the war man power commission reported.

Here's the best opportunity you've had to join the SOUTHERN PACIFIC FAMILY to obtain a good job and continue your railroad career in healthy California with its mild winters and matchless climate or at other Pacific Coast points.

It doesn't take much thinking to answer the question: "WHAT WILL BE THE EFFECT ON RAILROADS WHEN THE WAR ENDS IN EUROPE?"—Then the "show" will be on the Pacific Coast. TRAFFIC WILL MOVE WESTWARD IN A MIGHTY GROWING VOLUME.

You should act now to take your place on the Southern Pacific and "Keep the Victory Trains Rolling" and when peace comes, to be in a position to "KEEP THE PROSPERITY TRAINS ROLLING" in the growing Empire of the West. ALL IT TAKES IS THE COURAGE OF YOUR CONVICTIONS THAT YOU CAN MAKE A GOOD LIVING FOR YOURSELF AND FAMILY ON THE ATTRACTIVE PACIFIC COAST

There are good jobs and good prospects for your future awaiting experienced railroaders.

If you are not engaged in essential war work, or not now working to full capacity, come in and talk it over.

Free transportation for you from Chicago to the job will be issued in accordance with Federal Laws governing.

WE ALSO NEED

How the cities and towns of Illinois have lost their sons in 18 months of war. The numbers, each representing a separate community, include men killed in action, those for whom battle wounds proved fatal, and those who died after being interned in prison camps. Not all small towns are named, but their proximity to other communities is indicated. The Cook county dead are located town by town in a map on page 9.
